SCENE OF HOMEWOOD MURDER

Her nerves shattered, Mrs. Catherine Ward, 25, killed her two small children, Billy, Jr., 3, and Dorothy May, 8 months, in her second floor apartment, 7304 Hamilton avenue, this morning, and then attempted to end her life by slashing her wrists with a razor blade and swallowing poison. The infant was found in its crib, strangled by a towel. Billy, nearly strangled and an ice pick wound in his heart, was found in the bathtub, which was filled with water. A pulmotor failed to revive him. William Ward, Sr., husband of the woman, was at work when the tragedy occurred.

EAST END MOTHER KILLS TWO BABIES

TRIES TO END OWN LIFE

"Both are dead!" screamed Mrs. Catherine Ward, aged 25, of 7314 Hamilton avenue, shortly before noon today, giving the first news that she had slain her two children, Billy, Jr., 3, and Dorothy May, 8 months, by strangling them.

With blood streaming from her wrists, which had been gashed with a razor blade, the mother, who also had swallowed bicloride of mercury tablets, rushed to the apartment of a neighbor, Mrs. E. T. Clifford, and begged the latter to call for aid.

SCREAMS FOR HELP

"Both are dead—get somebody. Mrs. Clifford," was the cry of the distracted woman who had snuffed out the lives of her babies and tried to end her own.

The body of Billy was found in a partly-filled bathtub, a cloth tied tightly around his neck. In her crib in the mother's bedroom, the lifeless form of Dorothy May was found with a towel wound so tightly about her throat that the flesh was lacerated.

An autopsy on the bodies of the children was ordered by Coroner William J. McGregor. An examination of Billy's body at the morgue revealed no stab wound in the heart, which at first had been reported. No marks around the necks of the children were disclosed.

Dr. E. Kisel at Pittsburgh Hospital, to which the woman was rushed, said Mrs. Ward's wrist injuries were slight. He didn't know what effect the poison would have, but he regarded her condition as serious. A police guard will be placed over the woman, who has been booked technically as a suspicious person.

She has been in a highly nervous condition for eight months, neighbors reported.

PRIEST, 7, RESCUED IN FIRE

The Rev. Nicholas Szabo, his wife and six children were rescued from the parish house, 233 Ninth avenue, Homestead, at 6 o'clock this morning, while fire raged in St. Elias Magyar Greek Catholic Church, adjoining. After a three-hour battle, Homestead firemen extinguished the fire. The estimated loss was $75,000.

The crashing of a memorial window in the church against a window in the parsonage, allowed smoke to pour into the priest's residence and cut off escape of the family. Patrolman Stephen T. Barron raised a ladder to the second floor, and rescued the pastor, his wife and their children, Dennis, George, Nicholas, Yolanda, Edith and Andra, ranging in age from 1 to 12.

Stabbed in Back—Lewis

By MAX HENRICI,
Staff Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, March 8.—John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers international organization, today pilloried the Pittsburgh Coal Company before the Senate committee investigating the miners' strike, as the Brutus that stabbed its workers in the back by breaking a contract with them, and then paraded its dishonor before the American people. In a dramatic peroration, Lewis declared the company had justified the billingsgate of every soapbox orator that inveighs against soulless corporations.

Lewis continued to develop his charges of conspiracy against the railroads, which the United Mine Workers accuse of having depressed coal prices with subsequent reduction in miners' wages. He painted a dismal picture of conditions in Southern West Virginia, where the union has been crushed and men are working for from $2 to a maximum of $4.50 a day, and able to obtain only two or three days work a week at those wages.

Lesher on Stand

C. E. Lesher, executive vice president of the Pittsburgh Coal Company, followed Lewis. He was placed on the stand by the United Mine Workers, who hope to prove certain of their contentions by the testimony of the hostile witness. The early testimony dealt with the history of the Pittsburgh Coal Company, which once operated more than a hundred mines, with yearly production as great as 23,000,000 tons and yearly net earnings as great as $15,000,000, but which has lost many of its markets, is now operating only about 18 mines, with production cut to a mere fraction of what it once was, and earnings of less than a million dollars in a recent year.

Lewis, the first witness called, read the full text of the Jackson-

Significant?

WASHINGTON, March 8.—(AP.)—West Virginia's bituminous coal output for 1927, calculated today by the United States Bureau of Mines at 151,680,000 tons, placed it for the first time ahead of all other states in the country.

Pennsylvania led in total coal production, however. It produced 211,659,000 tons of which 80,652,000 were anthracite.

The Kentucky coal production in 1927 was 72,626,000 tons; Illinois with 45,108,000 tons was fourth; Alabama, fifth with 18,400,000; Indiana sixth with 17,699,000 tons, and Ohio, seventh, with 14,688,000 tons.

Prevalence of labor difficulties in Northern state during 1927 was given as a factor which caused the important rise of the Southern states production.

24 Cars, 24 Wives. A Surprise For All. What Is Man's Destiny? George and Kemal.

—By ARTHUR BRISBANE—

(Copyright, 1928.)

IBN SAUD, King of the Hedjaz, Sultan of Nejd, until now friend and ally of Great Britain, turns against his friend and protector, King George. Britain may face "a holy war" in Arabia, where Ibn Saud, quite modern, rides rapidly over the desert with his 24 wives and their servants in 24 automobiles, following behind him.

LET us be grateful that nobody loaded any Irak mandate on this country. They almost handed us Turkey. Kemal Pasha would have been a handful for our dignified Washington crowd.

HOWEVER, Ibn Saud, and his desert associates, if hostility persists, will have some surprises. At Irak, the British have 45 bombing planes, 12 Bristol fighting planes, and air reinforcements are held ready in Egypt, Jerusalem and India.

Also the British have tested successfully, the biggest all-metal monoplane on earth. Its wings spread 150 feet, it carries 20 people, weighs 30,000 pounds, has wheels 7 feet 6 inches high.

A few such modern birds of prey would make Ibn Saud and his 24 ladies thoughtful.

OLIVER WENDELL HOLMES, able Supreme Court justice, who realizes that the Constitution was made by and for men, not men for the Constitution, is 87 years old today. He continues working, obeying his motto, "Rest is not the destiny of man." A big monument would reward Justice Holmes, if he could tell what the destiny of man really IS, how we got here, whence we came, whither we go from here, what happens after we go.

But about such questions a learned Supreme Court justice knows as little as an Eskimo watching for seals in the ice hole.

THREE Christian ladies are on trial in Turkey for converting little Turkish girls to Christianity.

Turkish law says Mohammedanism is part of Turkish government. Attacks on it are treasonable.

IN some parts of this country if Turks were caught converting little girls to Mohammedanism, they would probably be lynched. The Turks are more moderate.

STINSON, HALDEMAN IN AIR AFTER RECORD

International News Service

DETROIT, March 8.—Eddie Stinson, World War flier, and George Haldeman, trans-Atlantic aviator, hopped off today from the ice of Lake St. Clair in an attempt to establish a new world record for endurance flight.

Stinson and Haldeman took off at 8:27 a. m.

They hope to remain in the air 60 hours, although the present record for sustained flight is 52 hours and 30 minutes and is held in Germany. To set a new record the two aviators must remain in the air at least an hour longer than the present record.

The Stinson monoplane, in which the airmen are seeking new aeronautical laurels, skimmed down the ice runway for 45 seconds and then took to the air in a perfect takeoff. Only a few persons were present.

Before the plane took the air, Ray Cooper, contest officer of the National Aeronautical Association, sealed a barograph in it.

The weather today was regarded very favorable for flying. Stinson and Haldeman planned to alternate at the controls.

LONDON, March 8.—Sensational reports printed by the London Daily Express that Capt. Walter Hinchcliffe, British flying ace, would hop off for Newfoundland today in a Stimson Detroiter monoplane, with the Hon. Elsie Mackay, daughter of Lord Inchcape, as a passenger, were denied this afternoon by Miss Mackay herself.

After appearing at Victoria Station at noon to say good-bye to Princess Mary and Viscount Lascelles, who left on a holiday trip to Egypt, Miss Mackay told newspaper reporters that she had no intention of accompanying Capt. Hinchcliffe on a long-distance flight, either today or later.

"It is true," Miss Mackay said, "that Capt. Hinchcliffe is about to try for a new world's distance record, but he has not yet decided what his destination will be.

"I have a slight financial interest in the project, and want Capt. Hinchliffe to succeed, but I never intended to accompany him."

2 Pickets Held in Murder

Alexander Simon and Louis Brainzette, union mine pickets of Russellton, were arrested today by county detectives in connection with the murder early Tuesday of Mike Yarsavage, 38, beaten to death with fence pickets in the Walter Chapel Cemetery, Rural Ridge.

The two men were taken, with five youths, following an investigation, but explained to Chief County Detective George W. Murren that they had interrogated Yarsavage and had allowed him to walk down the road when he was set upon by five young men, who beat him to death.

Today Detectives Edward Weber and David Caughey arrested them, when it was reported that they had signaled to the young men after releasing Yarsavage.

The rescuer and four of the children, George, 8; Edith, 6; Yulanda, 10, and Dennis Szabo, 11, are in the picture.

53-DAY TRANCE BAFFLES

By JAMES L. KILGALLEN,
International News Service.

PAINESVILLE, O., March 8.—Medical science is puzzled over the remarkable case of Helen L. Buschmann, 19-year-old student of Westfield, Mass., who has been lying unconscious in Lake County Memorial Hospital in Painesville for 53 days.

She lapsed into an unconscious state on January 15 when she was struck by an automobile bus and immediately removed to the hospital. Since that day she has not spoken a word and has not moved, except for occasional nervous gestures over which the mind has no control.

"It is one of the most amazing cases in the history of medical science," Dr. V. N. Marsh, of Painesville, the attending physician, said in an interview with International News Service today. "She is in no immediate danger of death. She can go on living in this unconscious state indefinitely—even as long as a year, perhaps five years. As far as I know the case has set a record for the length of time a person has remained unconscious."

At the girl's bedside, day after day, sits her mother, Mrs. Emma Buschmann, who rushed to Painesville from Massachusetts when she learned that her daughter had been injured. The mother declined to ville agreement, which was signed in 1924 and was to run three years. He called attention to the fact that it was signed by John A. Donaldson, the vice president of the Pittsburgh Coal Company, which repudiated the agreement on August 16, 1925, or about 20 months before the date for its expiration. Lewis said that Donaldson wanted to make the agreement run five years instead of three.

Shows Mellon Connection

Lewis said the Pittsburgh Coal Company was known as a Mellon property. R. B. Mellon is a director, he said, and his brother, A. W. Mellon, secretary of the treasury, was a director until he entered the President's Cabinet. The Union Trust Company, a Mellon bank, is the Pittsburgh Coal Company's fiscal agent, said Lewis. He said it was general knowledge that W. K. Field, chairman of the board of the Pittsburgh Coal Company at the time the Jacksonville agreement was signed was in constant consultation with R. B. Mellon in regard to it.

Lewis said that W. G. Warden, chairman of the board of directors of the Pittsburgh Coal Company, had told him in 1925 that he wanted to make a good record in his position and the best way to do it would be to get a wage reduction, which action, Lewis said, meant "to extort from the wages of miners additional profits for the Pittsburgh Coal Company."

He said Warden told him R. B. Mellon had had a "bad year in 1924," and that he wanted to make up for that after having been newly elected chairman of the board.

"Mr. Warden's one idea for increasing his company's profits," said Lewis, "was to take them out of the miners' wages.

Fired Old Officials

"Soon after he took charge many of the old officials of the company were eliminated, because, as we believe, they were not in harmony with Warden's shameful and wasteful system of wage degradation.

"W. K. Field went, and John A. Donaldson, the vice president who signed the Jacksonville agreement, and James Armstrong, the general manager.

"Has a subpena been issued for Field?" asked Senator Burton K. Wheeler, of Montana.

"No," said Lewis. "He has been out of the company for seven years. But he can easily be summoned if you would like to hear him."

Lewis was asked if mining methods in the United States were as efficient as in other countries.

He answered that American methods were wasteful, as only 40 per cent of the available coal was recovered, whereas in Germany it is unlawful to abandon a mine until all the coal is removed.

Returning to the Jacksonville agreement, Lewis said, in answer to questions, that the United Mine Workers never had broken any such contract, although many times it would have been to their advantage to do so.

Pgh. Coal a "Brutus"

Until the Pittsburgh Coal Company repudiated the Jacksonville agreement, said Lewis, the possibility that coal companies would break its contract with the workers was never dreamed of.

"This is one of the most appalling things that has ever befallen the coal industry," said Lewis.

"The Pittsburgh Coal Company is the Brutus of coal industry. It stabbed the workers in the back and then paraded its affrontery before the American people, unabashed by the condemnation of American citizens. The Pittsburgh Coal Company has justified the billingsgate of every soap box agitator and Communist in this country."

Lewis presented figures to show how the price of coal had dropped in recent years, owing, as he said, to the machinations of the railroads.

Cites Degradation

Dwelling on the cut in the price of coal which he said the Chesapeake and Ohio had effected, he said it measured the human degradation in the southern coal fields of West Virginia.

Senator James E. Watson of Indiana, chairman of the investigating committee, asked in what respect conditions in southern West Virginia differed from those in Pennsylvania.

"In West Virginia," said Lewis, "wages run from $2 to $4.50 a day. That is the highest that we have found paid to any class of miners. The mines are running only two, three or four days a week. I leave it to your imagination what that means.

"It is not an uncommon thing for the hungry wife of a southern West Virginia miner to wait at the tipple until we [illegible] nes

Say Lewis Good Witness for Operators

WASHINGTON, March 8.—"John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers, was a good witness for the operators," said Templeton Smith, secretary of the Lowber Gas Coal Company and other coal concerns.

"He proved that the operators are unable to pay the Jacksonville scale and make a profit."

Real Work Falls on City

Mellon Institute will act in "an advisory capacity" in the investigation of the concrete work on the Mt. Washington roadway bridge and retaining walls.

That was made clear today by Dr. E. R. Weidlein, director, at a conference with Director of Public Works Edward G. Lang, C. M. Reppert, chief engineer of the department, and President of Council James F. Malone.

Today's conference was the result of a misunderstanding of the work to be done by the institute in connection with charges that the concrete used was not the concrete tested. Malone and others took the view that the institute would make the entire investigation and submit a report of its findings.

Following the conference today, Director Lang made public this statement:

"Dr. Weidlein said he would have specialists to inspect carefully, under his supervision, the condition of the bridge. He would then decide, on the basis of the findings and conclusions of this survey, what further studies should be made, and would recommend the scope of the needed work and where it could best be done, under his control. He explained that Mellon Institute is not a commercial laboratory, but he assured president of Council that he and the institute are willing to sit in an advisory capacity, this service to be given gratis. When the investigation is completed, it will answer all questions regarding cause of condition, rehabilitation and future methods to be followed to prevent repetition."

WIFE ADOPTS FAKE BOYER HEIR

International News Service.

PONTIAC, Mich., March 8.—Four-year-old "Joseph Andrew Boyer," disowned "heir" to the Boyer millions, was adopted legally today by Mrs. Myron L. Boyer, who has confessed that she bought the boy from an unwed chambermaid in Wigdser, Ont., and pretended he was her child.

Mrs. Boyer's deception was revealed when Myron L. Boyer, her husband, filed suit in Lansing asking that the birth record of the boy as his son be expunged.

Myron Boyer also has asked the courts to restrain the Security Trust Company from paying any part of a $5,000,000 trust fund created by his father, Joseph Boyer, millionaire chairman of the board of directors of the Burroughs Adding Machine.

The millionaire Borroughs Company director established the fund for the benefit of an heir born to his son, Myron.

Mrs. Boyer, through her attorney, Ralph B. Lacey, presented a paper to the court signed by Joseph Andrew's true mother, from whom he was purchased for $20 four days after his birth. In the paper the true mother released all right to the child.

Has Wife, Steals Firm's Cash for Other Woman

His infatuation for Annabelle Nelson, 25, of 503 Cato street, and his eagerness to satisfy her every whim, led Charles W. Stoy, 28, of 1119 Tweed street, married and the father of two small children, to steal $535 from the American Railway Express Company, he admitted in Morals Court today.

Stoy, employed at the company office at Liberty avenue and Twenty-sixth street, said he took the money Tuesday after the girl had insisted that he get some money for her.

Magistrate John Orie sentenced the Nelson girl to pay a $25 fine or serve 30 days in the workhouse, and held Stoy for court on a charge of larceny. Later the magistrate changed his decision regarding the girl and ordered her discharged.

RESCUED AT FIRE

Bishop Wasil Takacs, Tenth avenue and McClure street.

The fire started in the basement of the church from an unknown cause. Aroused by the clanging of fire apparatus, the priest went to a window to see what was burning.

As the apparatus stopped in front of the parish house, a large window in the church crashed against a window in the parish house and the home filled with smoke.

After Patrolman Barron had taken the family down a ladder, the priest attempted to enter the church and save some of the altar vessels, but flames drove him back. Pieces of valuable art and church silverware was destroyed.

Two hours after the blaze started firemen had the flames under control, but the church interior was ruined and a portion of the roof burned away. Only the brick walls were left standing.

Says Son Starves Him

Alleging that his son, Dr. Ellerslie W. Stevenson, 51, permitted him "to live in hunger, cold and darkness" in spite of a mortgage executed by his son on the promise of support in comfort for life, Dr. Alfred C. Stevenson has asked Common Pleas Court to revoke the mortgage. Dr. Ellerslie Stevenson maintains an office downtown.

In his bill of complaint, filed yesterday, the father says he executed the mortgage on three parcels of land, one in Oakdale, where he resides, and two in Washington county, as security for $7,000 to be advanced him. At the father's death according to the bill, the son was to charge the estate only with what might have been actually advanced on the mortgage, without interest.

For a few weeks, the bill recites, the son procured credit at a couple of stores where the father could buy food, but after a time credit was shut off. Later, the father alleges the son allowed the natural gas and electric light to be shut off, and tried to persuade his father to allow himself to be committed to a charitable institution.

Gooding Acts in 'Talk Too Much' Discharge

WASHINGTON, March 8.—The attention of Senator Frank R. Gooding, of Idaho, chairman of the sub-committee that toured the mining camps of the Pittsburgh district two weeks ago, was directed today to the report in The Sun-Telegraph of Tuesday that Charles E. Barr, an employe of the Pittsburgh Coal Company at Pricedale, had been discharged because his wife "talked too much" to the sub-committee.

Gooding said the sub-committee probably would take some action on the matter.

"I will send a telegram at once," he said, but did not indicate to whom it would be sent or what its nature would be.

that her husband has loaded a car of coal, then to get credit at the company store for the payment due him for loading that car of coal, so she can buy some beans and bacon and coffee to feed her family. This is by no means an overdrawn picture."

"Inhuman Misery"

Turning to the operators seated in the rear of the room, Lewis, raising his voice, warned that the "same inhuman misery" faced Pennsylvania and Ohio if this drive "to degrade the miners keeps up."

He said that southern nonunion soft coal fields are virtual armed camps controlled by private police, and that the mines were worked through the use of machine guns and "the armed force of private minions of the operators."

Lewis was asked what miners were paid elsewhere. He said that not a few nonunion as well as union operators were paying the Jacksonville scale of $7.50 a day.

"In the coke region of Western Pennsylvania," said Lewis, "wages of $7.55 a day, or 5 cents more than the Jacksonville scale, are being paid by subsidiaries of the United States Steel Corporation. Twenty-five thousand miners are being paid that wage. The cost is absorbed in the selling price of pig iron and steel products. The railroads, a protected industry, could easily do the same thing, absorbing the price of coal in their freight tariffs."

Lesher Takes Stand

After Lewis left the stand Chairman Warden, of the Pittsburgh Coal Company was called. Don Rose, counsel for the company, announced that Warden was in Philadelphia today, but would be on hand later.

C. E. Lesher, executive vice president of the Pittsburgh Coal Company, was called to the stand. After he had answered some preliminary questions put to him by Chairman Watson, the examination was turned over to Oliver K. Eaton, attorney for Pittsburgh District No. 5 of the United Mine Workers. Lesher said the original Pittsburgh Coal Company was formed in 1899, but it had been consolidated with other companies since then. The capital consists of $35,000,000 preferred and $40,000,000 common stock. The funded debt amounts to about $10,000,000.

The company's maximum production was 25,000,000 tons in 1913. Since then it has lost its southern markets. Its production fell in 1924 to 8,333,000 tons.

Quizzed on Earnings

Senator Wheeler asked Lesher how many stockholders the company had. The answer was that there were somewhere between 4,000 and 6,000. Wheeler asked Lesher to furnish the committee a list of the stockholders and their individual holdings and Lesher promised to do so.

"Is Mr. Warden a large stockholder?" asked Senator Robert F. Wagner, of New York.

"I have no idea," said Lesher, "how many shares he holds, or what percentage of the stock. I have never looked at the stock list. I have had no interest in the matter."

Eaton's first questions had to do with the net earnings of the Pittsburgh Coal Company from 1917 to 1924. Lesher did not remember the earnings until the year 1923 was reached. In that year, he said, the earnings were about $7,500,000.

"The company operated union shop during all these years?" asked Eaton.

Lesher admitted it had.

"And piled up a substantial surplus?"

Lesher said he could not answer off hand as to that.

Eaton asked how Lesher became aware of the intention of the company to depart from the Jacksonville agreement.

"The policy was announced to the officers," said Lesher, "by the chairman of the board."

"Do you know if this policy was voted on by the directors?"

"No, I do not attend the board meetings. I am not a director."

"Do you have any stock in the company?"

"Fifty shares of preferred stock, which I am buying on the installment plan."

"You were familiar with the terms of the Jacksonville agreement?" asked Eaton.

Lesher admitted that he was.

"Did you sponsor the company's advertisement in regard to the Jacksonville agreement published in the Pittsburgh papers last week?"

Lesher said he did not sponsor the advertisements, but passed on them before they were published.

Some interesting points were developed during Lesher's brief examination.

He testified under questioning by Eaton that although the Pittsburgh Coal Company paid a miner only 58 cents a ton for loading a ton of coal, he had himself paid $1 a ton to have coal delivered from the curb to the basement in his own home.

Testifies to Earnings

Another interesting point adduced by Mr. Eaton was that in the period from 1917 to 1924 the net income of the Pittsburgh Coal Company exceeded $50,000,000 or was equal to two-thirds of the par value of the capital stock now outstanding.

Senator Wheeler announced that he had received a letter from John H. Jones, president of the Bertha-Consumers Company of Pittsburgh, saying that owing to the fact that his company has been placed in receivership he would not find it convenient to come to Washington until next Tuesday. He is under subpena to testify.

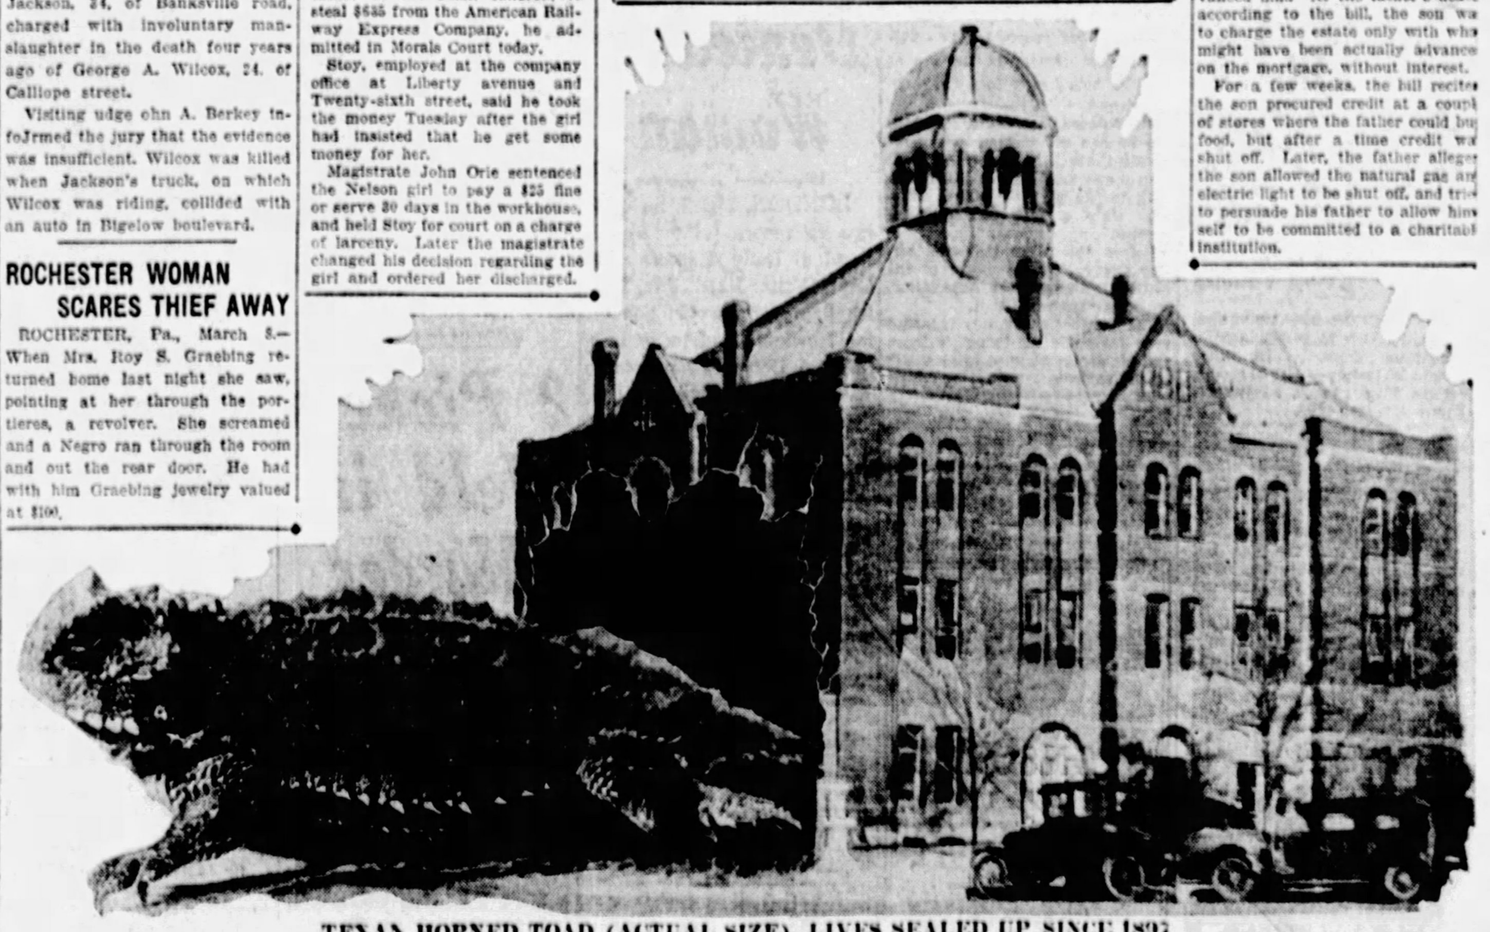
IN STONE 30 YEARS



TEXAN HORNED TOAD (ACTUAL SIZE), LIVES SEALED UP SINCE 1897

World's champion loafer is the Texan horned toad. He can lay off for 100 years and come back at the end of a century without batting an eye and as fresh as a daisy. Likewise he is the champion economist. Shut off his drinks and eats for 100 years and he complains not, but declares a gastronomic moratorium and goes on living just the same. If he decided to wait for the repeal of the Volstead act, it apparently would cause him no inconvenience.

Scientists call his stunt suspended animation, and his abstemious habits are well known. Down in Eastland, Tex., one of the toads was sealed in a box and placed in the cornerstone of a courthouse erected in 1897, with a note to the effect that "we herewith enclose, etc., one horned toad, alive and well." A few weeks ago the courthouse was razed to make way for a new county building and when the cornerstone was opened the toad was there. When he felt the fresh air he blinked, and after awhile began to breathe. He tore 30 years off his calendar at one swoop.

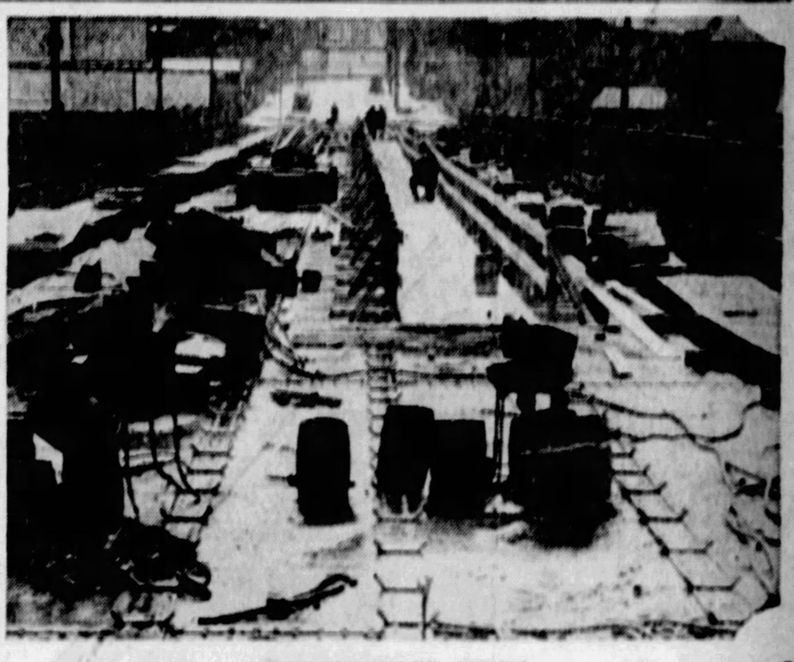
E. F. Lansinger, of 4750 Ellsworth avenue, who has just come from Western Texas, brings pictures of the toad and the old building whose cornerstone served as its long refuge. According to Mr. Lansinger, the specimen was sent to the Bronx Zoo in [illegible]rk, where it will have a permanent abode.

REMODELED SPANS IN EASTEND DISTRICT SOON READY FOR USE

JAIL DOPE SMUGGLING NIPPED

THE DAILY PICTORIAL — THE SUN TELEGRAPH — GENERAL NEWS SECTION

THURSDAY, MARCH 8, 1928



EXTRA COSTS

The Ellsworth Avenue Bridge, East Liberty, long closed to traffic, is expected to be opened by March 20. Extra work has added more than $3,000 to the cost and Council is looking over the bills. The bridge spans the P. R. R. tracks.

BRAND NEW BRIDGE

The Millvale Avenue Bridge is nearing completion and is expected to be ready for use in about six weeks. From the appearance of this new span it is built to last for many years. It also spans the Pennsy tracks.

PEDESTRIANS FIRST

While the Millvale Bridge will not be open to street car and vehicular traffic for a month and a half, pedestrians will have the use of it after Friday, at which time the foot walk will be ready for those who must "hoof it."

DOPE PLOT AT JAIL NIPPED

Dope, concealed in the false bottom of a box of safety matches, was found by county jail officials who confiscated the matches that had been left at the jail for William Campbell, alleged dope addict.

The dope was found a few hours after Warden John McNeil had been notified by federal narcotic agents that they suspected someone of smuggling dope in to Campbell.

The prisoner, held by the government pending a hearing this week on a charge of violating the narcotic law, was released on $2,500 bail Saturday. A few hours before the dope was found, a box of matches and several stogies were left at the jail by an elderly woman whose identity was not known. The matches and stogies were taken from Campbell by Deputy Warden David Harris.

Harris opened the stogies, but did not find the dope that he expected. An examination of the match box disclosed the secret compartment and the dope wrapped in tinfoil. Federal Narcotic Agent William Duffy was notified and he took charge of the investigation, first directing that Campbell not be told of the discovery. Other stogies and a similar box of matches were given to the prisoner.

A note believed to be important, also was confiscated by Warden Harris. The note informed Campbell that the sender would call for laundry Monday, urged him not to worry and promised freedom soon. It was signed "Mother."

Federal agents became suspicious that drugs were smuggled to their prisoner when they visited him in the jail and found him to be in excellent spirits, instead of sullen and depressed as they expected. They were aware that he was a dope addict, they say, and had expected he would show signs of needing drugs.

EX-RESIDENT AUTO VICTIM

Injuries resulting from an automobile accident caused the death of Francis M. McCandless, 27, a former Pittsburgher, in Los Angeles, Cal., Saturday night, according to word received here. He lived in Pittsburgh until four years ago when he went to California. A brother, Raymond Moore McCandless, lives in Mt. Lebanon. He also was a grandson of Mrs. Luella McCandless Moore, of Brookline.

JAWORSKI GUILTY, SISTER ASSISTS

Sam Jaworski, found guilty yesterday of assisting his brother, Paul, convicted murderer, of breaking jail, will have the sympathy of Elizabeth Jaworski, sister of the men. She lives in Detroit, and has been faithful to the wayward brothers in procuring legal aid. Paul has not been arrested since he shot his way out of the Allegheny County jail last August.

REFUSE TO WED DIVORCEES

CLEARFIELD, Pa., March 8.—Taking a stand as "utterly opposed" to anything approaching the "newfangled" idea of companionate marriage, ministers of six Protestant denominations of Clearfield and vicinity have agreed to ban marriage of divorcees, except the innocent party granted a decree on grounds of infidelity.

Desertion over a long period, recognized by the Presbyterian General Assembly as valid basis for divorce, was held unscriptural by the ministers, headed by the Rev. Dr. E. C. Reeve, pastor of the Clearfield Presbyterian Church.

Other churches represented by their pastors included the Methodist Episcopal, Lutheran, Baptist, Church of Christ and United Brethren.

"Some ministers will marry anybody," said Dr. Reeve today, explaining the ministers' position. "We felt this was a reflection upon the ministry. We also were actuated, no doubt, by our aversion to this newfangled idea of companionate marriage.

"The Scriptures allow for severance of marriage only on the ground of infidelity and then only to the unoffending party. We propose to stand on the Scriptures."

The action of the ministers, who are from Clearfield, Curwensville, Grampian, Lumber City and Woodland, was by unanimous consent at a meeting this week at which Dr. Reeve read a paper on "The Relation of the Church to Divorce," in which he assailed the indiscriminate marriage of divorced persons by the clergy.

P. S. C. HEARINGS HERE DELAYED BY WRECK

Public Service Commissioner Samuel A. Walker, of Butler, and John D. Roche, Harrisburg, marshal of the Public Service Commission, en route from Harrisburg to Pittsburgh to conduct hearings, were delayed more than four hours by a freight train wreck on the Pennsylvania Railroad between Altoona and Harrisburg. As a result hearings scheduled before the commission for yesterday morning could not be held until afternoon.

RIVER BODY NOT SLAIN GIRL'S

NEW PHILADELPHIA, O., March 8.—Part of a skeleton yielded last night by the Tuscarawas River is that of a six-foot male and not that of Viola May, 23, murder-victim, whose body was cast into the stream, an autopsy today disclosed.

Three physicians who examined the two intact upper leg bones at the office of Coroner J. F. Lewis, of Tuscarawas county, said they were those of a man, 6 feet tall. The May girl was only 4 feet 9 inches tall.

Evidence of the lower part of the body having been severed by a sharp instrument suggested that the skeleton may have been discarded after use by medical students.

William D. Herron, 41, brother-in-law and confessed slayer of Viola, was taken handcuffed to the coroner's office last midnight and confronted with the find.

"That's not Viola!" exclaimed Herron. "When you find her body it will be entire, just as I threw her in."

To questions by Coroner Lewis, Herron denied he had burned or dismembered the girl's body.

According to Herron's confession, he threw the girl's body into the Tuscarawas last February 7 after he had attacked her and choked her to death following a quarrel.

In an alleged confession to Sheriff Laird the day after Miss May disappeared, Herron said he choked her to death after a quarrel and threw her body into the river about three miles north of here.

Herron has been held at the county jail here.

Malone Brands Mayor Cards As "Trick"

"For Mayor—James F. Malone." Cards with that slogan and a photograph of the President of Council were received by many voters in their mail today.

Malone and his friends denied all knowledge of the cards, terming their appearance a political trick designed to embarrass him.

It is more than likely, however, that similar cards will be sent out by Malone and his friends when the time comes to select a successor to Mayor Charles H. Kline, who is getting ready to be a candidate to succeed himself.

VELMA BECOMES PRISONER NO. 3181

WINS FAME ABROAD

PESCHA KAGAN

Word has been received from Vienna, Austria, that Miss Pescha Kagan, daughter of Mrs. Sarah Kagan, of Washington, Pa., has been acclaimed one of the most remarkable pianists on the European concert stage. She was known in her home city as a child prodigy. After pursuing piano studies in Cincinnati and New York she went abroad to study. While appearing on the concert stage, she will remain another year to continue her studies under European instructors.

OAKDALE PHARMACY LOOTED OF WHISKY

A case of whisky and $30 were stolen from the Oakdale pharmacy, State street, Oakdale, by thieves who jimmied a basement window last night. H. C. Dodds, proprietor, discovered the theft when he opened the store today. Chief of Police Everett Hartness has a clue to the thieves.

JOHNSTOWN ALDERMAN ACCUSED OF EXTORTION

JOHNSTOWN, Pa., March 8.—Ephraim Wirick, alderman in the Seventeenth Ward, and Ambrose Berkebile, his constable, are charged with extortion in information made by County Detective John M. Gross. Records of the alderman's office have been seized. Wirick is accused of having extorted amounts aggregating $1,392, and Berkebile, known as the "dry raider," is said to have obtained $160.

DONS DRAB CONVICT GARB

Universal Service.

MARYSVILLE, O., March 8.—Velma West, dressed in a light gray fur coat and tight fitting hat, became prisoner No. 3181 yesterday, upon arriving at the woman's reformatory here. She is to serve a life sentence for the slaying of her husband, T. Edward West, of Perry, O.

No relative accompanied her. Spending her last night in the jail at Painesville, O., where she was sentenced Tuesday, the hammer slayer talked freely of the crime, smoking innumerable cigarets.

"I lost all control of myself," she said, when asked again why she had killed her husband. "I hit him with the hammer again and again. It all happened suddenly. We had quarreled. One word led to another. He struck me first. I picked up the claw hammer. Then I started to hit him with it."

CRANEMAN [illegible] IN 30 FT. FA[illegible]

Falling 30 feet to the ground the cab of a crane he operated, the Edgar Thomson plant of the Carnegie Steel Company at Braddock this morning, Harry Bishop, 31, of 236 Cory avenue, Braddock, was fatally hurt. He died a short time after being admitted to the West Penn Hospital.

ARNOLD KNIFE WIELDER CAUGHT AFTER CHASE

ARNOLD, Pa., March 8.—Pursued by a man brandishing a butcher knife and threatening to kill him, Irwin Pettigrew, Indiana county farmer, ran two blocks along a street here yesterday before a policeman captured his pursuer. The latter, Thomas Latona, 28, was held on a charge of felonious assault. He struck Pettigrew with a scale weight, it is alleged, before chasing him, following a quarrel over sale of chickens.

somebody telephoned Engine Company No. 19.

Police and firemen rushed to the Ward apartment. There Fire Capt. Robert Watson found the two children and a note, on the face of an old envelope, signed by Mrs. Ward and addressed to Mrs. Clifford. It read:

"The kiddies are in the bathroom. They are better off."

Rescue workers from the Safety Mine Appliance Company applied an inhalator to Dorothy May and worked feverishly over her body, admitting their hope of reviving life in the 8-month-old body was dim.

ILL HEALTH BLAMED

Mrs. Clifford told police that Mrs. Ward, whose husband is William Ward, a photo-engraver, had been in ill health and as recently as Sunday had been treated by a physician.

"I heard her tapping on the water pipe," Mrs. Clifford said, "and I thought that was the usual signal to heat the furnace, which I take care of. I started down to the furnace when Mrs. Ward came running in my apartment.

"She had told me earlier that she was going to leave Dorothy May with me today while she took Billy to the Pittsburgh Hospital. He hadn't been well lately."

It was several minutes after the finding of Billy, who were only underclothing, before Dorothy May was discovered.

Hoseman Dan Treppoli passed through the bedroom and saw what he thought was a doll in the crib. He left the room. Returning when he learned there were two children, he found the "doll" was Dorothy May.

CABMEN GET TOGETHER

TRANSPORTATION OFFICIALS MEET

Officials of the Pittsburgh Transportation Company, operating Green taxicabs, discussed traffic, safety and other timely subjects in relation to cab service at a dinner meeting downtown last night.

Mrs. Ward's bleeding wrists were bandaged in the Clifford apartment and she was taken to Pittsburgh Hospital.

Bloodstains in the Clifford home and on the rear fire escape took police to the Ward kitchen, where a line of crimson ended at the bathtub, which held Billy.

DRIVER OF ENGINE COMPANY NO. 47 DIES

William Stevenson, 53, of 1113 Fulton street, driver for No. 47 Engine Company for the last 22 years, died last night following a short illness. He was born in Albany, N. Y., and came to Pittsburgh when a boy. He began serving as a fireman at No. 42 Engine Company, and after a year there was transferred to No. 47, where he drove the old-type horse-drawn engine, and later the motorized engine. He was a member of the Firemen's Benevolent, Memorial and Protective Associations, and the St. Joseph's Roman Catholic Church. He leaves one daughter, Miss Catherine Stevenson.

FERRIS TO RETIRE WHEN TERM ENDS

DETROIT, March 8.—Woodbridge N. Ferris will not be a candidate to succeed himself in the United States Senate next fall. At 76, the veteran Michigan Democratic leader will retire to private life. This information was made public today in a letter from Ferris to William A. Comstock, of the Democratic National Committee.

PNEUMONIA MONTH

Elderly People Must Be Especially Careful in March.

The physicians' statement, in thousands of cases, reads as follows: "The immediate cause of death was a cold."

Millions of elderly men and women are always in danger from colds. Colds are deadly because they weaken the body cells and lower the physical resistance and as a result pneumonia becomes a menace.

Elderly people should have the proper remedy on hand to effectively kill off colds quickly. Thousands use the famous Bulgarian Herb (Blood) Tea, composed of rare medicinal roots, barks, herbs, plants and flowers, the rich juices of which, when steaming hot, stimulate the circulation, heat up the chilled blood stream and purge dangerous germs out of the system.

To break up colds quickly and avoid "flu" or pneumonia, take a cupful hot at bedtime. It builds power and resistance in your blood to fortify you through the cruel winter months.

Just ask your druggist.

INCREASE NIGHT POLICE TO CURB CRIME WAVE

A special night police detail will be on duty in Bellevue during the next few weeks in an effort to end a series of burglaries that has kept the borough officers busy for some time. One home was entered and a garage forced open yesterday morning. Chief Daniel Roesmeir is in charge of the squad.

Two watches and other articles of jewelry valued at more than $300 were taken from the home of S. M. Means, 589 North avenue, police say and burglars also forced the doors of the Stiggert garage, Lincoln avenue and Fremont street, although nothing was taken at the latter place.

WINS ON PUNCH BOARD--LOSES

When R. E. Valentine, 23, alias R. E. Gainer, of 237 Lehigh avenue, was refused $50 he had won on a punchboard at the Garden Inn Club, 6230 Broad street, yesterday, he confiscated the punchboard, thrusting it down his trouser leg, it was testified in Frankstown Avenue Police Court today.

Police, arriving during the fight, arrested Valentine, Arthur Jones, 22, of Harvard street, and Peter Stewart, alleged proprietor. Valentine and Jones further vented their spleen, police said, by damaging the bunk in their cell last night. All were held over for further investigation by Magistrate William Foost.

REPLOGLE WINS VERDICT

Samuel H. Replogle, assistant superintendent of county schools, was awarded $3,500 by a consent verdict in Common Pleas Court today for injuries received December 24, 1925, when he was struck by an automobile driven by Scott H. White. Replogle, standing beside his automobile in Bigelow boulevard, was struck by White's machine as it skidded.

"BIG-HEARTED" THIEF TALKS

George Holtman, 22, a married man, of 7270 Kedron street, confessed in East End Police Court today that he had robbed seven stores in the East Liberty-Homewood district and taken to his home or friends, jewelry, radio accessories, hardware and clothes valued at $4,000.

Police conceded that Holtman was "the big-hearted thief." They found true his statement that he hadn't sold the stolen goods and that the stuff they didn't find in his home they would locate in the homes of friends. He had given much of it away.

"I'd get a little drunk and then rob these places," Holtman told Magistrate William J. Soost who held him for court on eight charges.

Holtman was caught while robbing the Dave Appleman Jewelry Store at 906 North Homewood avenue. Other shops he admitted having robbed were Brushton Hardware, 7930 Frankstown avenue; Homewood Art Shop, 908 Homewood avenue; Morris Finger Tailor Shop, 7642 Frankstown avenue; Harry Marks Jewelry Store, 7640 Frankstown avenue; Hamilton Music Shop, 729 North Homewood avenue; Brushton Radio Store, 610 Brushton avenue.

COSTLIEST

Aileen Pringle

Hollywood, Cal.—Aileen Pringle, Metro - Goldwyn - Mayer star, who owns the costliest negligee in Hollywood, made of real lace from a shawl once owned by an Empress of Russia, gives her recipe for cleansing it.

"I always personally supervise the washing of it to make certain it is done in Lux suds," Aileen said.

And over at Paramount, Travis Banton, costume director for all productions, reveals that in caring for the thousands of beautiful costumes and the vast stock of fabrics in the Paramount wardrobes and sets, Lux is used . . . because it saves money by keeping all kinds of fabrics new-looking twice as long.

"We now use Lux for every bit of laundry in our vast wardrobe department. We no longer discard costumes which have lost their new look. We 'Lux' them. Lux doubles the life of sturdy fabrics as well as sheer materials," he said.

Millions of women also use Lux because its pure suds cleanse safely, keep fabrics new twice as long.

WELFARE FUND ASSURED

Final steps leading toward organization of the Welfare Fund of Pittsburgh are expected to be completed in a meeting of the Committee of Fifty to be held in the William Penn Hotel at 3 o'clock tomorrow afternoon, according to G. G. Coolidge, secretary of the committee.

Reports are expected from the applications committee, Horace F. Baker, chairman; the committee on by-laws, William S. Moorhead, chairman, and the committee on nominations, A. K. Oliver, chairman.

The report of the applications committee, which has been making a careful study of the applications for membership, will be the most interesting, as the vote of the committee on this report will determine the initial membership in the Welfare Fund. Organization of the Welfare Fund is assured, according to Mr. Coolidge. The possible date of the campaign likely will be discussed in the meeting tomorrow.

HOLD PROMOTER IN PAINT BUNCO

A magic paint for automobile tops, which would dry as quickly as it was sprayed on, was the money-making idea of James Cyrs, 35, of Akron.

Yesterday, detectives say, several hundred unemployed men and boys went to Cyrs' room at the Fort Pitt Hotel, heard in glowing terms of the money they could make selling the wonder paint, and each paid Cyrs $5 as "good faith money" to become one of his agents.

The only hitch was that the paint existed only in Cyrs' imagination. Cyrs was held for court today by Magistrate John Orie.

Only Two More Days to Attend

Spring Fabric Week

and Dressmakers' Exhibit

11 A. M. 2:30 P. M.
Living Models

Just two more days to see the lovely frocks and wraps which various Pittsburgh dressmakers have made for you to copy.

The materials, the patterns, the buttons—everything used in the model garments is from our regular stocks.

And if you've not the time or inclination to sew yourself, let one of the participating dressmakers do your sewing for you. Their charges are very reasonable.

Just two more days to avail yourself of the many special services offered during Fabric Week.

Materials purchased here will be cut out for you by experts, without charge.

Miss Kittinger of Vogue, Miss Cofall of Pictorial Review, and Miss Arnoldy of Butterick are here this week to help you choose becoming models and to tell you how to make any necessary alterations in patterns.

Miss Smith is in the Electric Sewing Machine Shop to answer any questions you may have concerning the care and operation of your machine or the use of attachments.

The Spring Dressmakers' Directory is now ready. Ask for a copy in the Fabric Sections.

A Suit for Misses

Which Has Many Uses

Priced $39.50

It is a two-piece suit, with long coat and wrap-around skirt of imported tweed, which has the following possibilities:

Worn with a sweater, a sports blouse, or a frock of plain or printed silk which has a sports feeling, it becomes an ensemble for the street, for travel, or for spectator sports. Its coat being full length, made in smart styles with dashing Johnny collar, selvedge finish, and unusual pockets, will serve as a separate topcoat.

Now!—

Women's Low-Priced Hats In Men's Head Sizes

Heretofore, women's hats perfectly sized like men's, with a range of 6½ to 8, scaled to a quarter of an inch variation between sizes, have all been high priced. But now, a popular-priced line has been created and confined to Horne's, in Pittsburgh.

It means that a woman may have a ready-to-wear hat in her exact size, perfectly proportioned, at the moderate price of

The hats are sports-type models of excellent, lightweight felt in a wide range of colors, smartly tailored in various styles.

See them tomorrow—the new "Pinehurst" hats, in their individual section, and know the joy of a hat that fits.

Will Sees Still Good Start for Public Park

ASHEVILLE, N. C., March 8.—Spent the day in the mountains with my Eastern Cherokee brothers, the ones that old Andrew Jackson wasn't able to run out of this country. They are pretty poor and they don't get anything from the government, but they are not hollering for relief.

WILL ROGERS

Was also in the big Smoky Mountain Park that Rockefeller just gave five million dollars to. It's going to be the Yellowstone of the South. It's beautiful and can't help being a big success as a public park for tourists. They got the stills in there already. All they got to do now is to get the roads in to 'em.

Yours,
WILL ROGERS.

FOUR HOLD UP TROLLEY

3 OTHERS GET FUNDS OF UNION

A street car motorman, operating a one-man car, and another car company employe carrying money belonging to the carmen's union, were robbed by highwaymen last night and early this morning.

J. A. McGann's car was held up by four men who boarded it at the end of the No. 29 route in Brookline boulevard near Brining street, Overbrook, and Edward King, 28, of 1354 Goettman street, was robbed of $174 of union funds by three bandits who stopped him near his home.

King had attended a union meeting and was carrying the money, intending to put it in a bank today. Three men, two of them armed, leaped in front of him at Goettman and Truax streets and rifled his pockets.

The Brookline holdup is the second at the same place within a year. The holdup last night netted the highwaymen $28. There were no passengers in the car. A window was broken when one of the robbers made a threatening gesture with a club. Two of the men were armed with revolvers and the others had clubs.

After taking the money the robbers told McGann not to move the car until he had heard a revolver shot. The fugitives then jumped from the car and ran down a nearby hillside. In about a minute McGann heard the crack of a revolver.

In the former street holdup, which occurred last March, James Downard was in charge of a one-man car. He fled from the car when one of two men flourished a revolver after entering.

THIEVES STRIKE AGAIN AT NATRONA HEIGHTS

Robbers have been making almost nightly visits to homes in Natrona Heights, and Harrison township police have redoubled their efforts to catch the thieves. The home of J. C. Dalzell, Cambridge street, Natrona Heights, secretary of the Tarentum Y. M. C. A., was entered last night and wearing apparel valued at several hundred dollars stolen.

BELLEVUE MAN LEAVES BEQUESTS TO MASONS

Bequests of $5,000 to the Masonic Home at Elizabethtown, Pa., and $1,000 to the Bellevue Lodge, Free and Accepted Masons, were contained in the will of Fred A. East of Bellevue, which was filed for probate today. Relatives received the remainder of the $15,000 estate.

APOPLEXY ATTACK FATAL TO WORKER

C. W. Brudy, 59, 722 North Canal street, North Side, collapsed and died a few minutes later yesterday while at work in the plant of the National Biscuit Company, 409 Liberty avenue.

THREE INJURED IN AUTO CRASH

Three men were cut and bruised this morning when a machine in which they were riding collided with a taxicab at Seventh avenue and Grant street. They are R. V. Wehn, Joseph Smith and E. G. Skinner, all of Verona. They were treated at the Mercy Hospital. Wehn, who was driving the machine, and William Pollock, of 508 Rebecca street, Wilkinsburg, the cab driver, were arrested on reckless driving charges.

MILLINER HELD FOR SEDITION IN MINE TALK

CANONSBURG, Pa., March 8.—Rebecca Grecht, of Pittsburgh, arrested Monday at Burgettstown while delivering an alleged radical address to an assembly of striking union miners, was held for court on a charge of sedition yesterday by Justice J. A. McKnight, of Houston. She was released under $1,000 bail.

Corporal Harold Pierce, of the State Police, who filed the information, offered testimony that in speeches at Canonsburg and McDonald the fiery woman orator had denounced the government, preached revolutionism and advised militant action to overthrow courts and their agents and enforcing injunctions.

Don't dose a Child's Cold

CONTINUAL dosing upsets children's delicate stomachs. Vicks is applied externally and therefore cannot disturb the digestion. It acts in two ways:

(1) The body heat releases the ingredients in the form of vapors which are inhaled.

(2) At the same time Vicks "draws out" the soreness like a poultice.

AVOID UGLY PIMPLES

A pimply face will not embarrass you much longer if you get a package of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. The skin should begin to clear after you have taken the tablets a few nights.

Cleanse the blood, bowels and liver with Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the successful substitute for calomel; there's no sickness or pain after taking them.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets do that which calomel does, and just as effectively, but their action is gentle and safe instead of severe and irritating.

No one who takes Olive Tablets is ever cursed with a "dark brown taste," a bad breath, a dull, listless, "no good" feeling, constipation, torpid liver, bad disposition or pimply face.

Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound mixed with olive oil; know them by their olive color.

Dr. Edwards spent years among patients afflicted with liver and bowel complaints and Olive Tablets are the immensely effective result. Take nightly for a week. See how much better you feel and look. 15c, 30c, 60c.

Child-birth

No longer dreaded by thousands of women

Doctor's Discovery Successful

AN eminent physician has shown to thousands of expectant mothers just how to be free from much suffering during expectancy and at childbirth.

Dr. Holmes' discovery, "Mother's Friend," relieves the tension on muscles and tissues as month follows month. Finally, it makes child-birth a joy!

Three generations of mothers have praised Mother's Friend. Mrs. Laura Hendrix, Gracemont, Okla., writes: "I used Mother's Friend with all my babies and I think it is the grandest help that has ever been discovered for expectant mothers."

Start using Mother's Friend tonight—the sooner the better, and write for free booklet on "Things to Know Before Baby Comes" (sent in plain envelope). Mother's Friend is sold by all drug stores. Bradfield Regulator Co., Desk 22, Atlanta, Ga.

Rheumatic Pains All Gone In Five Days

McCulloch's 10 Convenient Stores Invite Every Sufferer to Try Wonder-Working Formula on Money-Back Plan.

It's hard for you to believe, perhaps—you folks who have been suffering untold agony from the dull, deadening ache that never seems to leave you—that you can get right here in Pittsburgh a remarkable remedy that will bring lasting relief to your torture.

Don't let any doubts or misgivings hold you back from accepting this generous offer that McCulloch's 10 Convenient Stores are making. You aren't risking a single thing to gain a lifetime of release from rheumatic pain, for if this wonder-working formula known as Allenrhu does not completely rid you of every twinge in 10 days, they money you paid will be returned promptly.

Remember in taking Allenrhu that while the pains and aches themselves speedily go (usually in the first day or two), you should continue its use for several days longer to help get rid of the uric acid poisoning in your system. And remember further, if after taking it for 10 days you are dissatisfied in any way your money is waiting for you.

OIL KING'S BONDS LINKED DIRECTLY TO G. O. P.

SHOW SINCLAIR 'GIFTS' TRADED FOR CASH

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON, International News Service.

WASHINGTON, March 8.—A tortuous trail followed by the Senate Public Lands Committee today revealed that bonds of the mysterious Continental Trading Company were given Will H. Hays by Harry F. Sinclair and subsequently distributed in Chicago in return for cash contributions to the Republican National Committee.

This was proven when James A. Patten, Chicago wheat king, testified he was given $25,000 in Liberty bonds by Fred W. Upham, Republican treasurer, in return for a $25,000 cash contribution to the Republican deficit of the 1920 campaign.

Twenty of the $25,000 bonds given Patten by Upham were identified as bonds originally sold to the Continents' Trading Company.

Hays, national chairman in the 1920 campaign, previously told the committee of getting $160,000 in bonds from Sinclair. He told of sending $60,000 of the bonds to Upham and it was these bonds that the committee traced today.

IDENTIFY BONDS

After Patten told of getting $25,000 in bonds from Upham in return for his cash, the committee obtained from him a list of the numbers of the bonds.

Miss Imogene Howell, secretary of Senator Thomas J. Walsh (Dem) of Montana, took the stand a little later and testified that 20 of the Patten bonds, all of $1,000 denomination, were contained in a list of bonds sold the Continental Trading Company on May 21, 1923, by the Dominion Bank of Canada. This check revealed that the Republican party had taken bonds from Sinclair, which he had obtained in the Continental deal, and traded them off to Chicagoians who were willing to make cash contributions.

Patten himself told the committee that after he had made the exchange he was "much mystified" at the action of the Republicans.

William V. Hodges, treasurer of the Republican National Committee, called to the stand, explained his handling of Republican contributions from 1924 to the present. He listed about $10,000 in "balances" given him by the eastern and western Republican managers after the 1924 campaign.

A long list of contributors to the Chicago Republican headquarters in the years 1921 to 1924 inclusive, was filed by Hodges. The list included a large number of $1,000 contributors, which was significant because of Walsh's charges that a huge amount of Sinclair bonds were distributed in small amounts, among Chicago Republicans to be sold and the proceeds contributed to pay off the Republican deficit of 1920.

Samuel Insull was listed for one $5,000 contribution and William Wrigley for $10,000.

Patten was listed for a $36,000 contribution and also for a $37.85 one. He was recalled to explain the $37.85.

"Oh, Fred Upham came in and said he only needed $37.85 to clean up the deficit," Patten explained. "So I just wrote him a check. I was glad it was to wind up that campaign."

FIND SHARON BOY'S HEART ON RIGHT SIDE

Don't Let Them Call You Pimply Face!

You fellows who go around with your face blotched with pimples and bad looking eruptions have no one but yourself to blame if you're constantly humiliated and shunned.

You can clear up your skin and leave it free from roughness and unsightly eruptions in short order if you will only give that wonderful skin remedy—Peterson's Ointment—a chance to do its stuff.

Oftentimes you only need to use a few applications before pimples completely go and if you're suffering from eczema, acne or rashes this condition will go almost as quick.

One sufferer from eczema, a victim for years, says he is almost completely cured after using only one-half a box.

Get a box for only 35 cents from any good druggist—and start today to acquire a clean, clear, healthy skin that you'll always be proud of.

ONE OF 100 STYLES FOR SPRING

Here's a Way to Save Money!

Read the following statement . . .

Despite the fact that leather prices have gone up tremendously in the past several months, W. L. Douglas Shoes for Spring are the same high quality at the same popular prices.

Hides increased 75% to 85% in price during 1927. "But", you ask, "if that is true, how can Douglas Shoes sell at the same price and still be the same high quality?

And here's why—early in 1927 we foresaw this rise in prices—we contracted at the prevailing low prices for enough fine leather to make the shoes we are offering you this Spring, direct from factory to you. Other big savings in manufacturing costs were made possible by our large quantity production—we made 100,000 more pairs of shoes last Fall than the preceding season.

The New Spring Styles are Ready

Smartly styled for the new season—made of the finest imported and domestic leathers, best of workmanship—famous Douglas quality built into every shoe.

$5. $6. $7. $8.

The Douglas name and a fair and square retail price is stamped on the sole of every shoe at the factory. This is your assurance of quality and honest value.

WHY PAY HIGHER PRICES THAN THESE FOR GOOD SHOES?

We are passing on to all of our customers—old and new—savings which amount to almost $1. on every pair of W. L. Douglas shoes.

A cordial invitation is extended to you to call and see the wonderful styles and values in W. L. Douglas shoes for Spring. And remember, you will be under no obligation whatever to buy.

Your Druggist Says: Stubborn Indigestion Must Go or Your Money Back

Read His Sincere Offer and Quickly Bring Comfort to Your Wretched, Rebellious Stomach.

Money Back If One Bottle of Dare's Mentha Pepsin Doesn't Give Quicker Relief and More Lasting Benefit Than Anything You Ever Used.

You can be so distressed with gas and fullness and bloating that you think your heart is going to stop beating.

Your stomach may be so distended that your breathing is short and gaspy.

You think perhaps you are suffocating.

You are dizzy and pray for quick relief—what's to be done?

Just one tablespoonful of Dare's Mentha Pepsin and in ten minutes the gas disappears, the pressing on the heart ceases and you can breathe deep and naturally.

Oh! What blessed relief; but why not get rid of such attacks altogether? Why have chronic indigestion at all?

With this wonderful medicine you can banish indigestion or dyspepsia, or any abnormal condition that keeps the stomach in constant rebellion and one bottle will prove it.

And how happy you will be when your stomach is as good as new for then dizziness, nervousness, sleeplessness, headache, dull eyes and other ailments caused by a disordered stomach will disappear and you will be your old happy, contented self again. Every regular pharmacist guarantees one bottle of Dare's Mentha Pepsin to show the way to stomach comfort or money back.

Women are Learning the Right Way

Pimples on the face and other parts of the body are warnings from within. Sometimes they foretell eczema, boils and other skin disorders that burn like flames of fire.

You know a clear skin comes from within. Correct the cause — through the blood — and pimples, boils, eczema and that sallow complexion will disappear.

IF you are unfortunate in having skin blemishes, pimples, boils, eczema, you owe it to yourself and friends to remove the cause. Nature will then provide the complexion which is so much desired.

Thousands have been enabled to free themselves of unsightly blemishes and painful skin annoyances by taking a course of S.S.S.

You owe it to yourself to try S.S.S. It helps Nature build up red corpuscles. It improves the processes by which the blood is nourished.

Red blood cells are Nature's way for building and sustaining the body.

Without plenty of rich, red blood, there can be no strong, sturdy, powerful men, or beautiful, healthy women.

S.S.S. is Nature's own tonic for restoring the appetite—building strength—and clearing the body of so-called skin troubles.

"I was troubled with pimples and blackheads. I took a course of S.S.S. It cleared my face and back. I think S.S.S. is wonderful. I have told many friends about S.S.S., and they are getting as much benefit as I did." Miss Ruth Gahm, 1134 Elden Ave., Los Angeles, Calif.

All drug stores sell S.S.S. Get the larger size. It is more economical.

DEATH ROLL

Ezra Donaldson.

Ezra Donaldson, 80, retired farmer, of 5 Lawry avenue, Emsworth, died yesterday. He was born at Smock, Fayette County, and for the past 30 years lived with his family at Unity, Pa. Had he lived until March 12, he and Mrs. Donaldson would have observed their sixty-ninth wedding anniversary. He was a lifelong member of the United Presbyterian Church. He leaves his widow and three children.

Mrs. Mary A. Booth.

Mrs. Mary A. Booth, 78, widow of John T. Booth, died Tuesday afternoon in the home of his daughter, Mrs. Arthur Owen, 408 Brownsville avenue. She was born in West Brownsville and had lived in the Carrick district for 27 years. She was a member of the Union Baptist Church, Southside. Besides her daughter, Mrs. Booth leaves three sons.

Mrs. Mary E. Rolshouse.

Word was received here last night of the death of Mrs. Mary E. Rolshouse, 73, in her home in Logansport, Ind., Tuesday morning. She was born in Hampton township, where her parents were pioneer settlers. For many years she was a member of Walter's Lutheran Church in McCandless township. Her husband, Carl Rolshouse, died about four months ago.

Mrs. William A. Reed.

Mrs. Nellie C. Reed, 64, died yesterday morning at her home, 7216 Kelly street. Mrs. Reed was born on the North Side and and had resided there practically all her life. She was a member of the Perrysville Avenue Methodist Episcopal Church and missionary society; chaplain of Daylight Chapter No. 259, Order of Eastern Star, and past president of Clayton Mothers' Congress. She leaves her husband, a son and two daughters.

M'CASKEY WILL CASE ARGUMENT APRIL 16

Argument as to the validity of the will of the late John G. McCaskey will be heard before the Superior Court in Philadelphia, April 16. News of transfer of the hearing from Pittsburgh was recorded today. The Orphans Court of Allegheny County sustained the will Judge Thomas P. Trimble dissenting, and an appeal was taken by the five children of McCaskey, three sons and two daughters.

VIEWERS NAMED IN BETHEL LAND DEAL

Judge John A. Evans, of Common Pleas Court, has appointed C. W. Reamer, R. M. Kopp and S. A. Merkel viewers to assess benefits and damages arising out of land taken by the county commissioners in Bethel township, for county purposes.

County Detective Chief to Film Killing Scene

County Detective Chief George W. Murren, known as Versatile George, is going into the moving picture business.

Murren is using murder as the avenue of entrance. Today he dispatched a moving picture photographer to Rural Ridge to film the scene of the slaying of Mike Yarsavage, 33, slugged to death in Walters Chapel Cemetery, "by mistake" by three young men.

Versatile George said he'd show the pictures to the jury.

Northwestern Mutual Life
Selects the Best Offices in Pittsburgh

THE trained judgment of one of the largest Preferred Risk Insurance Companies in America appreciates the superlative convenience of an office in the CLARK BUILDING.

Mr. Royal S. Goldsbury, one of the oldest and best-known life underwriters in Pittsburgh, when asked why he chose Pittsburgh's newest and most efficient office building, said:—

"The Northwestern offices have been in the present location for over thirty years, so it is readily apparent we would not leave our present quarters if the new quarters in the Clark Building did not seem most attractive as an offset. We like the nice outlook; increased sunlight; easy accessibility; and the saving in steps for our clients and our agents and our employees that the Clark Building and its location represent. The great efficiency of these modern daylight offices is a business asset for any firm."

Good company is assured with these Clark Tenants:—

BLAST WRECKS HOUSE, HURTS BOARDER

A man was burned, probably fatally, and 12 persons were routed early today when a gas explosion wrecked the boarding house of John J. Hoban, 53 Congress street. The entire side and front of the house was blown out. Loss was estimated at $5,500.

The injured man is John Ranoski, 56, a boarder in the house. He is in the Mercy Hospital in a critical condition. Ranoski was blown to the street where he was picked up by police and rushed to the hospital. He was badly burned.

Mr. and Mrs. Hoban were routed as well as Mrs. Helen Fitzgerald, Robert Harrington, Max Robertson and Peter Sabo, boarders, and Michael LeAngelo, his wife and four children who live at 51 Congress street. Flying debris damaged the LeAngelo home.

It is believed Ranoski shut off the gas and then turned is on again, filling the room with fumes. Fire followed the blast.

NO 'POSSUM TO THIS SKUNK

Until convinced otherwise by the animal itself, J. C. Mauder, truck driver for the Animal Rescue League believed a furry creature caught yesterday in the cellar of a Mt. Washington home was an opossum. The fact that the animal was a skunk was established in a skunk's own inimitable manner and Mauder spent several hours deodorizing his wagon and clothes. The skunk escaped during the excitement following its scent attack on Mauder.

SEWARD MAN JAILED FOR MULCTING VICTIM

Accused of having obtained almost $10,000 from George Hereto, of 514 Main street, Sharpsburg, for a share in the estate of "Col. Jacob Baker of Philadelphia," B. F. Swartzwelder, of Seward, Pa., was committed to jail on a charge of obtaining money under false pretense.

According to Detectives Edward Harkins and William Sullivan, who arrested Swartzwelder, Hereto was to obtain a $10,000,000 share in the Baker estate for supplying $10,000 to finance the legal work incident to distribution. Police are searching for several others interested in the case.

PITTSBURGHERS TO BE BANK'S DINNER GUESTS

Robert Wardrop, E. S. Eggert, W. O. Phillips, J. C. Nevin, S. H. Ogden and W. M. Bell will be among the Pittsburgh guests at the dinner to be held in Cleveland by the Guardian Trust Company of that city, Friday night in the Hollenden Hotel. The guests of honor will be Roy A. Young, recently appointed governor of the Federal Reserve Board at Washington, and Gov. Theodore Christianson, of Minnesota. Four hundred bankers and industrialists of the Fourth Federal Reserve district will be in attendance.

EMBASSY BEACH CLUB'S RECEIVERSHIP IN COURT

Judge Elder W. Marshall, of Common Pleas Court, will decide at 3 o'clock this afternoon whether to hear testimony to continue the receivership of the Embassy Beach Club in North Highland avenue. An effort is being made to save the property for the membership. The mortgages amount to $140,000, and creditors are clamoring for their money. The Potter Title & Trust Company was named temporary receiver two weeks ago on application of Attorney Morris Canter.

96, She's Warned Not to Flirt; Divorced

DENVER, Col., March 8.—(AP.)—A caution to desist from flirting with men was the court's admonition to Mrs. Rosi Vitelio Perelio, 96, in awarding her a divorce today from Francesco Perelio, 40 years her junior.

In answer to the complaint, Perelio declared she had proposed to him, otherwise he would not have married her. They were married October 8, 1926.

Sage Tea Turns Gray Hair Dark

By SHIRLEY BLAKE

That beautiful, even shade of dark, glossy hair can only be had by brewing a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Your hair is your charm. It makes or mars the face. When it fades, turns gray or streaked, just an application or two of Sage and Sulphur enhances its appearance a hundredfold.

Don't bother to prepare the mixture. You can get this famous old recipe, improved by the addition of other ingredients, for only 75 cents, all ready for use. It is called Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound. This can always be depended upon to bring back the natural color and lustre of your hair.

Everybody uses Wyeth's Sage Sulphur Colmpound now because it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied. You simply dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through the hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair has disappeared, and after another application it becomes beautifully dark and appears glossy and lustrous.

Are you a walking septic tank?

He is

Why let your body be a storehouse for health-robbing intestinal poisons? Read how prominent specialist on digestive ailments restores vigorous pep and energy to nervous, run-down bodies—through new, safe, scientific treatment.

THOUSANDS of people go through life only half alive. Always tired. Eternally dragged-out. Fussy, irritable, bilious.

In many cases, there's nothing organically wrong with these people. They're just walking septic tanks—and don't know it.

there's no need to suffer from auto-intoxication. The simplest way to remedy this trouble is to get at its real cause—the liver.

The liver is the largest and most important gland of the body. If the liver fails to yield a normal supply of liquid bile, the pancreas also fails to supply its important digestive fluid. When this occurs, the food we eat accumulates in the intestines—undigested. Then comes putrefaction—followed by its toxic poisons and millions of disease-breeding germs—and then—AUTO-INTOXICATION.

Auto-intoxication —our worst enemy

A septic tank is a storehouse for putrefying material. When food is not properly eliminated from the digestive system, it becomes clogged in the intestines and also starts to putrefy. Then poisons form, which spread through the whole body and hamper the work of all the other organs.

This auto-intoxication, or self-poisoning as it is commonly called, leads to many distressing ailments. The complexion breaks out. The face and eyes look old and tired. Headaches come. The nerves are on edge. The appetite is poor.

And very often, if neglected, self-poisoning may lead to such serious diseases as Gall stone formations, Bright's Disease, Diabetes, Rheumatism, Appendicitis, High Blood Pressure and Premature Old Age.

Yet prominent specialists now say

Nature's own remedy

For auto-intoxication victims, physicians everywhere are advising a wonderfully effective new remedy—Zilatone.

Zilatone is designed to correct and banish constipation troubles—by supplying the identical elements which Nature herself provides to keep us healthy and vigorous. Zilatone cleanses the system gently and thoroughly. It activates and regulates the stomach, liver, pancreas, gall bladder and bowels—throughout. It is truly named—NATURE'S OWN HEALTH BUILDER.

Zilatone is sold on a money-back guarantee by most all druggists in your neighborhood. Get Zilatone today.

Zilatone is recommended and sold in this city by all May's Drug Stores and other live druggists.

Health Dividends From Sunny Disposition

ADDISON said, "Health and cheerfulness mutually beget each other."

How true this is! If you have good health you are likely to be good-natured and happy. If you maintain cheerfulness of mind your health is promoted. There is no doubt that health and cheerfulness do beget each other.

You can cultivate a cheerful disposition just as you can cultivate an ugly one. A great many times it is easier to be cranky and disagreeable than it is to practice self-control and at least pretend to be good-natured and really try to be.

If you permit yourself to give way to your feelings, to indulge in outbursts of temper, and to say disagreeable things, you are doing yourself a great injury. To give way repeatedly to these tendencies, is likely to result in an irascible, disagreeable, inflammable disposition. The worst of it is, too, that these qualities can become fixed.

I have known many a patient, temperate, kindly person, abounding in goodness and sweetness. With many of these I have taken pains to discuss the matter we are considering today. Lots of them have confessed to the possession in early life of quickness of temper, crankiness, gruffness and other disagreeable qualities.

The exercise of will-power and the determination to turn away from the natural impulse to be disagreeable has brought about a complete reversal of thought and action. In short, it is possible to cultivate a cheerfulness of disposition.

When you give way to temper or to moroseness, it is not long before you have a headache, heartburn and other positive symptoms of physical disability. The very violence of the outbursts reacts upon the nervous system. The heart is set to pounding. The blood is in the head instead of in the stomach where it should be at work digesting the food.

Repeated experiences of this sort are sure to impair the health. On the other hand, to be cheerful, to try to see the beauties of the landscape, to smile over the enthusiasm of your friends, to have a kind word for the footstacker, will react upon your physical nature and promote your general well-being.

I am confident Addison was right. He was expressing a fundamental truth. It is indeed true that health and cheerfulness mutually beget each other.

Fay King Advises Any "Misunderstood" Girl

By FAY KING

IN MANY home towns girls are assuming the wise airs they read about in books and magazines and consider the town too slow!

They long to go out into that wise world where they can do "just as they please" and "live their own lives!"

At home, they do this astonishing thing, or say that startling one, and are only smiled at. Everyone knows they are not really as bad as they would seem.

Yet, they think they are misunderstood!

But when these youngsters leave the home town crowd they are apt to find that they are only really misunderstood among strangers out in the world.

There is a vast difference between the home town and the world at large. The world always takes it for granted that you are what you seem.

The girl who could say and do so many things she did not really mean without any of the "slow" home folks calling her bluff, will not find strangers so slow or so inclined to give her the benefit of the doubt.

She will find that she will have a good deal of explaining to do to those who "understand her" too readily.

She will spend most of her time trying to convince her new friends she is really not as free and easy as she seems if she wishes to avoid the consequences of her loose words and actions.

What's the Answer?

1. What king staked everything and lost at Poltava?
2. What states today represent the territory gained from Mexico?
3. Who was Morgana and where did she live?
4. What two war correspondents of the Spanish-American War became famous authors?
5. How many operas did Beethoven write?
6. Who wrote a waltz to describe a little dog playing with his tail?
7. What internationally known German actor was born in Brooklyn?
8. Who designed the Washington arch in New York City?
9. What President's wife introduced ice cream into America?
10. What uniform, still in use, did Michelangelo design?

The answers to these questions may be found in tomorrow's paper.

Here are the answers to yesterday's questions.

The Salic Law is the law of the Salian Franks excluding females from the succession to the French throne.

2. The "Blarney Stone" is located at Blarney Castle, Ireland.
3. The typhoon is peculiar to the Indian Ocean.
4. The "Anvil Chorus" is from "Il Trovatore," by Giuseppi Verdi.
5. A taropatch is a large double-stringed ukulele, used in Hawaii.
6. Harry Kemp is known as the "tramp poet."
7. Provincetown, Mass., still has a town crier.
8. The name of the Roman Empress Messalina, wife of Claudius, has become synonymous with cruelty and deceit. She was executed by her husband's orders in 48 A. D.
9. Nebuchadnezzar, King of Babylon, who ate grass, was the first vegetarian, according to the Bible.
10. A narghile is a Turkish pipe in which smoke is drawn through water.

MEDITATIONS of a MARRIED WOMAN
by HELEN ROWLAND

THE SLENDER PASSION

THERE is nothing like a little absence to cure a budding romance or revive a dying love.

The average man makes love very much as he carves a fowl. Either he rushes in and mutilates the whole thing, or he takes so long to get started that a woman loses half her interest.

Many a prima donna could take a lesson from President Coolidge, by retiring at the height of her popularity. And so could many a girl, by knowing just the psychological moment at which to tune off a love-affair.

HELEN ROWLAND

Distance lends enchantment—which is probably why the average man's wife and his stenographer always secretly suspect that the other gets the benefit of all the sweeter side of his nature.

The only difference between companionate marriage and any other kind of "free love" appears to be that the man will escape the chance of being sued for "heart-balm." Every new "feministic" lad seems designed to make the world safer and sweeter for men, and duller for the women.

How fortunate that when a baby girl is born, her fond parents don't stop to think of what it's going to cost them to keep the electric light burning in the hall for her, a few years hence.

The question in a man's mind used to be, "Do I dare to kiss her?" later it was, "Do I care to kiss her!" now, it's "Do I HAVE to kiss her?"

There are only two ages at which a man faces the altar without a shudder: at twenty, when he doesn't know what's happening to him—and at eighty when he doesn't care.

Two things that never can be warmed over are a cold baked potato and a last year's romance.

Brown Eyes

DEAR MISS GALE:

I am a constant reader of your column and enjoy reading your letters very much. I agree with you on the petting, smoking and drinking questions. Now I am coming to you for some advice. I am 19 years old and go with a boy of 22. I love him very much and I know that he loves me and intends to marry me some of these days, but there is one question I would like to ask you is that I only weigh 120 pounds and he weighs over 200. Do you think that makes any difference to our love for each other? I hate to say anything to him about reducing for fear of hurting his feelings, because I love him too much to do that, so please answer my letter and let me know what you think about it. BROWN EYES

Don't let a little thing like weight worry you, my dear. Forget it.

V. R. F.

DEAR MISS GALE:

I am a young girl of 17, and am very much in love, but I don't know whether this boy is in love with me. I have had several engagements with him, and am wearing his ring. He seems to enjoy my presence very much. Miss Gale, how can I find out if this boy likes me. I agree with you on the petting, smoking and drinking questions and yet I am very popular with both sexes. Hoping you have good luck, I am, V. R. F.

You are both too young to know real love my dear. However, the boy seems to like you very much.

"My skin was a sight"

"I couldn't look people in the face, I was so ashamed of my skin! It was always blotched with pimples and blackheads and at times itched terribly. I had tried everything and was so discouraged that I couldn't bring myself to take hope in anything. You can imagine my surprise therefore when one application of Rowles Mentho Sulphur almost completely cleared my skin. I could have danced with joy! In a short time you wouldn't know my skin—it was so clear, so soft and white."

Thousands of people are discovering that there is a remedy for skin trouble—even fiery, itching eczema! It's the magical combination of sulphur and menthol—sulphur for clearing the skin, menthol for healing the broken and irritated tissue. Rowles Mentho Sulphur is inexpensive and all druggists supply it in jars ready to use. Be sure it's Rowles.

Mrs. Mitchell Terry Tells How Cuticura Healed Daughter

"My daughter had eczema on her left hand. It started with a few pimples but in a short time water came from it and wherever it touched the trouble spread. It was not long before it spread to her right hand and feet, causing them to swell, itch and burn. The irritation prevented her from sleeping, and she had to go without shoes or stockings for it itched so whenever it was covered. Her hands and feet were disfigured.

"I was advised to try Cuticura Soap and Ointment so purchased some, and in about four weeks she was completely healed." (Signed) Mrs. Mitchell Terry, Mason St., Morrisonville, N. Y., Oct. 1, 1927.

Keep your skin clear by using Cuticura Soap, Ointment and Talcum for daily toilet purposes. Touch pimples and itching, if any, with Cuticura Ointment, bathe with Cuticura Soap and hot water.

TOMORROW'S HOROSCOPE

Friday, March 9

With every rising of the sun think of your life as just begun.—ANON.

VERY lively and interesting conditions, both personal and business, are presaged from the lunar aspects of this day, despite a holding back or obstructing of cherished hopes born of application and earnest effort. New projects may receive a degree of acceleration, but it may be difficult to circumvent all obstacles. New contracts or obligations in writing, publishing or publicity may be considered and all pertaining to art, music or amusements may thrive.

Those whose birthday it is have a lively and eventful year, with some phases of progress and fresh opportunities despite some tenacious obstacles. Postponements rather than defeat may be looked for. Personal affairs will gratify.

A child born on this day should be versatile and clever, leaning toward literature and art. It should be popular and well-liked as well as studious and diligent.

DRINK HOT TEA FOR A BAD COLD

Get a small package of Hamburg Breast Tea at any pharmacy. Take a tablespoonful of this Hamburg tea, put a cup of boiling water upon it, pour through a sieve and drink a teacupful at any time. It is the most effective way to break a cold and relieve grip, as it opens the pores, relieving congestion. Also loosens the bowels, thus breaking a cold at once.

It is inexpensive and entirely vegetable, therefore harmless.

Tell Them How You Lost Fat

This is to people who have lost fat in the modern scientific way. And who have gained new beauty, new health and vitality by it. You are everywhere. Tell others the facts, as someone probably told you.

Some two decades ago, scientific men discovered a cause of excess fat. They learned why some are thin and some are fat, regardless of food and exercise. They found a way to fight that cause by supplying the body some elements required in nutrition.

Then came Marmola prescription tablets embodying that new method. They have now been used for 20 years—millions of boxes of them. You can see the results wherever you look. Slenderness prevails. All ideas of beauty, all styles in dress, are based on slender figures.

Users of Marmola are not forced to abnorma exercise or diet, though moderation helps. They simply take four tablets daily until weight comes down to normal. And new health and vitality comes with that reduction—in an amazing way.

The formula of Marmola comes in every box. Also the reasons for results. Thus you may know just why the good comes, and have no fear of harm.

People who are over-fat should start Marmola now. Order a box before you forget. Learn all the facts about it, then watch results. When you gain your desires, tell your friends how to gain them. Don't wait any longer.

Marmola prescription tablets are sold by all druggists at $1 per box. If your druggist is out, he will get them at once from his jobber.

Clumsiness and discomfort are old-fashioned

FROM what bondage have women escaped! Corsets and crinolines; hoopskirts and hobbles, forty yards to a single gown!

Modess, the new disposable napkin, was perfected because the new freedom in clothes demanded it—because the clumsiness and discomfort of old-fashioned substitutes are out of the question.

You will marvel at the softness of this superior napkin. The great Johnson & Johnson laboratories labored four years to make Modess the finest and most comfortable sanitary napkin ever offered to women. An entirely new substance was invented for the disposable filler or center. It is as soft and fluffy as finest cotton, yet amazingly absorbent. When flushed away it disintegrates instantly.

The soft gauze, specially woven by Johnson & Johnson, is cushioned with a film of down. The sides are smoothly rounded to prevent chafing. Best of all, Modess has a non-absorbent back, assuring protection for dainty dresses.

In addition to giving women all these new qualities in a sanitary napkin Johnson & Johnson have devised a way to purchase Modess without embarrassment. Simply hand the coupon below to the sales person, and receive a box of Modess without discussion.

Fifty cents for a box of twelve.

SIX SUPERIORITIES

1. Gauze specially softened with a film of down.
2. Pliant fluffy filler of amazing absorbency.
3. Rounded sides assuring comfort and no clumsiness.
4. A moisture-resisting back giving positive security.
5. Disposable—flushes away.

BUTLER STRIKE CALLED OFF

BUTLER, Pa., March 8.—Five hundred employes returned to work at the Standard Plate Glass Company today after a one-day strike, victorious in their protest against the discharge of a worker who had been a leader in the strike which ended February 15.

Company officials agreed to reinstate the leader.

FIRE DAMAGES C. OF C. BUILDING AT ALTOONA

ALTOONA, Pa., March 8.—Fire which started in dental rooms in the Chamber of Commerce Building early today resulted in damage estimated at $10,000. Ten office suites were damaged by fire and water.

COMPENSATION BOARD SCORED BY JUSTICE

An appeal from the decision of the Workmen's Compensation Board in refusing to allow Mrs. Augusta C. Steitzinger's claim for the death of her husband through an accident in the Fort Pitt Brewing Company's plant, has resulted in Judge James B. Drew of Common Pleas Court sustaining the board's decision—and at the same time indicating his opinion of its action. Judge Drew in his opinion says: "If this were a jury case the court would grant a new trial without hesitation, in order that right might prevail and justice be done."

This is the second time the case has been appealed. A rehearing at Philadelphia was held as a result of the first decision. The second time, Mrs. Steitzinger was unable to appear because of the expense. The referee had originally awarded Mrs. Steitzinger $3,797, but this award was set aside by the board and the court found itself powerless under the law to overrule the board.

SHOW NEW AIDS FOR BEAUTY

More than 1,000 Pittsburgh matrons and girls visited Miss Dee Griffiths' Beauty School on the second floor of the Empire building yesterday, where the latest Parisian helps to milady's appearance were demonstrated

Miss Griffith has recently returned from an extended visit to Paris and other European beauty and fashion centers, where she studied the latest innovations in beauty culture. One of the most novel innovations is the Realistic permanent wave machine, which cuts in half the time required for permanent waves and, according to numerous "satisfied" patrons last night, marks a distinct improvement in the class of work performed. Miss Griffith now has the agency for the Realistic and demonstrated it yesterday to proprietors of various Pittsburgh beauty parlors.

Besides permanent waves, local patrons of Miss Griffith and new classes in her beauty culture school, saw demonstrations of the most improved methods employed by continental beauty shops in facials, vapor steam facials and Arnao scalp treatment. Miss Griffith is a graduate of Wanamaker Beauty School, New York, and has been here for five years.

THE new Easy is a sure cure for tired arms and aching backs on washday. It washes the clothes gently yet clean—without any need for rubbing. It lifts and empties all the water for you at the turn of a lever. It does away with all wringing and makes less handling of heavy wet clothes necessary. It saves you a lot of sewing and lightens your ironing, because the Easy's new drying tub cannot break buttons or put deep wrinkles in clothes. A handy gas heater keeps the water always hot—no need to heat up extra water.

Does all this sound too good to be true?

Newest Easy Models have a new type of double tub finished in beautiful white Duco—kept clean by the swish of a cloth. The dent proof outer tub encloses the inner tub of solid copper. The heat retaining air space between the double tubs helps keep water hot.

THE PITTSBURGH SUN-TELEGRAPH

Tyrone Power 20 Years Ago Got Mixed With Emil Paur At Breakfast in Pittsburgh

By GEORGE SEIBEL.

ALMOST twenty years have passed since Tyrone Power was in Pittsburgh last. He was playing the Drainman in "The Servant in the House," Charles Rann Kennedy's play in which Walter Hampden made his reputation. Many people thought Power's portrayal of the rough workman was the best acting in the whole performance. That has usually been Power's fate. When he played Judas with Mrs. Fiske in Heyse's "Mary of Magdala," he carried off the honors. By all the logic of the theater—which is a most illogical place—Power ought to be close to the top among American actors. He is—but the too astute managers do not know it.

An amusing incident happened at the Hotel Schenley the last time Power was in town. It will serve to illustrate Power's theatrical fortunes.

We were to have breakfast together one morning. It had been arranged that we should meet in the lobby.

"Has Mr. Power come down?" I asked the hotel clerk.

"He went into the dining-room about five minutes ago," said the clerk.

Hurrying into the dining-room, I saw Herr Emil Paur, conductor of the Pittsburgh Symphony Orchestra, seated at a table in solitary majesty.

Returning to the lobby, much amused, I met Tyrone Power, who had just come down from his room, and told him of the mix-up in identities—Paur and Power, both pronounced alike.

"Emil Paur," he said. "He's a great musician—I've heard him with his orchestra. I've wanted to meet him."

So we went in, and I introduced him to Herr Paur with an obvious and irresistible pun about the power of music and the power of drama.

"I've wanted to meet you," said Herr Paur. "I saw you play the Drainman the other night."

The next hour was devoted to ham and eggs, Goethe and Beethoven, coffee and Corot. Emil Paur was a great disciple of Goethe, and Tyrone Power thinks himself a great landscape painter.

The anecdote is amusing—but it also is an illustration of Power's uncanny faculty for getting his identity mixed, and having somebody else walk off with his laurels. He was Lord Steyne when Mrs. Fiske played "Becky Sharp." He was "Ulysses" in Stephen Phillips' great blank verse tragedy. He was "Ingomar" when Julia Marlowe appeared as Parthenia. He was Arkessis in Belasco's "Adrea." He has been so close to the supreme summit of fame that only his supreme carelessness about that bauble can explain why he doesn't wear the mantle of Edwin Booth and Edwin Forrest.

Tyrone Power is Irish—perhaps that explains it.

His grandfather, Tyrone Power, was the famous stage Irishman of Covent Garden and Drury Lane. He won the admiration of Tom Moore, he dined with Sir Walter Scott, he made several American tours and bought land in Texas. He went down with the steamer President, wrecked in a storm in 1841. Next Wednesday is the anniversary of that sea tragedy.

Harold Power, father of our Tyrone Power, was also an actor, and the friend of two popular English novelists, Edmund Yates and Anthony Trollope. Young Tyrone was sent to Florida at the age of 17 to learn orange culture. His first theatrical experience was in a dime museum, where he says he "shared honors with the bearded lady and the ossified man." His first real theatrical engagement was with Madame Janauschek, playing Dominie Sampson to her Meg Merrilies.

He has only a minor part in the all-star revival of "Diplomacy" in the Nixon this week. Few people in the audience realize that the hotel keeper who has a few bits in the first act is probably our greatest American tragedian. What a Macbeth he would make—what an Othello!

This Nurse Just Couldn't Stop Coughing

Specialists Didn't Help

For slight, ordinary coughs, almost any sweet cough syrup will do, but if you have one of those tough, old-timers, that hang on and die hard and that won't yield to common remedies and often keeps you awake at night then your one best bet is Bronchuline Emulsion.

Often a dozen doses forces the most stubborn cough to yield and loosen up and you are better almost before you know it.

There is no sugar, chloroform or dope in Bronchuline Emulsion, it's a wonderful medicine for people who are getting over a heavy, obstinate cold or an attack of Flu.

A New York nurse coughed for weeks—just couldn't stop coughing even after consulting specialists—yet one-half bottle of Bronchuline Emulsion did stop it—completely.

May Drug Company has a big demand for this REAL cough medicine and so do dealers everywhere.

Give that Gas just two minutes!

How old is your stomach? Do grumblings and rumblings and belches after hearty meals tell its age? End such distress—every pang of indigestion—in two minutes! Then give Stuart tablets the famous Monday-to-Sunday test, for lasting benefits from this happy combination of magnesia, calcium carbonate and other soothing things.

Wherever you find a drugstore, you'll find Stuart's. The handy metal box for purse or pocket (enough for the one-week test) is a quarter. The large size for 60 cents, and the family size, $1.20. A sweet stomach for twenty-five cents.

GAS IN THE STOMACH IS DANGEROUS

Recommends Daily Use of Magnesia to Overcome Trouble Caused by Acid Indigestion

Gas in the stomach accompanied by a full, bloated feeling after eating are almost certain evidence of the presence of excessive hydrochloric acid in the stomach creating so-called "acid indigestion."

Acid stomachs are dangerous because too much acid irritates the delicate lining of the stomach, often leading to gastritis accompanied by serious stomach ulcers. Food ferments and sours, creating the distressing gas which distends the stomach and hampers the normal functions of the vital internal organs, often affecting the heart.

It is the worst of folly to neglect such a serious condition or to treat with ordinary digestive aids which have no neutralizing effect on the stomach acids. Instead get from May Drug Co., or any druggist, a few ounces of Bisurated Magnesia and take a teaspoonful or four tablets in a quarter glass of water right after eating. This will drive the gas, wind and bloat right out of the body, sweeten the stomach, neutralize the excess acid and prevent its formation and there is no sourness or pain. Bisurated Magnesia (in powder or tablet form—never in liquid or milk) is harmless to the stomach, inexpensive to take and the best form of magnesia for stomach purposes. It is used by thousands of people who enjoy their meals with no more fear of indigestion.

FAMOUS MEDICINE ENDS SUFFERING

Man Claims Sufferers Will Never Forget the Benefits Ten Herbs Gives.

"Although I had suffered with stomach trouble the past four years, and had sought relief by taking almost every kind of medicine, I got very little help, until I used Ten Herbs, which made me feel like a different person," was the statement of Mr. C. P. Boyd, 66 Jefferson

MR. C. P. BOYD

Street, Washington, Pa., to the Ten Herbs Man, who is at May's Main Store, 529 Liberty Avenue, Pittsburgh, where he is daily demonstrating this great natural medicine.

"After eating, gas would form, and I would belch a great deal," continued Mr. Boyd, who is well known, having been employed in the retail meat business for 16 years. "If I went upstairs, or would walk any distance uphill, my heart would flutter, and I would be compelled to stop and rest—sometimes I could go no farther. I was so restless at night that I could not sleep well, and, of course, that, too, kept me from feeling good the next day. Constipation followed, and I was getting in such a bad condition that I could hardly work.

"I read about Ten Herbs in the local paper, and thought it might be just what I needed, as it seemed to fit my case. I purchased a bottle, and that surely was the best thing that I ever did to get relief. I never had anything to make me feel so different. My stomach trouble is gone, and I can eat anything without having distress afterwards. My bowels are regular, and I sleep like I used to. I believe that if anyone who has stomach or bowel trouble will use Ten Herbs they will never forget the benefits they will receive. I surely can recommend your medicine very highly."

Benefit by the experience of other local people. Let this new herbal compound tone up your stomach, liver and kidneys. It will regulate your bowels, and have a cleansing, soothing, correcting effect on your entire system, making you feel better in every way.

The Ten Herbs Man is at May's Main Store, 529 Liberty Avenue, Pittsburgh, where he is daily meeting the public and explaining the merits of this medicine. Free sample given.

TOSCANI PROGRAMS TO BE TALK SUBJECT

The major numbers on the two programs to be given by Toscanini and the New York Philharmonic Orchestra in Syria Mosque this week will be analyzed in an informal talk tonight in the Pittsburgh Musical Institute by Charles N. Boyd, with illustrations on two pianos by Dallmeyer Russell and William H. Oetting. This event is free to the public. The symphony for Friday night is the Beethoven "Pastorale" No 6, and for Saturday afternoon, Haydn's Symphony in G major, No. 13. This will be Toscanini's first visit to Pittsburgh in seven years.

TUNES AND FUN IN BILLS

Elizabeth Murray, player of character comedy roles and singer of coon songs, is coming to the Nixon in Ray Dooley's company in "Sidewalks of New York," beginning Monday night. Seats are on sale today.

Raymond Hitchcock is one of the principal comedians in Joseph Santley's musical comedy production, "Just Fancy," which comes to the Alvin Theater for one week, beginning Monday, March 12. The sale of seats is on today.

"The Optimists" is the attraction booked for the Pitt next week, to be presented by a company of English players. It is announced as a London production which had a successful run in the Knickerbocker, New York. The seat sale begins today.

Nick Lucas, "The Crooning Troubadour," will be the headline feature in the Keith-Albee vaudeville program in the Davis Theater next week. On the screen will be "Peaks of Destiny."

"Dixieland," a musical hand revue, and Douglas Fairbanks, in his latest vehicle, "The Gaucho," are to be the main attractions in the Penn next week. Don Albert and the Penn Stage Orchestra will play a prominent part in the show.

Sophie Tucker, songstress and comedienne, comes next Monday to begin a week's engagement in the Stanley. Miss Tucker will introduce her own exclusive repertoire. On the screen will be Emil Jannings in "The Last Command."

"The Tigress" will be Loew's Aldine feature picture next week. Jack Holt and Dorothy Revier have the leading parts. The stage feature will be the London Palace Girls in dances.

"Dimpled Darlings" will be the attraction in the Academy next week. Among burlesquers in the cast are Nora Ford and George Leon.

Princess Wah-Let-Ka, Indian mind reader, will be the feature attraction in the vaudeville in the Harris next week. On the screen will be Tom Mix in "Daredevil's Reward."

Fay Wray plays the feminine lead in "The Legion of the Condemned," the screen attraction in the Grand next week.

"The Pioneer Scout," starring Fred Thomson, will be the attraction in the Olympia next week. It is a Western story of the period about 1850.

Hardeen, brother of the late Houdini, is to be a feature in the Sheridan Square next week. Screen presentations will be Jack Holt and Dorothy Revier in "The Tigress" and Fred Thomson in "The Pioneer Scout."

CAPTAIN BROWN BURIED

Funeral services were held today in the Sewickley Presbyterian Church for Capt. Charles W. Brown, president of the Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company, who died Tuesday in his home in Sewickley. The body will be shipped late today to Newburyport, Mass., for interment. Dr. A. J. Bonsall, pastor emeritus of the Sandusky Street Baptist Church, North Side, conducted the services, officiating with the Rev. Owen D. Odell, pastor.

Capt. Brown, who was prominent in Pittsburgh's business world, was commander a clipper ship for 20 years before entering the glass business.

The honorary pallbearers were W. L. Clause, Robert Wardrop, Alexander Laughlin, Samuel G. Cooper, H. B. Wheeler, H. K. Hitchcock, H. L. Graves, Dr. DeWitt B. Nettleton, Edward Pitcairn, Walter Schleiter, John C. Slack, Frank E. Richardson, Clarence M. Brown, Raymond Pitcairn, C. S. Lamb, H. A. Galt, R. B. Mellon, H. S. Wherrett, F. R. Drave, J. M. Belleville, Judge C. B. Heiserman, Ludington Patton, S. S. Lindsay, George DeCamp, F. J. Chesterman, C. J. Gundlach, Dr. J. West Mitchell, John J. Koch, James L. Stuart, J. H. Fox and W. L. Munro.

The active pallbearers were H. B. Higgins, R. L. Clause, Gifford K. Wright, W. A. Gordon, W. A. Campbell, Sidney G. DeKay, R. W. Gibbs, Frank W. Jarvis and J. H. Heroy.

in the schools, only portraits of George Washington, and Mustapha Kemal.

It would be interesting to know what the Father of this country thinks about the new Father of Turkey.

SECRETARY OF LABOR DAVIS says that a survey shows "an improvement in the country's business conditions," and "an upward trend to employment." That is encouraging, but not definite.

The business of government, and of powerful men that make up our government, is to provide work for men willing to work, and with decent pay.

PLENTY of work needs doing, and there is plenty of money to pay for it.

There is no reason why men need be idle, and those in power should realize the truth of Senator Wagner's saying that "involuntary idleness is as inexcusable as involuntary slavery."

A NEW, violent outbreak of influenza worries Japan; 500,000 are ill, thousands have died. The Emperor, himself a victim of the disease, worries about the serious condition of his baby daughter.

Nature seems especially savage in her treatment of the courageous Japanese nation, floods, earthquakes, fires and now a violent plague.

SOME will say, foolishly, "if you fight one disease, smallpox for instance, and conquer it, other diseases just as bad will come. Providence wants people to suffer; it does them good."

Providence wants nothing of the kind, but wants human beings to have common sense and take care of themselves. The worst epidemics of today are as nothing compared with plagues of other years, such as the "black death" which came out of Asia and killed nearly half the people in Europe in a short time.

THE only orang-utang born in captivity is dead in Berlin, 1 month old. Doctors found the baby's ribs broken, its lungs crushed. The orang-utang mother, born in captivity, bounced the baby up and down on the floor to amuse herself.

That baby orang-utang could sympathize with some "society babies" whose mothers, in a sort of financial captivity behind nicely gilded bars, don't know how to take care of babies and can't even nurse them. This does not refer to many good women PHYSICALLY unable to nurse a baby.

HOTEL NEAR DUNLO DESTROYED BY FIRE

JOHNSTOWN, Pa., March 8.—Fire, believed to have started from an overheated furnace, destroyed the Llanfair Hotel, near Dunlo, with the loss estimated at $10,000. The building was owned by Mrs. Jack Lang.

At work or play—no matter who or where we are, every one of us, may offend unknowingly

BODY ODOR...a problem all of us must face

BODY odor! The very mention of it repels!

Yet isn't that all the more reason why we should face this serious matter frankly—to make sure we are never guilty of this unpardonable offense?

Do you realize, for example, that not one of us is safe from body odor? We must perspire constantly, or we'd die. And the cooler the weather, the more danger of body odor—because then we stay indoors more, in warm, stuffy rooms, in crowded cars and theatres.

Body odor rarely warns the offender

Even on coolest days, our millions of pores continually give off invisible perspiration—often as much as a quart of waste every 24 hours.

This body moisture, whether visible or invisible, is always odorous. And no wealth or position can bring immunity from it. Heiress or society leader may at times offend as seriously as newsboy or conductor—unless they take precautions.

Body odor more noticeable at this time of the year—due to stuffy rooms—closed windows.

Pores give off as much as a quart of waste a day—even in coolest weather.

Now, a purifying toilet soap. Its bland antiseptic lather keeps you safe from body odor.

And we musn't think we're safe just because we aren't conscious of offending.

For, once an odor becomes familiar to us, our own sense of smell becomes deadened to it—though it remains perfectly apparent to others. You've probably noticed that even fastidious people often offend . . . without realizing it.

Easy to end body odor

Yet there is a simple way to be certain we're always safe from body odor. Just wash and bathe often with the delightful toilet soap that millions enjoy—Lifebuoy—it deodorizes.

The same bland and abundant antiseptic lather that helps protect health by removing germs—prevents body odor by purifying pores.

To millions of enthusiastic users Lifebuoy also means a clear, fresh skin. They find it a joy to use Lifebuoy for every toilet purpose.

What a clean scent!

You will learn to love Lifebuoy's pleasant clean scent, which tells you Lifebuoy purifies, yet which quickly evaporates after rinsing.

Use Lifebuoy a week and you'll use it for life. Get some today.

PATRICIA PITT'S SPRIGHTLY COMMENT ON PITTSBURGH SOCIETY HAPPENINGS

March Blasts Prompt Stay-at-Homes to Envy Friends Basking in Zephyrs of Southland

PERHAPS you are tired of reading about Palm Beach and the good times our society folks are having down there—or does it just make you wish, as it does me, that you were there, too? March is really giving us our first taste of real winter, so the tales of Florida and its tropical sun are more tempting now than they were earlier in the season when the weather was almost springlike in its warmth.

It is nearly time for most of these sojourners in the South to be thinking about coming home again, but any preparations for the trip that may be going on are certainly not interfering much in the round of dinners and dances. Just today we heard of a dinner which was given Tuesday night by two well-known Pittsburghers. The James Francis Burkes, I understand, entertained about 50 of their friends in the Everglades Club. The Burkes, you know, are spending the season at the Breakers.

Mrs. William Blackstock Rodgers, of Woodland road, is in New York, I hear, expecting to stay there until some time next week. She is stopping at the Barclay. Mrs. Rodgers' son, Bennett Rodgers, was married to Mrs. Penelope Hoopes Fitler, daughter of Mrs. William Hoopes, of the Ruskin apartments, last week, you remember.

Georgia is proving more and more attractive to some of our local people, and there is quite a colony of them, particularly Sewickleyans, in Augusta.

One local girl is, however, visiting one of her friends in Savannah. She is Mary Flood, of Forbes street, and she is the guest of Ellen Postell at her home there. Perhaps you remember that Ellen visited at the Flood home during the winter.

Another April date has been added to the list, Anne Simpson, daughter of the J. H. Simpsons, of Wallingford street, having chosen the 14th of that month for her marriage to George M. Rowland, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. George M. Rowland, of Kihsman road. The ceremony, I understand, is to be performed at 5:30 o'clock in the afternoon, in Calvary Episcopal Church. The rector, the Rev. Dr. Edwin J. Van Etten, is to officiate.

The faculty of the Pennsylvania College for Women held a tea and kitchen shower Tuesday afternoon at the college in honor of Miss Elizabeth Stevenson, whose engagement to Brice McQuiston has been announced. The hostesses were Miss Mary Jewell, Miss Lois Hartman, Miss Mary Stuart and Miss Alice Goodel.

Miss Katheryn Watkins, of the junior class, will lead the annual prom of the Pennsylvania College for Women, to be held tomorrow night in the Hotel Schenley. Preceding the prom, the faculty and student body will hold a reception, with President Cora Helen Coolidge, Dean Helen Marks, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Brown, Miss Mary Crawford and Miss Watkins in the receiving line. The committee in charge includes Miss Watkins, chairman; Miss Helen Parkins, Miss Leone Stitzinger, Miss Margaret Loeffler and Miss Lois McKibben.

Mrs. Walter S. Church, who is general chairman for the Wellesley College Club's benefit performance of "The Mikado," to be held March 19 in the Alvin Theater, has just recently been elected president of the National Alumnae of Wellesley. Proceeds from this benefit will be added to Pittsburgh's quota of $5,000,000 building fund of the national organization, and if, as is expected, the amount raised will be more than is required, the balance will be applied to scholarship funds for Pittsburgh girls.

Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Forde, of the Cathedral Mansions, have announced the engagement of their daughter, Miss Elsa Lorraine Spiro, to Irving Baum, of New York, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Baum, of Washington, D. C.

Miss Helen Pomeroene Carson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lincoln C. Carson, of Carnegie place, has chosen April 7 as the date for her marriage to Joseph H. McClintock, Jr., of Pittsburgh, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph H. McClintock, of Columbus, O. Miss Dorothy Newell, of Marlboro road, will be bridesmaid, and William Tamplin Pomroy, of East Liverpool, O., best man.

Miss Lavina May Eckert, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. J. Eckert, of Kendall avenue, Bellevue, has chosen Wednesday, March 21, as the date for her marriage to James G. Campbell, of Wilmington, Del., son of Mr. and Mrs. James H. Campbell, of Harrisburg. The ceremony will be performed at 6:30 o'clock in the Eckert home, with only the families and a few close friends in attendance. Mrs. Lawrence Reed Nelson, of Altoona, will be matron of honor and Beverly Ann Biers, small niece of the bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Biers, of Bellevue, will be flower girl. Robert Naegely, of Philadelphia, is to be best man and the wedding music will be played by Miss Henrietta O. Eckert, sister of the bride.

Lady Beaver Lodge No. 161, Fraternal Order of Beavers, will hold a euchre party tonight in the Tonat Building, Collins avenue.

The Pittsburgh Girls' Club will hold a Leap Year dance in the Congress Clubhouse tomorrow night with Miss M. Betty Gardner as chairman. Miss Cecelia Blazek is chairman for the St. Patrick's day card party to be held March 17 in McCreery's.

FORTNIGHTLY REVIEW PREPARES FOR SPRING

Even though the winds are whirling snow flakes into one's very eyes these cold March days, the Fortnightly Review of Mt. Lebanon is getting ready for spring, and spring to them is synonymous with gardening. At the next meeting of the organization, to be held on March 21 in the home of Mrs. H. B. Long, members will discuss ways of obtaining the best results in the raising of flowers.

At the meeting of the Review yesterday afternoon in the home of Mrs. J. S. Huey, of Vernon drive, with Mrs. R. T. Hood as assistant hostess, Mrs. J. Charles Wilson gave readings, and Miss Alta Shultz sang.

A program was presented by members of the Southern Club at the reciprocity meeting of the Mothers' Club of Carrick yesterday afternoon in the clubhouse. Mrs. William O'Lee and Mrs. J. C. Lockhart sang and Mrs. Fitzhugh Lee, Mrs. Walter Close and Mrs. Byron Wade gave a dramatic sketch. Presiding at the meeting was Mrs. A. B. Lynn, president of the Southern Club, and also a member of the Mothers' Club. Acting as chairman of hostesses was Mrs. James P. Taylor.

Informal talks on Switzerland and a discussion of current events featured the meeting of the Wednesday Literary Club of the North Side, held yesterday afternoon in the Congress Clubhouse. A tea followed the meeting, with Mrs. Albert Barnes Smith as hostess.

Mrs. Elizabeth B. Metz, organizer for the Allegheny League of Women Voters, will conduct a school of politics for women in the headquarters of the league, Peoples Savings Bank Building, beginning tomorrow morning and continuing until April 20 on each Friday.

The Pittsburgh Muskingum Alumni Association will hold its annual dinner tomorrow night in the Roosevelt Hotel. Dr. J. Knox Montgomery, president of the college, will be present and the speaker is to be Dr. David P. McQuarrie, who will represent Franklin College. There will be representatives present from the student body, and the basketball team is expected to attend.

The school of politics sponsored by the Allegheny County Council of Republican Women will give the third in its series of morning lectures tomorrow in the Congress Clubhouse. United States District Attorney John D. Meyer will speak on "The Presidential Year." The committee in charge of the school includes Mrs. May T. Neff, Mrs. Margaret Stewart Gray, Mrs. Irwin L. Gillespie and Miss Lola Walker. Mrs. C. A. Verner is chairman of the council. All Republican women are invited to attend.

Open guest day was observed by the Women's Club of the Carnegie Institute of Technology yesterday, and in addition to the guests of individual members, the Women's Club of Oakland was entertained. Students of the department of drama gave two short plays, "Checkmate," by Maxine Finsterwald, and "Square Pegs," by Clifford Bax, in the school theater. Tea in the Faculty Club followed. The following nominating committee was appointed: Mrs. William H. Michener, Mrs. Charles W. Larkin, Mrs. Richard P. Johnson, Mrs. E. K. Collins, Mrs. Harold L. Lang, Mrs. Raymond Simboli and Mrs. Arthur C. Jewett.

At the monthly meeting of the Alumna Association of St. Xavier's Academy to be held Tuesday afternoon in the Knights of Columbus clubhouse, Fifth and Bellefield avenues, plans will be completed for the annual benefit bridge tea to be held April 9 in the Hotel Schenley.

The Perry Mother's Club will hold its meeting next Wednesday afternoon in the Perry High School, North Side. Dr. C. D. Green, of the North Side, will discuss "Heredity and Environment," and a round table discussion will follow.

Dr. Edward E. Mayer, director of the Pittsburgh Mental Health Clinic, will speak on "A Neurologist's Attitude Toward Society" at the meeting of the College Club tomorrow afternoon. Mrs. Charles O. Smith is chairman of hostesses, assisted by Mrs. John A. Blair and Mrs. W. A. Zahn, who will pour tea; Mrs. Robert W. Schmertz, Mrs. A. L. Pitassi, Mrs. Raymond Evans and Mrs. Herbert W. Graham.

The Women's Club of the Bradford Woods Community Church will hold its monthly meeting tomorrow night in the home of Mrs. F. D. Cumming. Mrs. Julia Van Kirk will speak on the "Gospel of Laughter." An all day sewing is scheduled for March 22 in the home of Mrs. Robert Irvine, with Mrs. S. V. Gerwig assisting.

About 50 women attended the luncheon given yesterday by the Business and Professional Women's Club in the crystal room of the William Penn Hotel. Miss Gertrude Gordon brought Gilda Gray, who is appearing this week in a local theater, as guest of honor, and Miss Gray gave a short talk.

The home economics committee, of which Mrs. George W. Klein is chairman, will be in charge of the program for the open meeting of the Lee Community Club Monday night in the Lee School. A demonstration of a new type of refrigerator will be given. A short business session will precede the program.

Mrs. Ambrose N. Diehl will discuss her impressions of South America at an open meeting of the San Antonio Club to be held March 16 in the Congress Clubhouse.

The Turtle Creek Woman's Club will meet tomorrow afternoon in the Y. W. C. A. Mrs. Anna McCracken, of the Carnegie Institute, will speak on "Pittsburgh as an Art Center." Tea will follow the lecture.

The home economics department of the Crescent Hills Woman's Club of the Westinghouse Plan of Forest Hills will be in charge of the program to be presented tonight in the Community House. Acting as hostesses will be Mrs. S. M. Dougherty, Mrs. E. H. Dean, Mrs. A. L. Brown, Mrs. A. R. Graham, Mrs. F. P. Gooch and Mrs. J. H. Grunagle.

The March luncheon of the Pittsburgh Monnett Club will be held Saturday in the Congress Clubhouse with Mrs. T. G. Hicks, Mrs. H. N. Cameron and Mrs. C. W. Campbell as hostesses. All women who attended Ohio Wesleyan University are invited to attend.

The Ladies' Community Organization of Ingomar is to meet Tuesday in the home of Mrs. Arch D. Johnson in Franklin road. Luncheon will be served at 1 o'clock.

One of America's leading motion picture directors EDWIN CAREWE, reveals how women can always look their best

EDWIN CAREWE, famous United Artists Producer Director, who has been responsible for some of the most monumental dramatic successes of the screen, including "Resurrection," "Ramona," with Dolores Del Rio, and many other notable productions.

THE effectiveness of face powder depends very largely upon its shade rather than its color.

As a result of a study of hundreds of women seeking screen careers and coming to him made up for the street and not for the screen, Mr. Carewe has come to the conclusion that the use of Houbigant face powders, because of the marvelous Houbigant shades, will make any woman more attractive, since as, he says:

"The Houbigant shades of the various colors in which face powders are made seem to have a virtue exclusive to themselves—and that is the property of endowing the skin with a natural beauty—a sort of lustre that is free from the appearance of being made up and yet, while concealing what should be hidden, brings out and increases all the natural charm."

Houbigant face powder is incomparably soft and adherent. It comes in 6 shades all delightfully fragranced with the smart Houbigant odeurs. At $1.50 and 75c the box. For purse use in the new double compact, $2.50. And incidentally, Quelques Fleurs Skin Lotion is quite the most perfect powder base. 4 oz.—$1.

HOUBIGANT face powder in the new size 75¢

Houbigant face powders may be had in the following shades: Naturelle, Ocre, Rachel, Rose, Ocre Rose, and Blanche, and in all the most famous of Houbigant fragrances.

Careless Washing Spoils the Hair

If you want beautiful hair, ordinary old-time methods of washing will not do. To bring out the real beauty, the hair must be shampooed properly.

Proper shampooing is what makes it soft and silky. It brings out all the real life and lustre, all the natural wave and color, and leaves it fresh looking, glossy and bright.

While your hair must have frequent and regular washing to keep it beautiful, it cannot stand the harsh effect of ordinary soaps. The free alkali in ordinary soaps soon dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle and ruins it.

That is why discriminating women, everywhere, now use Mulsified Cocoanut Oil Shampoo. This clear, pure and entirely greaseless product brings out all the real beauty of the hair and cannot possibly injure.

Two or three teaspoonfuls of Mulsified is all that is required. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather which cleanses thoroughly and rinses out easily, removing every particle of dust, dirt and dandruff.

It leaves the hair soft, silky and easy to manage and makes it fairly sparkle with new life, gloss and lustre.

You can get Mulsified Cocoanut Oil Shampoo at any drug store. A four-ounce bottle lasts for months.

TOWNSEND SUES ESTATE FOR DEBTS

Edward Townsend, superintendent of city property, as administrator of the estate of his father, Henry Townsend, entered suit against Benjamin Meyer, Michael Ress and Meyer, executors of the estate of A. L. Meyer, deceased, for $37,550, on a note given by Meyer to the elder Townsend July 6, 1925.

In another suit, Edward Townsend in his own right is suing the same executors for two one-day notes given by Meyer to Edward Townsend under dates of February 11, 1927, and February 16, 1927, for $7,992.15, and $2,500 respectively. Townsend alleges that the large note was made July 6, 1925, for 60 days and alleges that payment has been refused.

Meyer, who formerly lived in Squirrel Hill, died March 7, 1927, leaving a will which placed the estimated value of his estate at $50,000 in personal property and $1,000 in real estate. An inventory of his estate filed later shows among the assets a note of Henry Townsend, deceased, to the amount of $26,978.

Henry Townsend died January 15, 1927. After a term as city wharf master, he was appointed superintendent of city property, and held his position through three administrations. He was in that position when he died.

ADVERTISE IN THE SUN-TELEGRAPH

CALL MINERS TO FIGHT 'GAG'

Calling upon all union and non-union miners in the Pennsylvania-Ohio district to unite in mass picketing and mass violation of injunctions in a strenuous campaign to end the coal strike, Pat Toohey, John Brophy and Powers Hapgood have issued an announcement in the name of the "Save the Union Committee" for a national conference of miners to be held in Pittsburgh April 1.

Headquarters of the committee has been established in room 405, at 526 Federal street, and delegates to the proposed meeting already are being enrolled.

AWARDED $8,625 FOR LAND SEIZED BY CITY

A verdict of $8,625 against the City of Pittsburgh was awarded the owners of an acre of land on the east side of West Liberty avenue, near the Liberty Tunnel, condemned by the city for park purposes, by a jury in Common Pleas Court today. The owners are Arnold F., Arthur G., Albert W., Norman C. and Robert F. Miller, brothers, and J. M. McClaren.

53-DAY TRANCE DEFIES

EXPERT CALLED IN

When the girl, who was a student at the Lake Erie College here, was struck by the bus, her skull was fractured, and Dr. Claude Beck, of Cleveland, one of the country's leading surgeons, was called into the case. He successfully removed a piece of bone that had been pressing down on the brain. The girl failed to revive, however.

"Her brain cells are scattered," Dr. Marsh said. "The shock of the blow shattered and separated the multitude of tiny connections that make up the brain cells. The entire surface of the brain was injured. It is just as if the wires in a complicated switchboard had been suddenly ripped apart. It is a question as to how soon, if ever, the damage can be repaired."

Dr. Marsh calls on Miss Buchanan twice each day, in the morning and at night. She is fed each time he calls. She will not swallow any food, so it has to be injected into her stomach by means of a tube. Liquid foods, consisting mostly of broths, milk and dextros, have been injected. The digestive organs have functioned properly. Her body functions on normally, although she lies unconscious and inert. Her weight is about 120 pounds and she has lost only a few pounds since the accident occurred. All the injuries resulting from the accident have healed with the exception of the damage to the brain.

"Her pulse and temperature are practically normal," Dr. Marsh said. "The brain has no control over the action of the heart."

M. G. Goddard, superintendent of the hospital, also intensely interested in the case, said it has been proved in experiments with pigeons that the brain can be taken away and that the bird will continue to live. He declared that functions of breathing and the beating of the heart go on as usual.

Dr. Marsh said the unusual case of Miss Buschmann shows how long the body can carry on without the control of the mind. The body is not paralyzed. The girl occasionally moves her head slightly and her feet occasionally. Now and then she turns her head. Her eyes frequently look directly at the doctor, but show no sign of recognition. The action of the eyes is not voluntary. She yawns naturally at times. She never speaks. However, she does make an occasional noise with her mouth, demonstrating that the vocal chords are not paralyzed.

PNEUMONIA DANGER

The greatest danger she now faces is pneumonia rather than insufficient food. She requires only 1,100 calories a day, as she is getting no exercise and is in good physical condition.

"This remarkable case has brought up the moral problem of whether or not it would be right to keep her alive," said Dr. Marsh, "but it is inconceivable that anything would be done other than what we are doing—keeping her alive and hoping for a favorable turn and readjustment of her scrambled brain."

In the opinion of Dr. Beck, the patient may remain in her present condition for months. If the brain cells regain contact, use of the limbs may follow, he said. The patient is massaged daily to keep the blood in good circulation and the limbs are exercised by raising and lowering. Through all the treatment, the pretty girl student shows no signs that she is aware of what is transpiring. A fluttered eyelid or a soft moan is the only indication that life exists.

The heart-broken mother, watching over her daughter, clings to every vestige of hope. Every slight movement of the body of her unconscious child brings a gleam of hope to the eyes of the mother. For pure pathos the case is almost without parallel.

BOY SLAYER OF MOTHER GIVEN LIFE TERM

Why We Behave Like Human Beings

by George A. Dorsey, Ph.D., LL.D.

Duration of Life Is an Inherited Character

Children of the Aged Grow Old; Lazy People Live Longest; The Pace Kills

Readers of The Sun-Telegraph learned yesterday from Dr. Dorsey that death acts in an orderly way; it doesn't strike at random. And about the several "lines of defense" that nature has provided for our protection against disease germs. A comparison of mortality factors was enlightening.

Universality of Tuberculosis

CHAPTER XXVI.

MEDICAL authorities believe they could add 13 years to life if given full control in cases where death could reasonably be prevented. A better life insurance is to pick parents who will live to be eighty; they will give you a 20-year better hope of longevity than parents who will die under sixty. They are the best life insurance.

GEORGE A. DORSEY

Why not? Each group of animals has its normal span of life. Also man. Human beings vary; most of their specific characters are inherited. Longevity is a specific character, longevity also is inherited.

Those who live to great age as a rule are children of parents who lived to great age. If one cannot choose both parents who will live to old age, it is better to choose a long-lived father than a long-lived mother. Four per cent more children lived to be 80 where the father, but not the mother, lived to be 80, than where the opposite condition prevailed.

Karl Pearson concluded from a study of the life span of brothers that environment is not the important factor in longevity; also, that from one-half to three-fourths of deaths are predetermined at birth by inheritance factors. This conclusion has never been advertised by health resorts or elixir manufacturers.

Deaths Predetermined

Death rates and life spans are but two phases of the problem of longevity. If environment—including health resorts, elixirs, poverty, and bacteria—is not the factor in death rates, it cannot be the factor in the life span.

From one-half to three-fourths of the death rate is selection; death comes when one has used up one's inherited capacity for life. Adults of sound body are more likely to leave offspring than those of weak; their children are more likely to survive. Weaklings may survive to maturity; their children are less likely to survive.

Hence the high infant death rate in the first two years; the unfit are weeded out. Natural selection is still at work; it has always been at work. This rate is especially high among children of unsound parents. Hygiene and prevention lower the rate during these two dangerous years—prolonging lives to succumb at a later but early stage.

A banana fly of 90 days is as old as a man of 90 years. Twenty-four hours after emerging from the pupa stage, the female fly lays eggs. These in one day become larvae, pupae three days later, adults five days later; 10 days to a generation. Pearl tested the life-span inheritance theory on these flies. More females than males survived—as in man. The only fly that lived to be 81 days old was a female. Long-lived parents bred offspring that lived long. Pearson was right: duration of life is an inherited character.

Tuberculosis Universal

How about germs of diphtheria, tuberculosis, etc.? Loeb tested this on flies, with the surprising result that those kept free from bacteria were possibly shorter-lived than germ-laden flies, certainly no longer. The experiments indicated "that higher organisms must die from internal causes even if all chances of infection and all accidents are excluded."

We are never without bacteria; we could not live without them; there is no habitable spot on earth free of them. Of humans who have reached the thirty-fifth year, 95 per cent have been infected at one time or another with the bacillus of tuberculosis; in less than one in ten does it become active.

Death rates in the poverty lanes of Paris and London do not tally. In Paris the excess death rate in the poorest as against the richest quarter is 104 per cent; in London, only 20. The lowest death rate in London is not in the richest quarter. The real influence of poverty on death rates could only be determined by transposing the inhabitants of the two groups and comparing rates. The "poor" of Paris and London are not necessarily biologically poor.

Laziness for Longevity

It is the pace that kills. "General Sherman," the giant redwood, was killed at the age of 2,171 years. He was a seedling in 271 B. C. He never knew what hurry meant. Nor did the tortoise that lived 350 years. The faster we live, the sooner we live life up. Rate of living is a factor in longevity. Slonaker tested this on rats. He put four in squirrel cages and let them race. The average life span of the marathoners was 29.5 months; one lived 34 months and ran 5,477 miles. Three other rats were reared in squirrel cages, but were not permitted to race; their average span was 48.3 months.

Loeb tried flies. Cold makes flies sluggish; those at cold temperature lived longer than those at high. At 86 degrees, his flies lived 21 days; at 68 degrees, 54 days; at 60 degrees, 124 days. From which he inferred that if we could keep our blood temperature at about 45 degrees, we might hope to live about 1,000 years. But life would be at a low level!

Longevity Increasing

Unfortunately, our early ancestors left no trustworthy vital statistics. But from trustworthy inferential data there is reason to believe, as we might expect on purely biological grounds, that longevity is on the increase. At least, life expectancy has improved during the last 2,000 years. Of 100 Romans born in Egypt in the days of the Empire, only nine could expect to live 68 years. Of 100 English alive at 10, 39 live to be 68.

Women especially had less expectancy of life in Roman days than now—they were in luck to be alive at 25. But a Roman of 75 years was a better risk than an American of the same age; a Roman had to be very hardy to live beyond 70.

In America, many weaklings are carried up to 60; beyond that age their expectancy rapidly diminishes.

From which we conclude that modern environment is better for man, or that man is fitter for modern environment.

FINAL FORENSIC CONTEST TOMORROW NIGHT

Women of the University of Pittsburgh who are members of the varsity debating team, will hold their final contest in Carnegie Hall tomorrow night when they meet Penn State's co-ed forensic squad in the question, "Resolved, That Woman Suffrage Has Proved a Practical Benefit." The Pitt debaters are Theresa Matz, Margaret Stewart, Elizabeth Smith and Alice McAfee.

HAPGOOD, WIFE RELEASED

WILKES-BARRE, Pa., March 8.—(AP.)—Powers Hapgood and his wife, Mary Donovan Hapgood, were released from the county jail shortly after noon today when bonds in the amount of $5,000 each were furnished by the National Security Company, of New York, through the local representative of the company, Jonathan R. Davis.

The Hapgoods were jailed Sunday afternoon after being arrested in Pittston for inciting to riot preferred by police officials. It is alleged that the Hapgoods endeavored to hold a parade after being denied permission for a protest meeting against administration of United Mine Workers' affairs in this district.

LIFE FOR OHIO BOY SLAYER

ST. CLAIRSVILLE, O., March 8.—Andy Dyken, 15, who last December shot and killed his mother in mistake for his father at their Methodist Ridge farm home, today was sentenced to the State Penitentiary for life. He was sentenced following his plea of guilty to a second degree murder indictment.

Dyken attempted to commit suicide by hanging himself in his cell shortly after he was taken from the courtroom.

Guards overpowered him when they found him fastening his belt around his neck. Sheriff T. C. Hardesty revealed it as the second attempt by the boy to take his life in the last 24 hours. A piece of steel which he had taken from his cot sharpened to a fine edge was taken from him last night.

Arraigned before Judge Warren W. Cowen, the boy verified his attorney's statement that he had agreed to plead guilty to second degree murder, whereupon the judge said that there was no alternative for a life sentence. Thus Dyken becomes the youngest prisoner ever given a life sentence in Ohio.

As the judge pronounced sentence, Dyken gulped several times, but made no comment. He was escorted back to his cell by Sheriff Clyde Hardesty and next Tuesday will be taken to prison.

The courtroom was crowded when the boy was arraigned. A first degree murder charge was nolle prossed. Other charges growing out of the wounding of his father and a farm laborer also will be quashed.

Punished for his failure to attend school the boy purchased a shotgun and lay in wait near his home for his father to leave the house. As his mother stepped from the door, the boy in the darkness mistook her for his father and fired, killing her. Then he opened fire on his father and a farm hand who had rushed out at the sound of the shot.

HER PRAYER GETS $5,725 VERDICT

A Common Pleas Court jury answered the prayer of Mrs. Anna O'Neil Slicker, Brownsville road, with a verdict for $5,725, in her suit against the American Express Company.

Before taking the witness stand on Tuesday when the suit was called for trial, Mrs. Slicker knelt in prayer, whereupon defense counsel objected.

Mrs. Slicker testified she purchased a $5,000 draft from the express company in October, 1925, merely obtaining a receipt, while a promoter with whom she was dealing obtained the draft and forged her name. She sued for the money and interest.

The jury was given the case at noon yesterday and reached a verdict after court adjourned. The sealed verdict was opened by Judge Elder W. Marshall this morning, the jury finding for the plaintiff.

New 'Barberism' At Mines, Free Haircuts

"Next! Windblown bob, certainly, miss." This and all the beautifying embellishments of the tonsorial art were offered free to more than 800 residents of Renton, strife-torn mining town near New Kensington, this afternoon, when striking miners and their families were treated to a new form of "barberism" by the East Pittsburgh branch of the Miners' Relief Committee. This committee took a dozen barbers to Renton to shear and scrape and shine the hirsute growth of striking mine workers and their families.

The committee believes that the psychological effect of well-groomed hair and whiskers will greatly improve the morale of the population.

Sought

ALVIN W. DANKLEF

Suspected of having come to Pittsburgh to spend $100 which he had saved, Alvin White Danklef, 15, Elyria, O., is being sought here by the Missing Persons Bureau. He had confided in a school boy friend that he intended spending the money here. His mother, Mrs. May Denklef, has come here to aid in the search.

FIVE HELD AS SUSPECTS

ALLEGED CONFESSED GRAVEYARD SLAYERS

These five youths, said to be sons of striking union miners of Russellton, are being held as alleged confessed slayers of Michael Yarsavage, 42, Nant-y-Glo, Pa., whose body was found in the Walters Chapel Cemetery, Rural Ridge, Monday. Those being held are: Fred Simonetti, 19; Joseph Bassitti, 20; Joseph Micklow, 18; Samuel Koneski, 19, and John Koneski, 20.

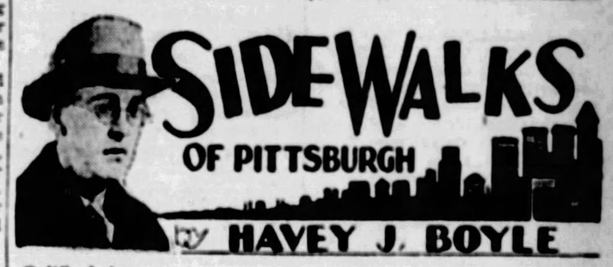
NAME ALL REMAINING OF ONCE FAMOUS DEPOT

DELAWARE, O., March 8.—Africa, the name of a cross-roads settlement in Delaware county, is all that remains of a once famous station on the so-called "underground railway," the system used during the Civil War to transport slaves northward in their flight toward Canada and freedom.

RIDGWAY RAIL AGENT NABS ROBBER SUSPECT

RIDGWAY, Pa., March 8.—Oliver Bergland, night agent at the Buffalo, Rochester and Pittsburgh Railroad station, captured one of several men who attempted to break into the place early yesterday. The man, taken to the Johnsonburg jail, said he was Clifford Mahar, of Olean.

SIDEWALKS OF PITTSBURGH



By HAVEY J. BOYLE

ONE of the most interesting men in Pittsburgh is Andrey Avinoff, a Russian gentleman, who is now director of the Carnegie Museum. He is world-traveled, a scholar, a musician and an artist. At one time he was closely associated with the late Czar of the Russias. He is one of the most noted collectors of butterflies in the world. His collection is rated the fourth best in the world. He went to far-off places in his quest for rare specimens.

A STRANGE story has developed from this collection. When the Soviet regime was inaugurated in Russia after Kerensky had bungled his big opportunity the government confiscated anything and everything it felt like confiscating. This is the way of governments following revolutions.

Among the treasures confiscated by the Lenin-Trotsky government was Andrey Avinoff's butterfly collection. Meanwhile, Mr. Avinoff came to Pittsburgh to the Carnegie Museum where after a time he was made director.

A few years pass and then the butterfly collection which Mr. Avinoff had spent years in gathering followed him to Pittsburgh. However, while the collection is his and while it is now quite close to him, it is not considered his property. The collection has been "loaned" to the museum, of which the owner is the director, by the Soviet government.

REPORTERS who have talked with Mr. Avinoff confide he is one of the most gifted men they ever have interviewed; also one of the most unselfish. His one aim is to make the Pittsburgh Museum as perfect as possible. He looks upon this task as a rare pleasure, a real adventure.

QUITE often the man in the street, say like you and this present writer, wonder what good comes of these adventures in collections. The significance can be appreciated only if you would picture the great loss to the world if at no time no one interested himself in preserving the wonders of nature through the medium of great and various collections. Luckily, for the common people there have been many aristocrats through the centuries who engaged themselves in collecting and preserving the world's artistic treasures.

LIKE the New Yorker who got used to the Broadway so eagerly devoured by visitors, Pittsburghers take their museum as a matter of fact. We go away to see the sights and fail to appreciate, sometimes, what is here.

By gosh, we have written so earnestly about this that some day we are going out there to take a look ourself.

IT WAS George M. Rush who prompted the story of Mr. Avinoff. Mr. Rush, a Pittsburgher by adoption, is a brother of the famed Speedy Rush, whilom football star and famous coach.

IT TOOK tireless effort here in 10 years to stamp out the awful practice of tennis players' wearing handkerchiefs around their foreheads and no sooner was the terrible condition cleared up than it breaks out in a new place. The sporting page the other day showed a picture of Carmen Hill, six-foot Pirate pitcher, broad-shouldered, and fairly husky, wearing a handkerchief around his forehead as he practiced at Paso Robles. We have dispatched a sharp letter to Marshal Walter Hughes, of Paso Robles, to see what he can do about it.

WHILE Mr. Keck and Mr. Shatto both rushed in with the evidence against Hill and while he had noticed it, too, nevertheless we wish to thank the alert correspondent on the outside who tore out the picture and sent it in here. It is heartening to note the splendid co-operation in connection with this campaign.

JERRY The Epic of a Girl Who Had to Wait. by Elenore MEHERIN

No Letter in Four Weeks, Jerry Cables Saxon, Asking the Reason

WHAT HAS GONE BEFORE

Jerry King, good-looking, charming and 19, meets Saxon Rhodes, a young architect, and falls in love with him at first sight. Her fascinating mother, Marza, warns her that idealists like Saxon make unsatisfactory husbands. In spite of the fact that Jerry sees Saxon kissing Tess Willi, who has a great deal of money, she still clings to her ideal and refuses a marriage proposal from Heine Ross, a wealthy young suitor. Saxon runs across her while she is sketching and later they kiss each other rapturously in the moonlight. He takes her to lunch and Tess Willi comes to their table and makes a date with Saxon. Marza tells her she hopes she is not counting on marrying Saxon—that he has not enough money. Wondering if she had better give Saxon up, she gets a reassuring note from him. Saxon tries to argue himself into a belief that love is the only thing that counts and gaily makes plans with Jerry for their future. His uncle insists that he go abroad to complete his studies. Tess Willi also goes to Paris, Jerry is worried.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY.

"YES—but that was weeks and weeks ago. Nearly two months. He's been back in Paris four weeks—"

She spread the marmalade thinly on her toast and waited in sheer physical pain for Tess to say whether or not she had some later word. It was four full weeks since his last long letter to Jerry.

But Tess went on—loud and glib: "Yes—John Ivers went to Italy with him. I'm going to get a car over there, and we can all stroll about. They say you haven't lived till you've tramped about Europe in troubador style. Oh, I'm pretty keen for it!"

On and on: "He's frightfully lonesome, so I'm sure of one thing. He'll fall on my neck. I'll take him your love, shall I, ole thing?"

Jerry picked up her gloves; then this from Tess: "He said he didn't want to take me to the ball. But I'm going to make him. I've just set my heart on it."

Jerry laughed: "They say you're one who always gets what you set your heart on, Tess."

A spark in Tess's pale blue eyes: "I've been lucky—so far!"

She felt defiant and reckless. She recalled Hettie's words and for a moment felt a withering blaze. When she reached home she went to her own room and softly locked the door. She got out those postals. Suddenly she noticed a peculiar thing and was astounded not to have seen this before.

The writing was not in Saxon's hand! Five postals after weeks of silence. And each one in this strange, unfamiliar hand.

She was frightened and kept murmuring blindly: "What is the matter? What does it mean?"

CAPTER XIII.

SHE got out Saxon's last letter, read it with burning slowness, absorbing the words. No coldness here—no fading of his ardor.

"The longest year of my life, Jerry, is ended. It's been a great year—in many ways a precious year. But I can't help feeling that I've paid pretty high for it. I hope it's not going to prove too high. Don't let us let it. Sit down now and answer this and put in lots of wild, sweet words. I love the way you do it. And send me some pictures of yourself—snapshots, anything, some new ones, the way you're looking now, and I'll know if you're still loving me and me ONLY."

He hadn't changed. He wouldn't change—

Some other reason for that silence. Softened and glad in this thought she went out and sent a cablegram:

"No letter in four weeks. Five postcards yesterday not in your writing. What is wrong? Answer immediately. Jerry."

She waited four days—four angry, agonized days. Days that were harder to endure because Marza knew—knew even her secret terror.

"Don't get impatient and reckless," Marza said.

It was late—after a dinner. Jerry's face was flushed, a kind of hard brightness in her eyes. She went about the living room singing at the top of her voice. Suddenly she ran to the phone and called Heinie.

"I'll feeling awfully high and gay, Heinie. I want to go dancing. I want to go—"

Marza's hand clapped over the mouthpiece! Marza commanding softly: "Not tonight! Please, pet—"

"Why did you do that?" demanded the girl hotly. "I never interfere with you!"

Marza smiled. She came over with that lovable magnetic way of hers and kissed Jerry's lips. "You'll be glad tomorrow or the day after when he writes."

"I don't care whether he ever writes or not! You're entirely mistaken."

To herself she repeated this emphatically: "I'll be glad to be through with it! I hope he never writes. What good is love? Except for fools who want to be crucified!"

Yet she flew home from school—she sat whole hours idling over her sketches. Nothing in the world seemed of the slightest moment but the coming of the mailman or the ringing of the phone.

She grew weak rushing to answer. Finally it came. She threw herself on the bed in a fit of sobbing. The first time she remembered crying since her cat had died—oh, years and years—

"Don't worry, darling girl. I've been sick. Fine now. Letters following. Love, Saxon."

Three letters all at once. They tore her heart out. Reading them, she grew frantic with joy and relief. Thought carried her hilariously across oceans and continents. She was with him. Holding him. Always.

He had been ill—very, very ill. First it was just a cold he'd neglected. Then a slight fever. Nothing at all. He stayed in bed a day, felt fine and got up. That night he was delirious. Two days later they sent him to a hospital with a bad case of pneumonia.

"And, Jerry, dear, for a long while I didn't know what it was all about. Didn't even know I wasn't writing to you. I was dreaming of you everlastingly. Odd how one face stays in your mind, isn't it? I wonder if it's like this when a fellow dies? I'm sure, if I cashed in then, I'd have taken your image with me wherever eternity may be. Sweet company.

"I was lucky to have a nurse who writes English. She sent the postcards. I tried to write myself, but couldn't make the grade. I should have told you that I'd been sick. But I had the crazy, distorted notion that this would frighten you. Besides, I didn't know then that I'd been out of the picture four whole weeks.

"By the time you get this I'll be all recovered. I'm feeling great now—Forgive me, won't you please, for causing all this pain? And write—dozens of letters . . . hundreds of them. I'll be low and lonesome if you let me have one empty day."

She took the letters to school with her and went out between hours to read them; to look at them. She asked herself fearfully: "What would I do if he had died?"

One night she said to Marza—said it airily, her chin in her palms. "Why don't we go to Paris?"

"Why don't we have a steam yacht?"

"But they say you can live very cheaply there. I wish we would! Don't you think we could manage?"

Marza said quietly and growing pale, "I've been planning to go next June. If things turn out as I hope, we will."

Marza had cleverly turned her head, concealing the dull intense white of her cheeks.

"You've been planning it? Why didn't you tell me?"

"Because I'm not sure. It may not turn out, that is, it may not be possible—"

The girl, absorbed in her own delicious emotions, cried out happily: "Next summer. Oh, heavenly!"

She began counting up on her fingers the months still to wait.

"Would you stay long, Marza?"

"I hoped to stay several years. I had reasons for wanting you to have this—this opportunity."

"Several years!" said Jerry, crestfallen. Why, he would be returning. Why four or five months was all they'd need to stay!

Then she thought gaily: "Well, be married and come home across the Atlantic on our honeymoon!"

She pictured him as she had first seen him and last seen him—strong and buoyant with the laughter and song of a sun-god about him.

His next letters were a shock—scrawled and brief. He was impatient—furious to find himself so weak: "I'm ashamed to admit it, Jerry, but I could bawl, for I feel like an old starved alley cat and can sometimes sit for hours without wanting to move.

"Lord, I wish you were here. John Ivers is away—so is Rod. Off sketching in Switzerland. They went right on from Italy. It's dead and lonely here. I wish the janitor or the office boy from home would turn up. I'd go on a bust with either. Did you really mean that about coming over next year? Why don't you make it now? Girl—angel—why don't you?"

On the very heels of this came the news of Tess's arrival. Arriving just when he was sunk in utter loneliness.

Jerry, reading his letter and exaggerating each phrase, could have torn the paper to pieces. She laughed at herself and thought mockingly: "I'm jealous. I didn't dream that I could be just plain jealous!"

But he didn't need to have written so vividly. He could have tempered it. . . . Here it was comforting her in black and white—inflaming her. . . .

"Jerry, what do you think has just happened? Awfully jolly. Tess is here. Of course you know, I suppose, she was due. But I only got her letter this morning. . . . had hardly finished reading it when in she walked. Nothing I've seen in months looked half so good. Now we'll have an age-long chat, and I'll learn about everything from start to finish.

"John is back now. We're all going down to the Quartier to dinner. Tess, John, Antoinette, and I. I told you about Antoinette, didn't I? She's the prettiest little French girl in all Paris. She reminds me of you—blue eyes and black hair. Only her eyes never get purple; they're never all flame and sweetness.

Merely Margy, An Awfully Sweet Girl

Story by Lloyd Mayer — By John Held, Jr.

"My dear, have you ever thought SEriously of taking the VEIL or something? Well, ANYways, I've been thinking an AWful lot about it LATEly, my dear, because I mean I've ACtually come to the conCLUsion that 'ALL is VANity' as some odd LITTry bimbo said somewheres, because I mean I HONestly don't think you really meet any MEN nowadays who aren't TERribly FRIV'lous-minded and FICKle, sort of, do you know what I mean? Because I REALly think all they're AFter is a little light SMACKing and if you're the TYPE of girl who will let ANYbody NECK you, you get aWAY and are POPular. But I mean if you're the kind with high iDEALS and a really fine CHARacter or something there simply AREn't any men who apPREciate you because I mean they're all so sort of GROSS and maTErial-minded that all they ever THINK about a girl is whether she has good-looking LEGS and NECKS—can you BEAR it, my dear? But don't you HONestly think I'm PERfectly RIGHT about the situation? I mean I think the iDEA of sort of TAking the VEIL at this point is TERribly inTRIguing but I mean why STOP at taking ONE? Fr instance I bet you ANYthing if you took SEVen veils and made a SaLOME situation of it you would be the SINecure of all EYES or something, my dear—I mean I ACtually DO!"

Love's Embers

Absorbing Sequel to "Revelations of a Wife" — By Adele Garrison

MY first impulse upon hearing Noel Veritzen say that his father's acquiescence in his presence at our dinner was because of me, not him, was to utter a vexed disclaiming reproof. But a look at the boy's face told me that he had made the remark with the naive outlook of a child.

So I made my voice light and casual as I laid my hand on his arm and drew him toward the front veranda where our family and guests were seated.

"I am sure you are mistaken upon that point," I said, smiling, "but we haven't time to debate the subject. Miss Lincoln and Mr. Jackson haven't arrived yet, and I'd like to get your meeting with your father over with before they arrive."

"Yes, that would be better," he agreed, and then we were in the midst of the group upon the veranda, and Lillian, with her unerring flair for smoothing over a difficult situation, was hailing him enthusiastically, introducing him to her schoolgirl daughter, Marion, the only one of the group whom he did not know, and adroitly handling the conversational reins so that Philip Veritzen was able to say carelessly, "Hello! Noel, is your arm coming along all right?" and for the boy to respond with equal nonchalance, "Yes, thank you, Dad, it's rounding to in great shape."

"That's good," the elder Veritzen rejoined with apparent heartiness.

A casual observer would have said that Philip Veritzen paid no further attention to his son nor to the girl whose sole attention he was engaging. But I, watching him furtively, knew that while he apparently was devoting himself to the elder members of the veranda group, he was missing no expression of his son's face nor of Mary's, nor any inflection of either voice.

With a suppressed smile I heard Lillian adroitly maneuver the conversation until Dicky and Mr. Veritzen were engaged in an animated discussion of some new developments in stage lighting, a subject in which both men were especially interested. Then unobtrusively she crossed the veranda and stepped into the house. I did not falter in the animated conversation I purposely was carrying on with my mother-in-law, Katherine and Marion, but a few seconds later I managed my own escape and joined Lillian in the dimly-lighted library—I had known instinctively that I would find her in the one spot where we would be free from interruption.

"Well" she ejaculated, "I see you managed it. Lucky you're living in this century. You certainly would be burned as a witch if this were a couple of hundred years or so ago. Tell me what the old boy said."

Ignoring her embarrassing comment, I repeated verbatim my conversation with Philip Veritzen upon the subject of his son. Her face darkened as she listened.

"The balky old mule!" she exclaimed. "He ought to have a fire lit under him, and I'd like to have the privilege of applying the match."

Beauty can be destroyed at The Danger Line

From decayed teeth, poisons may be generated which can cause serious illness. Women who suffer from this insidious poisoning may not know it. But instead, they may find the charm of glowing health fading.

Your health often depends upon the care you give your teeth. Guard The Danger Line—where teeth meet gums. It is in its tiny V-shaped crevices that the acids form causing tooth decay and dangerous gum irritations. No tooth-brush can reach into all these crevices to brush these acids away. But Squibb's Dental Cream, made with more than 50% of Squibb's Milk of Magnesia, effectively neutralizes them. And particles of the Milk of Magnesia remain in your mouth after use to give you protection afterwards. 40c a generous tube at all druggists.

Guard Against "Flu" With Musterole

Influenza, Grippe and Pneumonia usually start with a cold. The moment you get those warning aches rub on good old Musterole.

Musterole relieves the congestion and stimulates circulation. It has all the good qualities of the old-fashioned mustard plaster without the blister.

First you feel a warm tingle as the healing ointment penetrates the pores, then a soothing, cooling sensation and quick relief. Have Musterole handy for emergency use. It may prevent serious illness.

To Mothers: Musterole is also made in milder form for babies and small children. Ask for Children's Musterole.

Poor Complexions can be made lovely

Nurses find easy way to refine skin

... keep it smooth, clear, beautiful

HER friends all pitied her for her blemished, unattractive skin. Despairingly she tried one remedy after another—without result.

One day a nurse told her of a famous healing cream. Doctors had first prescribed it for skin troubles. Then nurses—discovering how soft and smooth it made their skin—began to use it as a toilet cream, enthusiastically praised it to their friends.

Without much hope she tried it. And soon—almost unbelievably soon—roughness and unsightly blemishes vanished. Large pores closed. Her skin became soft, smooth, fine-textured, clear and lovely beyond her fondest hopes.

A miracle it seemed. Yet a miracle that has happened to hundreds and thousands of women who have turned to Noxzema Skin Cream. Dainty, snow-white and greaseless, you use it as a powder base by day—massage it into the skin at night. Its soothing, healing medication quickly clears away blemishes, refines enlarged pores, corrects dryness or oiliness, brings out the real beauty of your skin.

If you want a clearer, lovelier complexion—by all means try Noxzema. Try it for just ten days—and note the difference!

All drug and department stores carry Noxzema. Get a small jar today.

The Editor Said to the City Editor:

For months you've been printing news about the coal strike. You've had statements from miners, from operators, from strike-breakers, from senators—and every one of them contradictory. It's about time the people of Pittsburgh get some definite and impartial information on certain phases of this situation. For instance, what are the real conditions in these non-union camps that surround Pittsburgh?

And the City Editor Said to the Editor:

How do you expect me to know?

Then the Editor Said to the City Editor:

It's your business to know. Take a "vacation" and get yourself a job as a strike-breaker. Live in one of those camps, eat there, talk with the men, get down in the mine and mine coal. Don't come back until you know what you are talking about.

And the City Editor Went!

He's back now after a week in Coverdale, Number Eight, where he worked and ate and slept and lived exactly like the 20,000 or more strike-breakers in Western Pennsylvania are living.

What he has found out, he has written. Plain, matter-of-fact, day-to-day stuff, but with important bearing upon and significance to the strike situation. It isn't highly sensational, but it's 100 percent interesting, and the TRUTH.

TUNNEY SILENT ON ENGAGEMENT

"LOVELY GIRL," GENE'S REPLY

MIAMI BEACH, Fla., March 8.—(AP.)—Rumors that the heavyweight boxing champion of the world had made formal surrender to romance today remained simply rumors, neither confirmed nor denied.

Reporters had quizzed Gene Tunney and plied with questions his rumored fiancee, Miss Caroline Bishop, of Beverly Hills, Cal., but the best they could learn with either was a draw.

Miss Bishop admitted she found the ring king "one of the most admirable men of our age." Tunney confessed he believed the California visitor here "one of the loveliest girls" he had ever known. Yet both considered pointed questions about their alleged betrothal "unfair," and said so, although neither went so far as to enter even mild denial.

Meanwhile the more incurable romanticists were attaching much significance to reports which emanated from Stamford, Conn., last night to the effect that Tunney had purchased a 75-acre farm, with all appurtenances for placid country life, in the Longbridge section of the state.

BID FAREWELL

The flurry over the champion's state of heart took definite form yesterday when Tunney drove to the station here to bid farewell to Miss Bishop, who was departing for her home in company with her aunt, Mrs. Fred Thompson, well known in film circles as Frances Marion.

PIRATE SCOUT AND HALF-DOZEN OF HIS "FINDS"

Scout Joe Devine has plucked some of the finest talent in baseball from the bushes for the Pirates, National League champions. Here he is seen in the roping act. The Waner brothers and Kremer and Miljus figuratively are worth their weight in gold, while Cronin and Bartell are two of the most promising young infielders in the game. Devine's success in corraling diamonds in the rough has attracted considerable attention in big league company.

LA GREY MEETS GANS, GOOD FOE, TONIGHT

By HARRY KECK,
Sun-Telegraph Sports Editor.

THE boxing patrons of the McKeesport club get a peek at one of the favorites of the Middle West tonight when California Joe Gans does his stuff against Joey LaGrey of Johnstown in the 10-round main bout in the Palisades roller rink.

Gans was born in Los Angeles in 1905 and in his early teens became a jockey, racing at Tiajuana, Latonia and New Orleans, among other tracks, and it was because of exceptional fistic ability displayed in a fight with another jockey at New Orleans that he turned to the ring. He was induced to try his hand as a professional, and made good from the start.

Gans has done most of his boxing

SPORT COMMENT by JAMES J. LONG

THOUGH in one particular lecture which he delivered to his ball players last week Manager Donie Bush confined himself to the subject of drinking, and notified the assembled athletes that he would not tolerate this year any of the extremely damp doing that have wrecked many a club, he is also a stickler for the proper restrictions in eating.

Donie Bush.

Not all players are as careful in this respect as the Pie Traynor type. Pie wouldn't think of eating a thing that might possibly hurt his form as a ball player, even for a day.

But the manager has got to keep an eye on the diet of many others, and Bush demands that his players follow common-sense rules in that

CHIEF QUOMAWAHU

A sprained ankle may force Chief Nick Quomawahu, Hopi Indian, to withdraw from C. C. Pyle's cross-country Marathon race. The Chief, leading at the finish of the third lap, sprained his ankle shortly after starting the fourth lap yesterday and was forced to quit. Pyle's rules permit any injured Marathoner to get back in the race by resuming running at the point where the injury was sustained, but it is thought that Nick's retirement will be permanent.

PASO ROBLES, Cal., March 8.—Chick Fraser's humor strain is not confined to the ball lot. Chick can entertain any time he has a fungo stick, a few balls and two or three wild-eyed rookies who run themselves into a state of collapse in pursuit of cleverly-placed drives that are just out of the reach of the youngsters.

Fraser has taken up golf with other Pirates, who are allowed to play on off days. Chick went out with Jewel Ens. They had neither sticks nor balls, but a friend supplied the whole kit.

The friend handed Chick and Jewel boxes which contained balls. Always ready to "pull" something, Chick put a kro-flite into a gray-goose box and vice versa. Then, as Ens stepped up to the tee, he asked Jewel what kind he desired.

Ens preferred the gray-goose. Fraser handed him the box with that marking and Ens, pulled out the ball. Then he laced a long, straight drive down the fairway.

Fraser drove a bad slice to the right. The trio started down the fairway, Ens in high spirits over his fine drive. Jewel eventually arrived at his ball. Chick, the jester, interrupted him as the coach started to square off.

"I think you're playing my ball," said Fraser quietly.

Jewell examined the ball, saw that it wasn't the one he called for at the tee and then began to moan. He eventually found his gray-goose behind a tree, a development which did not appease him. He didn't tumble, so he played the bad lie.

PITT NET CARD SET

NINE home matches and seven on foreign courts make up Pitt's 1928 tennis schedule, as announced by Harry Peterman, tennis manager. The net season will be opened on April 21, when W. & J. is carded to appear at Pitt, and will close on June 2, when the Panthers play at Westminster. The schedule follows:

April 21, W. & J. at Pitt; April 28, Pitt at W. & J.; April 28, Ohio State

BUSH AGAIN POSTPONES REG-YAN BATTLE

By CHARLES J. DOYLE,
Sun-Telegraph Staff Correspondent.

PASO ROBLES, Cal., March 8.—They're all set for a scrap those Pirate Regulars and Hooligans, but Manager Bush today stated that his pitchers have been under too much strain to permit of a diamond battle this afternoon, so the long-awaited contest has been postponed again. Bush says the initial game will probably be staged tomorrow afternoon with more games to follow on Saturday and Sunday.

In anticipation of the clash of the two squads Donie will not drive his sharpshooters hard in the two workouts slated for today. He plans of having three regular and three Yannigan hurlers ready to perform on the slab. Remy Kremer was carded to go to the knoll in the opener but the big Frenchman is likely to be kept out of action owing to an attack of something akin to la grippe. Kremer spent yesterday in bed.

K. of C. Leaders Change

A GENERAL displacement of leaders marked the appearance, yesterday, of Bellevue Council's pin-toppling experts in the second annual national K. of C. duckpin tournament, now in progress on the Duquesne Council alleys in Oakland. The greatest disturbance was created in the singles division, in which no less than seven Bellevuites shouldered their way into the first ten. In the doubles, three teams won places among the leaders, but in the five-men team event only two teams

IMPORTANT GAMES CLOSE COLLEGE CAGE PLAY

PITT, W.-J., W. VA. AND U. P.'S IN FRAYS

By JESS CARVER.

THOUGH they ring down the curtain on the 1927-28 Tri-State district collegiate basketball season, it would be hard to find three more interesting games than the ones scheduled for Saturday night. The three, the Pitt-State game at State College; the West Virginia-Wash.-Jeff affair at Morgantown and the Westminster-Grove City battle at New Wilmington will all have important bearings on the final standing of the teams involved, and in all cases, will either make or break.

Pitt will be risking its undefeated record and an unchallengable claim for the national title against State. West Virginia will call its season a success if Wash-Jeff is beaten and the same goes for the Presidents. Westminster can bring the most successful season the United Presbyterians have enjoyed since the year of the big wind to a close by downing Grove City and the Grovers can partially soothe wounds for defeats at the hands of West Virginia, Wash-Jeff and Pitt by taking the second game of the season from Westminster.

Westminster will close its Conference schedule tonight by meeting Geneva at Beaver Falls. This game is going to be anything but a soft one for the United Presbyterians.

The Duquesne University basketball team will wind up its season tomorrow night by meeting the Alumni team, headed by Roy O'Donovan. The Alumni lineup will include Johnny Serbin, Dom DeMaria, Dick Schrading, Sticks Monohan, Moon Klinzing, Ollie Kendrick, Cay Harrison, Cingolani and others who earned fame at the Bluff school.

ACID IN STOMACH SOURS THE FOOD

Says Excess of Hydrochloric Acid is Cause of Indigestion.

A well-known authority states that stomach trouble and indigestion are nearly always due to acidity—acid stomach—and not, as most folks believe, from a lack of digestive juices. He states that an excess of hydrochloric acid in the stomach retards digestion and starts food fermentation; then our meals sour like garbage in a can, forming acrid fluids and gases, which inflate the stomach like a toy balloon. We then get that heavy, lumpy feeling in the chest, we eructate sour food, belch gas or have heartburn, flatulence, water-brash or nausea.

He tells us to lay aside all digestive aids and instead get from any pharmacy four ounces of Jad Salts and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast, while it is effervescing, and furthermore, to continue this for one week. While relief often follows the first dose, it is important to neutralize the acidity, remove the acid-making mass, start the liver, stimulate the kidneys and thus promote a free flow of pure digestive juices.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and sodium phosphate. This harmless salts is used by thousands of stomach sufferers with excellent results.

GOLFER'S "BIRDIE" A ROBIN

GREENSBORO, N. C., March 8.—(AP.)—A "birdie" that he was unable to check up on his score card was shot here over the Sedgefield golf course by J. E. Lyons of Highpoint. Approaching the seventeenth green, he drove a ball in a tree, striking a robin. The wounded bird was taken to the clubhouse, revived and turned loose.

direction as well as in the matter upon which he dwelt in talking to them like a "Dutch Uncle" recently.

BUSH'S lecture, by the way, was no reflection upon the club as a whole. He simply had to deliver it to the whole crew in order to have it reach one or two whom he had in mind.

But to get back to the eating subject. It develops that one other major league manager who is as strong as Doak for proper eating is George Moriarity, The Tiger pilot's ideas on the matter are reflected in the remarks of Jimmy Duggan, the club trainer, who previously handled the Yankees and also has trained hockey teams and boxers. Listen to Duggan:

Geo. Moriarity.

"It isn't the amount of food they eat every time they eat, but the number of times they eat.

"Take, for instance, a ball player who is being called by the manager for eating too much. What does he hand the manager? His talk runs about like this:

"'All I had for breakfast this morning was grapefruit and a couple of boiled eggs and toast and coffee. For lunch all I ate was a bowl of soup and a couple of crackers and a salad and some ice cream. All I had for dinner was a steak and a salad, a couple of vegetables and some ice cream or pie. You don't call that big eating, do you?'

"The manager can't say that it's big eating. And he can't understand why this guy keeps on getting fatter. You see, the player hasn't told the manager what he eats between breakfast and lunch and between lunch and dinner, and from dinner until he goes to bed.

"It wouldn't be so bad if those fellows would overeat a couple of times a day, but only eat three times. You can't say they overstuff themselves at any meal, but the trouble with 'em is that they don't give their stomach a chance to rest; they're always throwing more food into it. They can't sit down three hours without sending out for a couple of sandwiches or something."

YOU have only to consider the success of the present W. P. I. A. L. championship basketball elimination tournament, and the proportions which this annual competition has assumed under the direction of M. B. Horner, principal of Washington (Pa.) High School, and his able assistants on the basketball committee, of which he is chairman, to realize the remarkable things that the Pitt Stadium has done for the Western Pennsylvania high schools and the sport of basketball locally.

This is the third year of the Stadium. Previously, even the Pitt passers themselves, had to play their games in Trees gym, into which only 600 persons could be crowded.

But the Stadium will accommodate 3,500 persons, and as a result the games in the present high school tournament are drawing from 2,000 to 3,000 spectators. Indications are that the total attendance for the entire tourney will approximate 20,000.

THAT means quite a lot to Pittsburgh as well as to the high schools and to basketball, for all except one of the contending teams represent outside points, and to bring their followers into town in large numbers, as is possible since the construction of the stadium provided sufficient room for all who desire to see the games, is a great help toward Father Pitt's general welfare.

Pie Traynor.

The original contenders in the elimination series in addition to Fifth Avenue High School were the high schools of Duquesne, Dormont, New Castle, Butler, Sewickley, Monessen, Har-Brack, Braddock, Monaca, Connellsville and Ford City, and it's no slight boost for Father Pitt to have the thousands of visitors from those places shown that Pittsburgh still is promoting progress—in sports as well as in every other line.

THE tournament, besides surpassing its own best records for attendance, is producing a high-grade of basketball and probably will be one of the hardest fought in the history of the W. P. I. A. L. Thus far Butler has been eliminated by New Castle, Sewickley has been put out by Monessen, Har-Brack has been removed from the reckoning by Braddock, and last night New Castle eliminated a second contender in the Monaca team. Duquesne and Connellsville are to clash tonight.

PITT'S unbeaten basketball team has "only one more river to cross." With 20 consecutive victories to their credit, the Panthers need only to defeat Penn State at State College Saturday night in order to complete a perfect season and knock all college floor records galley west.

Charles Hyatt.

But the final game shapes up like the toughest kind of a contract. Penn State will not be beaten easily, and it is going to call for all that Coach Carlson's charges can produce to hang up their twenty-first victory and complete the season with a defeat.

The mental strain under which the Pitt players will be playing in the knowledge that the game counts for so much may hurt their chances more than the stiff opposition that Penn State is certain to offer, but Reed, Hyatt and Co. have proved equal to all previous contracts and look good to squeeze through this one.

ONE of The Sun-Telegraph's readers wants to know if George Godfrey, the Negro heavyweight fighter, who received the decision over Paulino Uzcudun last week in Los Angeles and who was seen in the Motor Square Garden ring here this season, is a descendant of the old-time battler of the same name.

George Godfrey

He is not. He does not even bear the same name. His name is not Godfrey at all, but Frank S. Williams.

The original George Godfrey, called "Old Chocolate," was one of the best heavies of his day, and, though a Canadian by birth, he was considered the first Negro heavyweight boxing champion of America. He was active from 1879 to 1895.

IN 1887 Godfrey was matched with John L. Sullivan for a fight in Prof. Bailey's rooms in Boston and was stripped and waiting, but at the last minute the police interfered and the affair had to be called off.

Godfrey continued to rank as the leading Negro heavyweight until Peter Jackson defeated him in 19 rounds in San Francisco in 1888.

FIGHT RESULTS

At Detroit—Bruce Flowers defeated Spug Meyers, 10 rounds; Vic Burrone defeated Clarence Roseh, 8 rounds.

At Wilmington—Paul De Hate defeated Willie Greb, 10 rounds.

DELVECCHIO IS SIGNED

By VERNON A. SWARTSFAGER

Perry Delvecchio, Western Pennsylvania open golf champion, has been signed as combination professional and greenkeeper at the Greensburg Country Club for this year, it has been learned from an authentic source. Delvecchio succeeds Francis Brennan, for the last five years professional, as the club's instructor, and continues in the role of greenkeeper. Perry has been greenkeeper at the same club for a number of years, and is one of the best professional golf players in Western Pennsylvania.

It is said that he will make Piore Bruno, product of Oakmont Country Club links, his assistant, although this has not been learned definitely.

Thomas S. Jamison, president of the W. P. G. A., as well as chief executive of the Hannastown Country Club, which lost its popular professional, Joseph Guarino, through death recently, is deliberating at this time over a number of applications for the job. It is anticipated that a Greensburg man will be signed.

with his condition. Miljus' pepper made the welkin ring in the first week of training but since the arrival of the boil he has been one of the quietest members of the party.

As the result of two exceptional workouts of yesterday the whole team has advanced to a point of condition that is satisfactory to all concerned. The morning drill was entirely novel. Bush used much time to rehearse the various throws which outfielders are called on to make during the playing of championship games. Following this he put his players throughout a course of base-running sprints, the trapped runner stunt getting a lot of play.

The windup of the long morning session, Bush escorted all infielders and outfielders to the sliding pit which had been constructed on a remote part of the field. The manager took personal charge of a session of sliding in which Regulars and Hooligans were glad to take part. The pitchers were excused from the morning workout.

A hitting practice of more than one featured the afternoon session. Once again Regis Leheny of Oakland was the subject of much comment as he fooled the hitters. Leheny worked against the first string batters and the starters, for the most part were on the defensive. The Oaklander has more stuff than a lot of seasoned southpaws of the big circuit.

Hot cabs—sudden draughts—muscular strain

But no rheumatism for these 249 locomotive firemen and engineers

"ONCE a railroad man—always a railroad man," they say. There's a fascination about the life that holds a man, once he's started on it.

No easy berth either—whether you drive the engine or fire the boilers. It's a tax on the strongest muscles, and you're always in danger of catching a chill from the extremes of heat and cold going in and out of the cab.

What do these hardy men do to keep their muscles strong and supple for their work? How do they ward off colds, chest congestions, rheumatism?

We went right to some locomotive firemen and engineers and asked them these questions. 249 whom we asked said, "We use Sloan's."

The standby of workers everywhere

Ask any group of active men or women these same questions and two out of three of them will give you the same answer. Sloan's is the best thing you can use to keep muscles supple under the hardest work, to kill the pain of overstrain or small injuries, to prevent colds and rheumatism.

Read this letter from a fireman on the Union Pacific:

"I am a fireman on Union Pacific R. R. I was taken sick in Maryville, Kansas, and I worked back to Kansas City with pains shooting all over my back. As soon as I got to Kansas City I got a bottle of your wonderful liniment and started to put it on. It did me a whole lot of good, and, for me, I wouldn't be without a bottle at any time. I carry a bottle in my grip all the time on road. After each trip I put some Sloan's on." C. R. Ellis, 3250 Gillham Road, Kansas City, Mo.

The minute you apply it you begin to get relief. And it doesn't just deaden the pain temporarily—it gets rid of it. It stimulates the circulation, breaks up congestion, clears out germs and poisons, and the pain stops because the cause is removed.

Get a bottle today and have it on hand. You never can tell when it may save you hours of agony—days of lost time. A bottle that lasts a long time is only 35 cents and you can get it at all druggists. Use it for:

Rheumatism — Lame muscles
Sciatica — Stiff neck
Lumbago — Colds and congestions
Neuralgia
Sprains and bruises

This locomotive engineer is one of 249 railroad men who told us of the protection that Sloan's gives against rheumatism, colds, muscular pain

Here's what the company doctor of one of the big railroads says of Sloan's: "People whose work exposes them to strain or to damp and cold usually suffer from a good deal of muscular soreness. We find that Sloan's gives them quick, positive relief."

SLOAN'S Endorsed universally by those who do the world's hard work

P. A. and a pipe—that's all I ask

I DON'T mean that I am easily satisfied. As a matter of fact, I'm as critical as they come about smoking-tobacco. There are certain things I demand in a smoke, and I declare here and now that P.A. has 'em. Has 'em and to spare, if you ask me.

Fragrant as spring blossoms. Cool as "The boss wants to see you." Sweet as "I'm going to raise your pay." Mild and mellow and long-burning, with full satisfaction in every wonderful puff. It seems that there are not enough hours in a day to suit your Prince Albert program. You'll start in early and stay with it far into the night.

But all this conversation won't do you any good, unless you try out the tobacco itself. When it comes to speaking for itself, P.A. is the best little talker you ever listened to. Go get yourself a tidy red tin and get some of this pipe-joy I've been picturing.

More in quality, more in quantity—TWO full ounces in every tin.

the Doctor says

Don't dope YOUR Cough

IT is not wise to use remedies which depend upon "dope" such as narcotics, chloroform, cannabis or tar products. They may stop your cough temporarily by numbing the tissues, as most cough mixtures do, but this is not enough.

The inflamed air passages must be soothed naturally, the germ-laden mucus loosened and expelled in order to effect a lasting recovery.

PERTUSSIN assists Nature to accomplish these results in a remarkably short time—and it is absolutely harmless.

DUQUESNE TO MEET COKERS TONIGHT

By VERNON A. SWARTSFAGER.

MONACA HIGH, elevated to the championship in Section 4 of the W. P. I. A. L, when Aliquippa High was ruled out for using an ineligible player, was no match for the crack New Castle High quintet last night on the Pitt Stadium floor, losing by a 37-17 count to the defending champion in a first round title series game.

It was a dull contest and less than 1,000 persons attended, the smallest crowd of the season.

The Bridenbaugh team led from the start, and at half time held a 22-10 advantage over the Berkman tossers. The defensive play of the Clark brothers of Monaca was unable to check the fast attacking, clever shooting Sillman, Cuba and Reider trio of New Castle.

Tonight, Duquesne, one of the favorites in the series, will play a second round contest opposed to the Section 10 champion, the Connellsville Cokers, also highly rated as a contender.

SHOTS and PASSES

by JULIUS LEVIN

SYKES REED and Stash Wrobleski, two stars of the University of Pittsburgh varsity basketball team, who wind up their college career Saturday night against Penn State College at State College, will be found in the lineup of the Braddock American Legion team next Tuesday night when that quintet meets the Enoch Rauff club at Columbus Temple.

Both natives of Braddock, where they starred on the high school team before enrolling at the University of Pittsburgh, Reed and Wrobleski should add considerable strength to the lineup of the Legion quintet.

Manager Hyman Gershuney, who is handling the booking arrangements for the Braddock team, has lined up several high-class attractions for his passers. The appearance of Reed and Wrobleski in the Braddock lineup should have a tendency to attract a banner turnout to Columbus Temple next Tuesday night.

PLANS are under way to have St. Mary's Lyceum, champion of the Junior Lyceum League, meet the winner of the Reserve Lyceum League title, which will be contested for by St. Michaels and St. Josephs. St. Michaels and St. Josephs divided the honors in the Reserve Lyceum League and will start their playoff series at St. Josephs next Saturday night.

THE Sumner Somerman Club will face a team of old antagonists tonight when it opposes an all-star lineup composed of stars who represented the Columbus Templars on the floor last winter. The game is scheduled for Columbus Temple and indications are that a capacity crowd will attend the battle.

The Columbus Templars, including such well-known stars as Cotz, Tracy, Ennis, Sheehan and Foley, should extend the Somermans to the limit tonight.

TWO South Side rivals, the Goldensons and the Broadway Club of Beechview, begin a series tonight for the championship of the South Hills. The first game is scheduled for the Broadway Club floor. Tomorrow night the two teams will renew their hostilities on the South Side Market House floor.

The Goldensons have been showing excellent form in recent games, and while Broadway is picked to win the series, they feel certain they have an excellent chance to upset the dope.

Indications are that the games tonight and tomorrow night will attract large crowds of divided supporters. Both teams boast large followings in local professional circles.

DRIBBLES

Tapering off for the A. A. U. championship battle with the Pittsburgh Lancers, scheduled at Duquesne University Saturday night, the North Side Community House passers meet the Y. M. H. A. team on the Community floor tonight. The reserves meet the Heinz House Reserves in the preliminary.

The Pittsburgh and Lake Erie passers strengthened their hold on first place in the Commercial-Industrial League last night by swamping the Carnegie Steel team, 42 to 26. It was the railroaders' sixth successive victory in the second half. Duquesne Light remained at their heels by defeating Liberty Baking, 51 to 49.

The Paramount A. C. has dates open on its schedule for games at home and abroad with first-class teams. Write Henry Robinson, Box 229, Pittsburgh.

The Duquesne Lafayettes made a clean sweep of their series with the J. J. Mieles by taking the second clash last night. The Lafayettes won the title in the County League, while the Mieles were crowned champions of the first half of the P. & O. League race.

SOCCER HEADS TO CONFER

A special meeting of the cup committee of the West Penn Football Association will be held tomorrow night at 8 p. m. The principal business will be the arranging of the final games of the senior and junior cup competitions. At the present time all things point to the final being staged at Westinghouse High School field on Saturday, March 17, the contestants being Heidelberg and Pittsburgh Rovers.

NEW CASTLE'S MARATHONER IS 14TH

BARSTOW, Cal., March 8.—The 150-odd contestants remaining in C. C. Pyle's cross-country marathon today turned their backs upon civilization to plunge still deeper into the Mojave desert. The survivors of this lap will camp tonight at Mojave Wells, a water hole 31 miles from here.

Today's lineup of starters lacked many of those wo participated in yesterday's lap. Three of the absentees, Willie Kolehmainen and Gunner Nielsen, Finnish speedsters, and Chief Nick Quamawahu, Hopi Indian, were "favorites" who set the pace during the first three days of the race. Splained tendons and arches forced the Finns to quit, and the Chief is laid up with a sprained ankle. He may get back in the race later, but the general impression is that he will retire.

The leaders at the start of today's lap were: First, Ollie Wantinen, of Finland; second, Ed Gardner, of Seattle; third, Nester Ericksen, of Finland; fourth, Arthur Newton, of England.

Earl Dilks, of New Castle, Pa., ranks fourteenth.

CHICAGO, March 8.—(AP)—Four of the 16 aspirants for the national pocket billiard championship today stood at the top of the percentage column—undefeated. Frank Taberski, of Schenectady, N. Erwin Rudolph, of Chicago, former champion, was idle after winning his first game Tuesday.

around Chicago, Indianapolis and Detroit and claims victories over Mushy Callahan, now the junior-welterweight champion; Tony Sanders, who holds a victory over My Sullivan; Eddie Rayner, Arthur Stigall, Jack Purvis and Al Wolgast, and boasts the only knockout triumph ever scored over Jimmy Brady, the Detroit veteran. He has lost to Harry Kahn and Tommy Milton, and boxed a no-decision draw with Young Saylor at Cleveland.

Joe traveled with Jack Johnson when the former heavyweight champion was giving exhibitions a few years ago, and also was a sparring partner in Georges Carpentier's camp when the Frenchman was preparing for his bout with Tommy Gibbons at Michigan City, Ind., in 1923.

LA GREY BUSY BOXER

LaGrey is just returning to the ring following a layoff caused by a wrist fracture, but he has a busy program ahead of him. Following the bout tonight he is to meet Young Saylor at Johnstown, Thursday night of next week, and Nick Susnell at Cumberland March 27.

Mickey Solmen of New Castle and Allen Beatty of McKeesport, welterweights, box the eight-round semi-final at McKeesport. Chuck Zelnack of Glassport meets Billy Shaw of Uniontown and Billy Baskovitz of Wilmerding opposes Tommy Ward of Pittsburgh in the six-round preliminaries.

A hot battle is likely when Tug Phillips and Pete Petrelle hook up in a return bout featuring the card of four eight-rounders at Motor Square Garden next Monday night. Phillips thought he would have something soft when he met the kid brother of the famous Billy Petrelle at Erie a few weeks ago, but ran into a stumbling block and pulled only a draw out of the bout, thus ending a long winning streak in that town. Last Monday night, he came from behind to knock out Jess Hosk in the seventh round at Motor Square.

Jack Katkish and Rudy Ceder have been matched for the eight-round semi-final at Motor Square Monday night. Jack Bany and Young Rudy will box the second bout, and U. S. Carpentier and Patsy Gallagher the opener.

BOUTS FOR TOMOSKYS

Andy Tomosky has been matched with Harry Crisp for eight rounds at Aaron Friday night of next week. His brother, George Tomosky, will encounter Mickey McLarnin in an eight-round bout at the Broadway Club in Philadelphia the night before.

Reed Brown has placed three of his men in four-round bouts on the Rosy Stoy-Al Corbett card at Youngstown Thursday night of next week. They are Jimmy Conley, the heavyweight, who will box Ray Carroll; Georgie Ross, Carnegie, who will meet Young Billy Wallace, and Bobby Fleming, flyweight, who will tackle Jimmy Manos.

The fans are evincing keen interest in the all-star amateur show booked for Motor Square Saturday night, featuring seven inter-city bouts between Pittsburgh and New York stars and four special bouts made up of local boxers, and indications are that one of the largest crowds that ever witnessed a simon-pure show in this city will attend.

Danny Gordon and Mickey Markell, a pair of hitters, box in Philadelphia tonight. Johnny Jaddick and the sensational Pete Nebo clash there next Monday night.

AMATEUR CARD TONIGHT

The North Side A. C. stages another of its amateur shows tonight in Masonic hall, Pressly street and Madison avenue. The card follows: Hugh Fetzer vs. Alex Regan, Dave McDonnell vs. Young Goldie, Dan Cook vs. Joe Jeskey, Pete Bell vs. George Lahar and John Cushlers vs. John Beck. Cy Siebert will referee.

Cuddy DeMarco and Tony Burns of Cleveland box the 10-round windup at Clarksburg, W. Va., tonight. Pete Meyers of Pittsburgh and Mickey Milton of Clarksburg will furnish the six-round semi-final and Young Amos of New Kensington will oppose Louie Colombo of Clarksburg in a six-round preliminary.

A delegation of 200 rooters from Dayton, O., will go to New York in a special train to see their idol, Joe Sekyra, box Tommy Loughran for the light-heavyweight title, March 26.

Charley (Phil) Rosenberg, former bantamweight champion, who recently was reinstated after being suspended for a year in his home state, returns to the ring Saturday night as 'mat Harry Scott, Negro featherweight, in the feature bout at the Olympia A. C., New York.

threatened the pace-setters.

Of the Bellevuites who appeared in the singles yesterday, Aland was best with 567, a mark that left him in third place, and Steinkerchner rolled into the fourth notch with five pins less. Putney, with 490, and Flamman and Schneider, tied at 481, are others who landed near the top.

Although the Bellevue No. 1 five-men team hit 2157, it got them no better than fourth position, and the good 2014 recorded by Bellevue No. 3 failed to annoy the leaders. The first six leaders in each division follow:

scenario writer.

It was remembered that this was not the first time Miss Bishop had been non-committal when faced with reports of her engagement to Tunney. Last September, in California, she refused either to confirm or deny the same mild indictment.

Tunney and Miss Bishop have been seen much together during her visit here. He accompanied her and her aunt on a yachting trip on the last day of their stay here.

Day after day, night after night, dauntless mail planes wing their way through driving winds... rain or snow... heat or biting cold. A gruelling grind for lubricating oil, yet it must not fail! The Tiolene which safely lubricates so many of these planes is not specially compounded for airplane use. It is actually one of the regular weights of Tiolene Motor Oil, sold by Pure Oil Service Stations and Dealers. And although Tiolene is made in seven weights, there is only one quality—100% Super-Pennsylvania.

Tiolene has proved a supreme lubricant for any gasoline motor—automobile, truck, tractor, or airplane.

PACKARD EIGHT

America's finest car now offered in new, standard models at lower prices

HERETOFORE, the Packard Eight has been available only in custom models, built by Packard or executed by the country's foremost body designers—and at custom prices.

Now it is offered in nine new body types—standard in design and therefore lower in cost—but embodying the traditional Packard ideals of comfort, beauty and distinction.

These latest models complete the line by providing a car priced between the Packard Six and the Packard Custom Eight. They make it possible to choose from fifty-three different Packard models, the widest and finest variety in the fine car field.

Packard now provides new motoring luxury for additional thousands who have long envisioned the Packard Eight as their ultimate car.

You, too, undoubtedly have dreamed of owning a Packard Eight. Why not let us show you the new models?

We cordially invite you to visit our showroom—or, if you prefer and will telephone us, we will send one to your home or office for a demonstration.

We will accept your present car as cash against the down and monthly payments on your Packard Eight—and arrange convenient terms for the remainder.

Forbes

Many Dividends Changed; All Price-Cutting Stop.

By B. C. FORBES

EXAMINATION of dividend announcements made so far this year reveals two significant facts:

There has been a gratifying increase in enlarged disbursements, but there has also been an increase in unfavorable declarations.

THESE developments are readily understandable.

First, there has been a large increase in the number of new companies. Fifty initial payments appear in the lists, as compiled exclusively for this column.

Second, narrower profit margins have made it more difficult for numbers of concerns to maintain their former rate of profit. There were only seven unfavorable dividend announcements during January, but February brought no fewer than 16, a higher figure than for any month last year.

THE gain in cheerful dividend declarations has been quite gratifying during the last two months. The January total was 111, compared with 89 last year and 87 in 1926. The February total was 98, compared with 81 and 72. The monthly record of extra, initial, increased, stock, back and resumed dividends since 1923 follows:

January	111	89	87	69	78
February	98	81	72	64	45
March		93	102	81	67
April		60	60	34	45
May		68	54	42	39
June		137	96	67	47
July		60	54	36	21
August		63	67	39	33
September		104	85	62	46
October		83	69	54	37
November		136	102	96	63
December		205	134	147	104
Totals		1,179	1,025	811	621

IT IS noticeable that most boards of directors prefer to make extra payments rather than increase the fixed rate. Extra payments are flexible. They need be paid only when warranted. Whenever a dividend rate is reduced it naturally has an unfavorable influence, whereas in most instances little is thought of a company not announcing an extra payment.

The form taken by the improved dividend payments by industrial companies during the last two months is brought out in this table:

	Jan.	Feb.
Extra	54	55
Initial	19	31
Increased	13	17
Stock	12	6
Back	4	3
Resumed	1	2

WILL price-cutting become so acute and so widespread as to injure many dividends?

I hardly think so. It is perhaps significant that the steel industry stopped lowering prices and began marking them up moderately at a time when consumption was running distinctly below productive capacity. This step was taken mainly because few companies were finding it possible to earn reasonable returns on their investments. In the olden days, under similar conditions, the normal course would have been to carry on the price battle and to force workers to suffer by reducing their wages. Happily, the lowering of wage scales has become distinctly unfashionable as well as unpopular.

True, the important automobile industry began the year by announcing many price reductions, some of them drastic. But you doubtless noticed that there were no corresponding reductions in wages at any point. Nor has there been further cutting of prices. Indeed, there is more talk of possible price increases than further price reductions.

Judging by automobile share movements, present dividend rates are not jeopardized.

IT IS to be hoped that competition in no line will be carried so far as to endanger dividends—what has happened dividendwise in the oil industry could hardly have been avoided under the existing method of pumping oil out of the ground at breakneck speed regardless of adequate or profitable demand for it. Reasonable dividend returns on property and enterprise are best in the long run for consumers themselves.

INSULL TO GET PEABODY COAL

CHICAGO, March 8.—(AP.)—A consolidation by which the interests of Samuel Insull, public utilities leader, would gain control of the $17,000,000 Peabody Coal Company of Chicago was reported under negotiation today.

The company operates 24 mines in Illinois, Kentucky, Indiana, Oklahoma and Pennsylvania. Stuyvesant Peabody, president of the coal concern, was understood to have completed arrangements for the consolidation with the Insull group, with plans ready to be submitted to stockholders of the coal company for approval within a few days.

Details of stock transfers were withheld. Neither Peabody nor Insull would confirm nor deny the consolidation plans.

CARNEGIE METALS CONTINUES ITS ADVANCE HERE

NEW YORK BOND MARKET

NEW YORK, March 8.—(AP.)—The bond market today was slow in reflecting the announcement of details of the Treasury's March 15 financing at 3¼ and 3½ per cent. Failure to make a new offer in exchange for Third Liberties because the market was not yet in a position to absorb another government issue may have created some hesitancy in traders' minds. Others were disposed to give the government program careful study before adding to commitments. Government issues showed little early activity.

Oversubscription of a $10,000,000 issue of Shaffer Oil 6s on a 6.25 per cent basis was reported, and announcement was forthcoming that the $10,000,000 City of Warsaw loan will reach the market within a few days. More than half of the new $22,000,000 New York State bonds were reported sold on the first day of public offering.

The listed market followed a firm trend, Canadian Northern 7s and the new St. Paul issues standing out. A few semi-speculative issues, such as Laclede Gas 5s and Liquid Carbonic 6s were strong in reflection of rising prices in the stock market.

French obligations again inclined to heaviness, but most of the foreign issues followed a firm trend.

YOUNGSTOWN SHEET AND TUBE MERGER FAILS

COULDN'T MAKE TERMS, SAYS CAMPBELL

YOUNGSTOWN, O., March 8.—(AP.)—The proposed merger of Youngstown Sheet and Tube Company and Inland Steel Company, negotiated recently, has been called off, it was announced here today by James A. Campbell, president of Sheet and Tube.

The laconic statement of Mr. Campbell said merely that the parties to the merger had been unable to agree.

Today's revelation that the merger had failed, after having apparently been successfully negotiated, was believed to account for recent heavy selling of both Sheet and Tube and Inland on the New York Stock Exchange. On selling emanating from Chicago brokers, Sheet and Tube fell from 96 to 88½ in the last two weeks.

PRODUCE MARKET

Dealings at the local wholesale produce district for all lines of fruit and vegetables were fairly active today. The prices on vegetables were unchanged, with the exception of potatoes, which were firmer and much higher. The fruit market was fairly active. No change was made in the prices.

Movement of poultry was fair and the market easy. The supplies were liberal and the quotations unchanged.

The butter, egg and cheese markets continued to be firm at the quotations listed.

Carlot supplies were moderate, a total of 558 cars being on track. Included in the arrivals were 4 cars of apples, 1 cabbage, 1 celery, 6 grapefruit, 1 lemons, 1 lettuce, 1 onions, 3 oranges, 7 potatoes, 2 sweet potatoes and 1 tomatoes.

NEW YORK CURB MARKET

NEW YORK, March 8.—(AP.)—Conflicting trends unsettled the curb market today, and there was a decided reaction from the buoyancy of early in the week. Bullish activities gave support to comparatively few issues and profit-taking sales weakened the price of many shares. The industrial specialties and utilities, which have been making wide advances, faded from the picture.

Buying strength was distributed among the industrials, but movements were limited. American Rolling Mills, Carnation Mills, Fulton Syphon, Drug, Inc., Nichol and S perd and United States Freight made small gains. Sheaffer Pen touched a new high at 52⅞ on reports of introduction of a new fountain pen which already has won trade approval. Department Stores also were strong. Crowley-Milner and Lord and Taylor first preferred reaching new high ground.

Bancitaly again was in supply and weak, sagging 2 points. Rubber shares declined with the crude rubber market, Firestone Tire dropping 1½. Hood Rubber 2¼ and Rubberoid 1½ points. Other weak spots were Galesburg Disc Coulter and Safety Car Heater.

The utilities turned irregular. The week's most consistent gainer, American Gas and Electric, sagged a point, but Electric Bond and Share advanced.

Creole Syndicate again gained slightly under heavy turnover and Gulf, Humble, some of the Standard Oils and Vacuum improved. Prairie Pipe Line sagged, but most of the others were stronger.

NEW YORK, March 8.—(AP.)—Following is the list of transactions on the New York Curb Exchange, giving all stocks and bonds traded and omitted in sales (volume in bond list):

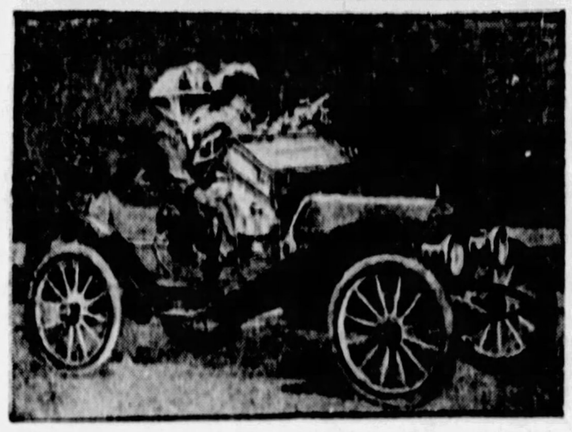
The Congressman's Son—A Bitter Sweet Romance



Prominent Club Women throughout the land have taken up the cause of Congressman Frisby's cast-aside bride. The two ladies above are seen with a huge bouquet of lilacs, which they will present to the little woman as soon as they can run her down.

WHAT discouraged mother more than anything else was Congressman Frisby's attitude. He had tricked her. And yet, when they met at the social gathering, he would assume a highly respectable manner, and treat her as though she had done him some great wrong.

Frisby was always willing and eager to steal a kiss, or pinch her cheek, when no one was looking. But in public, if mother so much as put her arm around him, he would blush and scold and even strike or kick her.

Then, if a crowd collected, he would protest, in a hurt tone, that the woman was a stranger and was annoying him.

After this happened nine or ten times, mother decided she would cure him of that habit. She had read an advertisement offering what is known as "Ker-Choo" powder, for sale by mail. She immediately ordered ten cents worth. Then she waited. A week passed, then a month. Finally a year went by. Two years. Three years. And yet no "Ker-Choo" powder.

Finally——

How swift the onward march of progress—the old-time fire horse is gone forever and now motor equipment passes. The Oroville, Cal., paper says—

"Fire Chief Bradley injured his arm in a fall on roller skates last week."

The new era will be picturesque.

The gong sounds. The door swings open and out comes Fire Chief Bradley, cutting a graceful figure eight on his roller skates.

WESLEY YATES AGAIN

(Lamar, Mo., Democrat.)

"Night Officer Evilsizer arrested Charlie Hickman a few nights ago for intoxication. But the city hoosgow was still an insecure place to leave a prisoner as a result of Wesley Yates' 'jail break,' so the officer merely sent Charlie home. He says Charlie is becoming something of a problem. He is almost chronically drunk. He isn't disorderly or boisterous when he is snowed under, but he is often in a badly intoxicated state."

ON "POOR BLIND MICE"

LOVE is a TRAP
With its little door ever
Invitingly AJAR. Or Maybe MARRIAGE is the Trap, and love is the Little bit of BAIT sitting
Just inside the CAGE.
Most men find the bait
Very TEMPTING, and many
Rush in without thinking.
WISE men hesitate, but—
What's the USE?
That bait has got man
By the NOSE. If he ESCAPES one day, he surely
Comes back the NEXT.
He is DOOMED. Some men
DRAG the bait out of the Cage and GOBBLE it up, but Taken under those CONDITIONS
It has been known to Provoke ACUTE indigestion.
Others BITE, get drawn into
The cage, and finally settle
Down and call the trap HOME.
Some who get in TRY to Get out again. Why fight
Such long ODDS? The tempting
Little BAIT is provided by Nature. The real trap—CONVENTION.

BUGS BAER Says

SECRETARY of temperance board has very good idea. He says that this bag of states was wet for 140 years.

Therefore, he wants prohibition given a fair trial of exactly 140 years.

All right, when does he want to start?

Until he mentioned dates and figures we didn't realize that we had been drinking that long. Night comes swiftly in the tropics.

ARTHUR "BUGS" BAER.

We agree that prohibition must be given as fair a check-up as the other business. Therefore, we will meet the secretary in 2068 and compare notes.

If he finds that he is in better shape than we are, we will trade our wings for his shovel.

In the old days when the bar towel was dyed in the deep purple and the bungstarter was the sceptre of royalty we bent the elbow with a technique developed by studious concentration.

When America went dry, we staggered after it.

Since that time we have been teetotal, with one exception, in Munich last year, when we sampled some beer for purposes of science and research.

We had a glass of dirty, black beer in our mitt. There wasn't a guinea pig to be found within 50 miles.

It was then that we offered the body to science.

We backslid that day, but had the brakes repaired when we got home.

But we agree that prohibition must have 140 years' trial. If the secretary is willing, we will sit out this dance with him.

We think it is an impartial, generous proposition.

A stricter custodian would have asked us to take the pledge for life.

But, after this 140 years' hiatus, we refuse to guarantee our behavior in 2069.

By the way, what day does New Year's fall on that year?

DEAR MR. KABIBBLE, WHAT IS THE CAUSE OF DIVORCE? J.O.E.

SIMPLY TO ADVERTISE THE HUSBAND'S SALARY, IN THE PAPERS! 3-8

Problem Tale

The young novelist had just had his first book published, and was excited when a newspaper reporter called to see him.

"You've called to get a story of how I did it?"

"No—why you did it."

Not Afraid of Thirteen

"Look here," id the policeman, "this is the twelfth time I've seen you outside thi bank!"

"All right. I'll be here again tomorrow. I ain't superstitious."

Made to Behave

First Man: "Do you belong to a reform organization?"

Second: "I do. I'm married."

How He Appeared

Pompous Visitor to School—Many years ago I was like one of yourselves—a poor, ignorant little boy. Now, by hard work and perseverance, what have I become?

Boy (at the back of the room)—A swanker!

Small Return

"George tells me he's working for all he's worth just now."

"I suppose that's just his way of saying he's only earning 30 shillings a week."

By Its Kick?

"Are there any questions?"

"Yes, sir. How do you calculate the horsepower in a donkey engine?"

Potatoes a Nickel Apiece; Reason: Not Home Product

On a vegetable stand in Pittsburgh is a display of the tuber family known as the "Murphy." With it is a sign—"Five cents each—six for a quarter." The label on the box from which the specimens were taken informs that they are "Trupotatoes," packed in Chicago.

The first thing about this to be observed is that a high-grade potato sells at about the price of a high-grade orange of the same size. The second is that they are not ordinary potatoes but "trupotatoes." This not actually the name—but you get the idea, despite the alteration.

That's that.

At the annual dinner of the Allegheny County Agricultural Co-operative Association, Dr. C. G. Jordan, state secretary of agriculture, said we grow apples and potatoes in Pennsylvania for what it costs to freight them from Washington, Oregon and Iowa. Yet it is not an Allegheny county potato that sells at five cents each, or six for a quarter. Nor do Allegheny county or Pennsylvania apples sell for prices comparable to those obtained for western apples. Why?

"Commission men tell us," said Dr. Jordan, "that if we were to grade and pack our apples, potatoes and other farm products, as they do in competing states, their competition soon would be at an end or of no avail."

The speaker, in the course of his address, said the agricultural possibilities of Pennsylvania are almost unlimited. He spoke the truth, and we are losing enormous wealth by not taking advantage of these possibilities. It is evident that we are preparing to do so, however, this being indicated by the fact that the dinner mentioned was attended by 600 persons, mostly farmers and their wives from Allegheny county.

Cheap Power

But It's in Ontario.

In Ontario the citizens own the power companies. You can't do that in the United States, our governing classes, according to high finance, being either too dull or too dishonest. Owners of big corporations assure you that the people cannot manage their own property. But the good old United States California Edison Company, which has bought a power company in Ontario, now offers to supply "juice," meaning electric power, to publicly-owned utilities in Ontario for less than it costs to run "gas-propelled utilities."

The price must be low, for the modern Diesel engine at the present price of oil can cut any power rate that the average citizen can get from any electric power company in the United States.

They Are Unanimous

The OTHER Fellow Should Disarm.

FROM LORD BEAVERBROOK'S LONDON EXPRESS.

Lord Beaverbrook, who recently visited us on one of his ... trips, "going to and fro in the earth, and up and ... rein," prints these interesting pictures of "Peace" ... s in his London Express.

Above you see the nations listening to the peace maker of Geneva, as they stand in a row, Britain, Uncle Sam, France, Germany, Italy, Russia, all carrrying weapons.

The representative of peace in Geneva says what you see him saying in the picture.

The others, in the language of moving pictures, "Hold everything." Not a man raises his hands, not a man drops his weapons. Each is quite willing that the others should drop theirs, and rather wonders at their perversity in not dropping them.

One thing is certain, Uncle Sam would be an awful fool if HE should drop any of his armament, except such part as is out of date and obsolete—he has a good deal of that sort of stuff.

He should drop some of the old "junk," equip himself with things really needed, fast pursuit fighting planes, heavy bombing planes, plenty of submarines; if possible, the kind that come up again after they go down, the swiftest, most powerfully armed cruisers to interfere with any attacking nation having merchant ships at sea.

As for what others do, the powers of Europe, that is THEIR business. They are always armed and fighting anyhow. Our business is to see that we are in such a condition that it will not disturb us no matter WHAT they do.

TESTING SOME BRIDGE WORK

Garrett P. Serviss Says:

The Amateur Astronomers

THE increase of popular interest in astronomy is remarkable. An index of it is shown by the rapid growth and the intense activity of the Amateur Astronomers' Association connected with the American Museum of Natural History in New York.

This new association bids fair to become the focus of a nation-wide, and perhaps a world-wide, movement for popular education in the oldest and most inspiring of the sciences. The great Harvard Observatory, which maintains branches in South America and South Africa, and other professional institutions devoted to astronomy are lending their co-operation to this amateur association by sending lecturers and exhibits to its meetings and aiding in its councils.

The membership of the association is growing at every semi-monthly meeting, where not only are crowded audiences entertained by illustrated lectures, but where, when the skies permit, a battery of telescopes is kept in play, under expert management, to enable everybody to see the celestial wonders then in view; while indoors, in the great hall of the meteorites, familiar talks with ingenious illustrative devices are given on the planetary movements and other celestial phenomena.

Dr. Henry Dill Benner's "North Star Altar," a "free outdoor sky-star show" at the rear of the museum every star-lighted Tuesday and Thursday night, is a unique expression of the spirit and intention of the association—practical to the finger-tips, yet infused with the fire of imagination.

This is a movement of which New York City may be proud. It is an appropriate offset to the tremendous material trend of so mighty a concentration of human energies. It furnishes an intellectual leaven without which the "batter" of no civilization can "rise." And its moral influence, I believe, is not inferior to that of the organized religious societies. The "undevout astronomer" would, indeed, be "mad"—if he could exist! The "devotion" awakened by astronomy is not associated with creeds, but it goes to the heart of the matter. It is based upon knowledge of the unity and rationality of the universe.

Membership in the Amateur Astronomers' Association costs but a trifle and it is an honorable distinction, a mark of mental awareness, something to be regarded with self-satisfaction and to be mentioned among the noteworthy things in an obituary sketch. By being a member of such an association one throws his influence in favor of what Emerson called "the things of the intellect," and helps to promote the higher aspirations of humanity. He need do nothing but look and listen, silently drinking in the influences that fall from Heaven's cope, and by his presence and his personality alone swelling the force of the movement of which he is a part.

But it is still better, of course, if he takes some share in the activities of his fellow members, watching the skies, studying the stars, and thinking and pondering on the infinite subjects presented to his mind, until his life becomes for his contemporaries a signboard and a guide to higher levels of existence. It is well to remember that William Herschel was an amateur astronomer, though he led all the professionals, and, indeed, furnished reasons for their existence. The whole history of astronomy is illuminated with the work of amateurs. Even in these times, when professionals abound, many notable discoveries and advances are made by amateurs. There is something new always appearing in the heavens, and the old never becomes obsolete.

Hampered Reward

RECENTLY a junior officer in the army devised a new use for old material which saved the nation $100,000.

He got the thanks of his superior, which is all the law permits.

Men will often go far for mere recognition—a medal, a smile, a kind word.

There are times of emotional stress when this urge far exceeds the profit motive.

But in life's humdrum recognition in the pay envelope fits the largest percentage of cases.

Would it shatter the pillars of the republic if the men at its head were allowed some leeway in rewarding conspicuous merit in the ranks as private employers reward it!

Give Him a Chance

UNLESS your friend is lacking the necessities, don't give money to the man in hard luck.

Help the man to help himself, but don't pauperize him.

Assist him to get work, for if he is the right kind he wants a job more than financial aid.

If he does not make every possible effort to pull himself up after you have given him a chance he is not worth helping.

To give money to such a man is to encourage him in shiftlessness.

How about it, do you make any special effort to help your friends or acquaintances to get work?

You are more likely to express regrets, to promise a good word and promptly forget all about it.

Wish him luck and pass on—that is an easy way to appear friendly.

But you owe something to the persons with whom you come in contact.

Don't be reluctant to recommend a person for fear he won't make good.

Give him a chance—why not?

The Rhyming Optimist

By ALINE MICHAELS

The Way of Love

SOME have loved but lightly
Some have loved too well;
Yet, while stars bloom nightly
Lovers all will tell
Tales as sweet as roses,
Tales as old as time;
Moonlight still discloses
Life is set to rhyme.

Some who love but lightly
Find love grave at last,
While some loves glow brightly
After storm is past.
All loves, light and truer,
Waxing, waning, prove
Change in wooed and wooer
Is the way of love.

Ye Towne Gossip

by K. C. B.

DEAR K. C. B.: I have a message for little Vera Mae Devine, the 6 year-old who lost her pet cat. A short time ago a beautiful smoked Persian male cat, with wonderful large eyes, came to my house. I combed the neighborhood trying to find his owner. Failing in this I gave him to a lady who always wanted a cat like him. I stipulated, however, if I could restore him to his old home she was to give him up. And let me say in passing that no cat was ever cared for better or more royally than is this cat in his new home. So, like the Unknown Soldier whose resting place has comforted hundreds of grieving mothers, I hope all the good people who have lost cats of this description, will be comforted by this. If you know the little girl's address I shall be glad to take her out to see if this is her pet. MRS. M. A. F.

AND HERE I am.
WITH MRS. F.
AND WHERE she lives.
AND EVERYTHING.
AND THE lost cat found.
AND I can't find the letter.
THAT VERA Mae wrote.
AND ALL I can do.
IS JUST sit down.
AS I am doing.
AND WRITE about it.
AND ASK that Vera.
SHALL WRITE again.
AND SAY where she lives.
SO THAT Mrs. F.
MAY TAKE her out.
TO SEE THE cat.
THAT MAY be hers.
AND PROBABLY is.
AND OF course I know.
THAT A lot of persons.
WHO READ this column.
DON'T CARE about cats.
AND PROBABLY feel.
I'M WASTING this space.
BUT WHAT IN the world.
CAN A fellow do.
WHEN HE'S STARTED out.
TO FIND a cat.
AND AFTER a while.
GETS ON its trail.
BUT JUST keep at it.
'TILL IT is determined.
IF IT is the cat.
HE'S LOOKING for.
* * *
OR IF it isn't.
AND THEN besides.
THERE'S LITTLE Vera.
WHO LOST the cat.
AND WHEN a child.
IS BUT six years old.
A LOSS like that.
IS A tragedy.
AND EVEN although.
YOU'RE ONE of those.
WHO DON'T like cats.
I'M VERY sure.
YOU LIKE little girls.
AND WILL bear with me.
UNTIL SUCH time.
AS IT appears.
THERE'S NOTHING more.
THAT WE can do.
TO HELP little Vera.
FIND HER Persian cat.
I THANK you.

O. O. McINTYRE

PARIS, March 8.—Paris is filled with expatriated Americans who talk too much of their happiness to make it seem convincing. They appear to be whistling in the dark. Many are pouting at Mayor Walker, who stirred them up with a shaft of sarcasm when he was over here.

It is noticeable they are to be found where Americans gather, and have little to do with the French, or it may be the other way round. Most of them have incomes not sufficient to live without work in America, but ample enough to maintain a remote villa with servants here. Servants average from $12 to $16 a month.

Their life is made up largely of attending American movies and watching European editions of American newspapers for arrival of home folk to drop around to tell them of their easy-going existence. "Look at the crowd of yokel countrymen around the American Express," said one, "and you don't feel so patriotic." He did not get the bust in the jaw he deserved.

The unvarnished truth is the common run of expatriates were failures in their own country. Success does not mean so much here. Idleness has a glamour that we do not know, and that—if you ask me—is one reason why the country has been so long recovering its prosperity. Old-fashioned elbow grease would do wonders.

There is, of course, the rich set of expatriates, chiefly cast-off wives of rich men and remittance boys. They will be found every Sunday evening at the dinner-dance of the Ritz, entertaining broken-down and cadging members of a bankrupt nobility, and otherwise showing off.

They bombard society editors with every scrap of information about their social lives, and the same jealousies exist that predominate the world over where people give over their lives entirely to the social splash. The real aristocracy of France regards them with a sly wink.

The expatriates are not to be confused with innumerable high-class Americans who are foreign representatives of important establishments and such. Living abroad is a part of their job, and they give Europe a creditable idea of the value of industry and energy.

Paris is shortly to install the automatic dial system for telephones. Even then I'll bet they don't work.

Early this morning I went over to the Left Bank to prowl among the book stalls along the quai. The stalls are comparable to wooden bins, and are placed against the stone parapets. The old booksellers are huddled up on their stools—like so many crows on a limb. One may stand and read their volumes by the hour without a protest. If you buy, they are grateful, but they give the job a veneration beyond mere barter and exchange. Most of the volumes are scared old paper-backed copies of the classics, and you will find the majority of the sellers reading all day long.

I went out with a group of American husbands "on a bust" last night. Our wives had given us an evening out in Paris, at all places. Most of us felt full of the Old Harry, drifting into this bar and the other, indulging wistfully at cocottes and singing Frankie and Johnny. But I guess we were too old for the frivolities. Today I learned that four out of the five in the party arrived home ahead of their wives, who had gone to the opera. The fifth caught the last act at a theater.

The Last Leaf

By DR. FRANK CRANE.

About the last leaf has fallen from the noxious plant of human slavery. This institution was called by John Wesley "the sum of all villainies."

It has roots deep in the past.

The Egyptians made slaves of the Israelites and it was the custom of every nation in ancient times to make slaves of their victims or their prisoners.

We commonly think of ancient Greece as a Republic, but it was only a republic to a few free men superimposed upon a vast body of helots.

The Romans, also, had their slaves, and it was the custom of the Barbary pirates to enslave the captive Christians.

The United States went through a tremendous cataclysm, the fundamental cause of which was the existence of human slavery. Abraham Lincoln gained the title of the Great Emancipator by his decree freeing the slaves in this country.

History presents a new warfare between the human conscience and the institution of slavery. The gain has been slow, but conscience has won.

Now in Sierra Leone, Africa, all of the slaves are free. This occurred with the opening of the New Year. Nearly two hundred and fifty thousand domestic slaves were made the political equals of their masters.

This was largely due to Lady Simon, wife of Sir John Simon, a British statesman.

That many of the slaves are bewildered and do not know what to do with their freedom, but will go on serving their old masters, shows that emancipation or liberty does not come from the submerged masses up, but comes from the free classes downward.

It will naturally take a long while and it will require generations yet to come for a race that has been enslaved to accustom itself to liberty. That they were not prepared for liberty goes without saying, but the best preparation for freedom is freedom, just as the best cure for democracy is more democracy.

Slowly but surely this old world is climbing up into the light. Those who stand upon the shore can hardly observe the process of the tides, but if you go away and come back after a few hours you can see that the level of the waters has changed. So in history a too close view of the present reveals so many evils that we do not think the world is progressing; but we only have to look over history as a whole to see how it advances.

Notice how civilization has abolished slavery, dueling, gladiatorial games, torture and other evils. It is hard to resist the conclusion that, on the whole, the world is getting better.

OH, THESE WOMEN!

By LEOLA ALLARD.

A NEW YORK school teacher asked a newspaper to find her a husband, "companionate or regular."

So that's what companionate means!

A man named Pendleton was arrested in Washington, D. C., for kissing his girl down a half-mile stretch of road while his car zigzagged and almost hit several other machines.

An argument in favor of back-seat driving.

A woman servant worked for the S. S. McCord family of St. Joseph Mo., for 91 years and died the other day at the age of 105. She served six generations of the family. Now the McCords might serve all future generations by telling them how they did it.

Anne Cooper Hewitt of New Jersey is 13. Her mother spends $11,544.32 per year on her.

An infant three weeks old was found on a wet, cold doorstep, daring to howl lustily at his predicament. The mother had pinned a note to his blanket: "I can't earn $5 a week to keep him."

And the woman in the apartment over me is singing: "God's in His Heaven, all's well with the world."

Rosie Deveckly, of St. Clairsville, O., threw her bridal bouquet at her bridegroom's head, and stormed out of the church. At the last minute the man had sprung on Rosie a set of rules demanding meals cooked on time and no evenings out. Later the bridegroom said this incident should be a lesson to men thinking of getting married. It should be, but not the kind he meant. The bridegroom should have consulted Judge Lindsey. So many don'ts!

Women were the pet peeve of William Edgar Allen, 80-year-old bachelor. He didn't associate with them. He died the other day in Nappie, England, and four of the pallbearers were women. Wasn't that a mean advantage to take!

Mary Davies, Welsh bacteriologist, who inoculated herself with gangrene germs, making possible a successful test of a remedy found by another doctor, is dead in London. Newspapers mentioned her briefly.

Jean Nash got a picture and half a column for getting more new clothes.

Women on the Sea

THOUGH travel on the sea is safe as travel on land, many approach it fearfully. Nevertheless, 65 per cent of sea-going tourists are women, most of them elderly.

Is this because women are less fearful than men, or just because friend husband stays at home to earn the cost of the wife's expenses?
